Wow! What an achievement for Maldon's young horseman, Flinders Greentree, who won the Man From Snowy River Trainers' Challenge at Corryong in NSW last week.

Flinders, 17, was the youngest competitor to ever enter the competition and took on two very experienced horsemen in Andrew Sheridan and Leigh Cragg to win the blue ribbon.

To cap off a brilliant result for the teenager, Flinders

Newstead Solar Farm edges closer

STATE Planning Minister Richard Wynne has issued a Notice of Decision to grant a permit for Newstead’s proposed solar farm with a number of conditions.

While the Minister has not approved the permit, the notice means he plans to issue it after 28 days if no objections are received.

Renewable Newstead (RN), the volunteer group that’s been working towards a solar farm to generate enough electricity for the township and immediate surrounding areas, has welcomed the step.

“This is great news for us and we hope that once the planning permit is issued we can bring our community together to explain what’s next,” RN spokeswoman

Genevieve Barlow said. “We are keen to introduce potential partners for the community’s endorsement to build and operate the farm and sell the electricity.”

The Notice of Decision was issued on March 12. Applicants had 28 days to make a submission.

As previously reported in the TT, Renewable Newstead is proposing a site for the solar farm near the corner of Captains Gully Road and Clarke Lane, 3km west of Newstead. It reduced its original planning permit application for a solar farm of up to 10MW to 5MW in October in response to community and neighbouring landholders’ feedback.

Ms Barlow says the solar farm would be a great step towards the group’s goal of delivering affordable and reliable renewable energy to Newstead and surrounds.

“We have applied for a permit to build a solar farm big enough to generate enough electricity for Newstead (2-3MW) plus some extra to make it viable for a commercial partner to build and operate,” Ms Barlow said.

She said the Minister had included several conditions, some of which were onerous and the group is now working through these.

“Of particular interest is the condition for the Captains Gully Road/Clarke Lane intersection to be upgraded from an existing ‘Y’ intersection to a ‘T’ intersection.

“That cost could be onerous and we are hopeful we can negotiate on that one.”

Ms Barlow said the cost would have to be borne by Renewable Newstead and its potential project partners.

Among other conditions are landscaping work to reduce the visual impact of the farm, fire protection including on-site water storage and the completion of a heritage study.

“We have been quietly shaping this project for a decade and we’re optimistic we can proceed to the next stage,” Ms Barlow said.

Maldon accident

MALDON Fire Brigade was called out to a two-car accident on Newstead Road on the outskirts of Maldon last Friday 9 April at 3.40pm.

Maldon pumper and T1 were on scene for a short period of time to make sure both cars were safe.

A stop was put on the incident at 4.02pm with both units returning to the station shortly after. Victoria Police and Ambulance were also in attendance.

Maldon Police Senior Constable Matt Lewis said the accident happened when a vehicle heading towards Maldon collided with a vehicle travelling in the opposite direction.

Sen-Constable Lewis said a woman suffered a minor leg injury in the accident and was taken to Bendigo Hospital for assessment.

Police are investigating the cause of the accident.

Eight people charged

POLICE have executed 31 warrants and charged eight people including a 76-year-old man from regional Victoria as part of an ongoing operation targeting the sharing of child abuse material.

Detectives from the Joint Anti-Child Exploitation Team have been co-ordinating the state-wide operation with investigators from local Sexual Offence and Child Abuse Investigation Teams, Crime Investigation Units and the Australian Federal Police.

A further 19 people have been interviewed by police and released pending further enquiries or with the intent to charge on summons.

More warrants will be executed, and charges laid in the coming months.

Anyone with information about child abuse material is urged to contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or make a confidential report at www.crimestoppersvic.com.au.

If you suspect a child is in immediate danger, call triple zero (000) or your local police.

got to meet his idol Guy McLean at the start of the festival, only to see Guy line up with others to congratulate him after he won the Trainers’ Challenge.

Flinders said the Challenge involved training and controlling a one-year-old Australian Stock Horse that was still pretty wild.

“I had five hours to showcase to the crowd how to start a young horse,” he said.

“By the end, I was able to walk, trot and canter the colt and had him flexing both sides and backing up.

“I also had him going over a tarp and weaving through cones. I also got to name him, Spinifex.”

The finale, where Flinders stood on his horse and cracked his whip, not only conjures up images of the Man from Snowy River, but it also sealed first prize for him.

“This was my first time ever doing something like this... it was pretty amazing.

“I got pretty emotional at the presentation, I was pretty much crying during the speech – it’s the second biggest colt starting competition in the country.”

☆ Flinders with his mentor Nettie Byrne.

☆ An emotional Flinders Greentree addresses the crowd after winning the Man From Snowy River Trainers’ Challenge.

For his efforts, Flinders won a brand new saddle, prizemoney, a ribbon and the title as the winner of the trainer’s challenge.

Another Maldon local, Netti Byrne was on hand to see Flinders win the event.

It was a very special moment because Netti has been Flinders’ mentor since he was 14.

“Netti has taught me everything I know about horses and she came up to be my Pen Wrangler on the day,” Flinders said.

Flinders, who previously won the Australian Brumby Championship at age 15, recently moved from the family farm at Shelbourne to Murrumbateman near Yass.

Mind you, this is a young man on the move. His next competition will be Equitana at the Melbourne Showgrounds and then he aims to compete in Liberty Shows around Australia, with his ultimate goal to ‘hopefully go to America’.

Somehow you get the feeling he will do just that.

Kalamazoo’s Exploration Manager – Eastern Region Luke Mortimer said the company is focusing on the Fentiman’s Reef and Smith’s Reef area of the Reserve, on tracks that follow the Castlemaine-Maldon Rail Trail.

“This is our first phase of drilling just to test what’s out there,” Mr Mortimer said. “Previously, we had a ground geo-physics team in the southern part of the area and they finished up a week ago. We’ve now started drilling in the northern part of the area.”

He said the drilling would go for about a month and that local residents have been notified.

“We’ve gone through an exhaustive process to get to this stage. We’ve got all the permits from the Mines Department, Parks Victoria and Mount Alexander Shire Council.

“We are temporarily blocking some tracks in that area and have put up the appropriate signage warning people that a drilling rig is up ahead.”

Mr Mortimer said the drilling would be occurring from 7.30am-5.30pm, seven days a week.

“We’re trying to source as small a rig as possible and we’re sticking to existing tracks.

“There will be a mess on site while we’re drilling but we are bound by the conditions on our exploration licence to rehabilitate the area back to its original state.”

Mr Mortimer said the company also had to lodge a $10,000 environmental cash bond to ensure the rehabilitation work is undertaken.

He said Kalamazoo is testing the historical mine workings in the area as well as target areas.

“We have done a lot of soil sampling in the area and found a lot of gold anomalies in the soil, so we have sent them off for testing to see if there might be gold underneath those spots.”

He said the company will be drilling 20-30 holes up to 230 metres deep in the coming month.

☆ Drilling gets underway as part of the next phase to find more gold in the Maldon area.

“We’re doing Reverse Circulation drilling which is a quicker and cheaper way to test areas and we’ll see if it’s encouraging or not and then, (if it is), we might come back and do a more exhausting program.

“We should know in two to three months time.”

ANZAC Day approaches

☆ Bill Bates, dressed in an 8th Australian Lighthorse uniform and his daughter, Isabella, dressed as an Australian military nurse at the ANZAC Day eve service on ANZAC Hill in 2019.

ANZAC Day is a very special day when we remember all those who suffered or continue to suffer as a result of service to their country.

It is a day of thanks and quiet reflection on what a wonderful, lucky nation we live in. It is also timely to reflect on why it is so important that we observe an increasingly distant period of history.

As the ranks of our veterans continue to diminish, let us be determined to maintain this special day and reflect on how fortunate we are to have our freedom. To recognise the futility of war but to acknowledge that we must be prepared to defend this freedom if needed.

Let us remember all the young Australians who sacrificed the pleasure of growing old with their families, children and friends so that we could enjoy our freedom.

This year is also important for the Royal Australian Air Force as it celebrates its 100th anniversary. This year, 2021, will be an important time to reflect on their enduring contribution to the security of Australia.

This ANZAC Day we'll come together, in person and in spirit, to commemorate the men and women who have served our nation in all wars and conflicts.

The Maldon RSL Sub Branch will be conducting an ANZAC Day Dawn Service and Main Ceremony and March. An ANZAC Hill Service will also be conducted, all details below.

A crowdfunding campaign has been launched to raise $150,000 to buy back culturally significant land for the Aboriginal community of Castlemaine.

The 5 acre site is in the foothills of Chewton, sitting on the northern banks of Forest Creek.

"It's got a massive old tree on it, I think it's a Grey Box, with a huge circumference and branches as big as trees," said Vic Say, an advocate for the recognition of Aboriginal heritage and a partner of the Aboriginal community in the region since the 1970s.

"There's also an old colonial stone ruin building on the block and the aim is to build a cultural centre and run activities for young Aboriginals to learn and take pride in their culture, which is wonderful."

The land will be owned by Nalderun, an Aboriginal organisation based in Castlemaine, on Dja Dja Wurrung lands in the Mount Alexander Shire.

Nalderun provides education and advocacy in support of Aboriginal children, young people and families, and delivers training and support to the broader community on different ways we can see and be in the world. These ways hold and honour Country and bring about a sense of love and community for all.

The Aboriginal children in Nalderun's 'Meeting Place' program are already benefiting from the teaching they receive from Elders at an old, disused Primary School at Yapeen.

The aim is to make the new cultural centre in Chewton a home base for them and for the Kuli Business young men's group and Tidda Business young women and non-binary folk group, as well as the First Nations Youth program currently in its third year.

It will also be there to accommodate the sharing of bush tucker knowledge for the local Indigenous land-care group, and soon, this unique site will welcome new training in conservation and land management through an Indigenous lens.

Uncle Rick Nelson said,"It is now time to reconnect to this land; for the Dja Dja Wurrung community and the Aboriginal community, it would be amazing to have a small parcel of land to call our own."

Nalderun CEO Kathryn Coff added, "Our children need 'home'. They know they are the protectors and guardians of Country into tomorrow. In this place we feel our Ancestors, it is a place that needs protection and love. And to be shared so that all can experience what we and our kids feel and remember in every cell of our bodies. It's like we can sing, dance and be with our Ancestors there."

The campaign has been launched by Mamunya - the non-Indigenous supporters of Nalderun Education Aboriginal Corporation - who are also seeking to protect Me-Mandook Galk - the beautiful grandmother tree.

The crowdfunding campaign is seeking to raise $150,000 via Chuffed. To donate, visit <https://chuffed.org/project/mamunya>.

Lisa and baby Charlie are in good health and doing well.

Daisy is thrilled to have become a big sister.

Matt and Lisa would like to thank the fantastic staff at Bendigo Health for their attention and care over the past couple of days.

Our door-to-door transport service

MALDON resident Isobel McLaren is a big fan of the Baringhup and Maldon Community Bus, run by the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre.

The bus was off the road for most of last year because of the COVID-19 restrictions but it's back now offering trips to a wide range of destinations.

"I was on it this morning," Isobel said. "I've been using it since it came back into action about five or six weeks ago but often I'm the only one on it."

"I don't understand why we can't encourage a few more people to use the bus."

Isobel says it's a wonderful service.

"I've never driven and I've lived all over the world – the only things I've ever needed are a golf course and a bus stop."

Isobel says the bus picks her up at her door and drops her back.

"You don't have to worry about driving or parking so for those people who do drive, how nice would it be to get picked up at your front door and not to have to worry about getting the car out, buying petrol, driving or parking? It would be a bit of a relief I think."

Isobel says the bus goes to Castlemaine, Maryborough and Kangaroo Flat – 'they have a very good programme'.

Indeed, this local, flexible, door-to-door community transport service can help you to go shopping, go to the station, GP and hospital appointments, the library, visit friends, go swimming, to the movies, the hairdressers for whatever you need local transport.

It even meets the Airport Bus and V/Line trains so you can safely leave your car at home for trips to Melbourne or the airport.

The schedule is as follows:

- 1st, 3rd and 5th Tuesday of the month: trips take in Maldon, Castlemaine and Kangaroo Flat.
- 2nd and 4th Tuesdays of the month: trips take in Maldon, Castlemaine, Baringhup and Maryborough.

A local resident recalls ...

WELL-KNOWN Maldon resident Dot Kinross called the TT this week in response to a request for some background on the town's old crushing plant in Vincents Road (TT, 'Gallery Opening', 1 April).

Dot reports, 'In 1949, Bill Henry relocated the crushing plant in Maldon township less than 100 yards east of the Main Street, south of the Mines Department's Stamping Battery.

In 1964, a new crushing plant, located in the same area, was finally commissioned. This culminated after some years of planning by Bill Henry, using his own endeavours both financial and physical.

The end result was a modern designed plant having the capacity of 30 tonnes. All foundations were concrete forced with local rock and it provided an effective and attractive appearance. This was finished and combined with surrounds of concrete aprons making the plant a most authentic, acceptable operation to local authorities.

Heather and Charlie Lightfoot and their son, Rodney, took it over.'

Scam alert

POLICE are urging the community to be aware of a bitumen driveway resurfacing scam.

There have been a number of reports of men wearing hi-visibility work wear attending random locations in the region, offering to resurface bitumen driveways at a reduced price. However, the product is believed to be of poor quality and disintegrates within days.

BLAST FROM THE PAST THE FORESTERS' ANNIVERSARY

On Wednesday, 21 March, 1866, the Tarrangower Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters celebrated the anniversary of their founding with a fete at the Maldon Oval. The oval was located on the north-eastern corner of the intersection of High and Parker streets. Since 1859 the oval had been used as a cricket ground.

The day of the fete was declared a half-holiday by shopkeepers in Maldon. The Foresters engaged the Vaughan Brass Band to play at the Fete and also organised a concert and ball to be held in the evening at the Shire Hall, (now the Maldon Museum).

On the morning of the fete the Foresters, the local drum and fife band and children from the Penny School and Porcupine Flat School assembled at the Shire Hall. Three clergymen, the Revs John Stretch, Alex Robb and William Tranter, addressed them and opened the celebrations.

The Rev Stretch hoped that they would have a happy day tempered by moderation. Alex Robb warned the men in the audience against drunkenness and took the opportunity to promote the idea that the Shire Council should install a town clock on the Shire Hall. The Rev Tranter addressed the children present. He held up Robin Hood and his merry men as ideal examples of Foresters. While he did not condone their lawlessness, he commended their hospitality and he also impressed upon the children the value of education.

Following the meeting a procession was formed led by three Foresters dressed as Robin Hood, Will Scarlet and Big John. The Vaughan Brass Band followed them ahead of members of the Tarrangower Court, the drum and fife band and the school children. The procession marched down High Street to the Castlemaine Road and then turned around and marched via Main and Reef streets to the oval.

The Fete was a great success featuring a cricket match, (which some said went on too long), footraces for the children and carnival games such as 'Aunt Sally' and 'Knock-em-down'. The Tarrangower Times commented on the large number of gaily-dressed women who attended. Edward Ellis provided the publicans' booth and there was also a temperance booth and a fruit stall.

In the evening both the concert and ball at the Shire Hall were attended by a large crowd. The concert featured humorous and burlesque items that drew peals of laughter from the audience. At the ball that followed, dancing continued until after five o'clock the next morning.

Calling all Selfies!

EDGE galleries Director, Simon Dow is calling on all Maldon residents and beyond to submit a selfie as part of the upcoming short exhibition titled 'Other-Selfie' which will run at EDGE galleries from May 3-12.

The project invites everyone to submit a selfie that shows your 'other side' or an aspect of yourself that is not normally publicly revealed.

"We encourage people to be really creative and, as the selfies come in, they will be placed at random on the large wall at EDGE progressively until we have a tapestry of images covering the wall," Simon said.

Please submit your images (all ages are encouraged to submit) by email at: info@edgegalleries.com. Mobile phone files are fine but if using a digital or analogue camera please send small files. EDGE will then print the images in postcard size to exhibit.

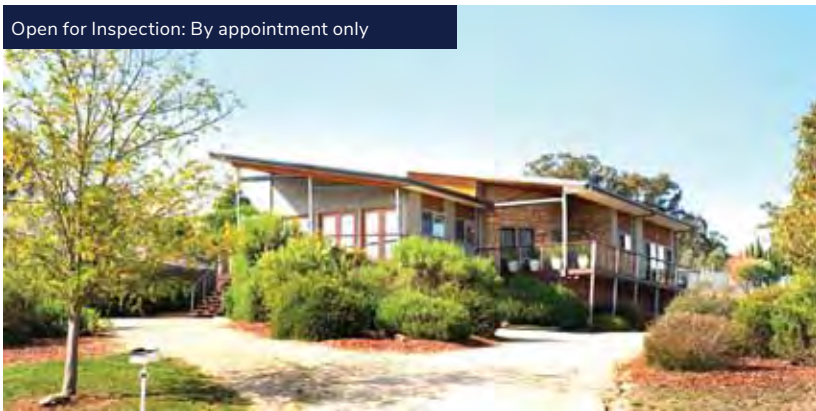

Please also mention in the email that you are happy for your image to be part of this project.

"We look forward to seeing the wall grow and the final tapestry will be captured as a record of the project."

The final date for submission will be Saturday May 10 so hurry up, have fun and submit as soon as you can.

"The tour is part of Castlemaine Pride week and starts at the Theatre Royal," Ms Clow said. "It will include the first Rainbow Tick Accredited organisation in our shire, CHIRP Community Health.

"Some other stops will

"There will be speakers along the way, including Martyn Shaddick from the community house and Lisa Knight from Council.

"Please come prepared for weather conditions and bring your mask and some drinking water."

New members and volunteers needed: Newstead Historical Society

LIKE many local organisations, the Newstead Historical Society hasn't been open for over a year because of the pandemic.

And the closure has come at a price, with the group's membership dropping off considerably over the past year.

"It's probably due to the pandemic and natural attrition," says the Society's Secretary Joan Sartori.

"We are in need of new members as membership fees are a contributing factor towards our finances which goes towards maintenance, the general running of the Society and the provision of much-needed equipment for ongoing research and storage of our history."

People can join as a fully paid up member or as a volunteer (an associate member), which does not attract a fee.

Without members and volunteers, the Society would struggle to survive.

"It would be very sad if our Society was to close down due to lack of funds and people who are willing to spare a few hours a week to help run the society," Joan said.

"Our local history is so precious, it is important, and it must be preserved for future generations. Too often we don't realise what we have had and lost, until it is too late.

"To be able to keep the Society running, we need your help to preserve our history and in turn keep the Society."

Anyone who can spare an hour or two typing up entries for the Newstead Historical Society's data base, tidying up outside the courthouse or helping with other tasks would be very welcome.

For further details call Joan Sartori, Secretary, on 5476 2327 or email joan.sartori@bigpond.com or email President Derek Reid at derekdi@gcom.net.au.

The Newstead Historical Society will hold its AGM in the Old Courthouse, 2 Canrobert Street, Newstead next Monday night 19 April at 7.30pm, COVID-19 restrictions permitting.

Dilapidated fencing to be scrapped

THE old and dilapidated fencing on the western side of Kennedy Street, between the Castlemaine Railway Station and the Girl Guides Hall, is being removed and replaced.

Work will start on building a new timber post and wire fence in late April, weather permitting, and it is expected to take about three weeks to complete.

Parking along the section of Kennedy Street, between the train station and the Girl Guides Hall, will be limited and train travellers will need to allow more time to park their vehicles and walk to the station during construction.

Commuters are encouraged to utilise the off-street car parking available to the north of station.

Council is delivering the $30,000 project which is funded by the Federal Government.

This week variety is the aim

The Athenaeum Library recently received a donation of the book Yapeen of Yesterday from authors Ken James & Max Kay. This book will be housed in The Maldon Collection, so can only be read at the Library. It's a big book covering many aspects of the early days of Yapeen, which undoubtedly were not very different in many aspects to the early days of Maldon. Many local historians have contributed to the book and the careful research that has been done is very obvious to the reader. You may not want to sit down and read this book from cover to cover, but if you are at all interested in local history you will definitely enjoy browsing through it.

Stasi 77 is a thriller by David Young. Set in 1977, Karin Muller of the German Democratic Republic People's Police is called on to investigate the murder of a man found trapped and bound in a state fabric mill. This is no ordinary murder (is there such a thing?), but there are political and devious aspects to this case. The political situation of the time is so complicated and there are so many undercurrents that as more victims surface, Muller realises that she must delve into the dark past of the region. The old mill was once a concentration camp and it becomes apparent that this story moves between the closing weeks of the Second World War and the Stasi control of the region in the 1970s.

The Abstainer is a novel by Ian McGuire and is set in Manchester in 1867, where two men haunted by their past are driven by the need for justice. Stephen Doyle is an Irish American who arrives from New York with a thirst for blood. He is a member of the Fenians, the secret society intent on ending British rule in Ireland. James O'Connor has fled grief and drink in Dublin to start a new life as the Head Constable in Manchester. His mission is to thwart the Fenians' plans. When his long lost nephew arrives from America, O'Connor's new life is imperilled and his and Stephen Doyle's lives become intertwined. This is a story about the Irish fight for independence and the blood that was shed during this terrible time.

The Lying Life of Adults is the new book by popular author Elena Ferrante. There are currently five other Ferrante books at The Athenaeum. My Brilliant Friend is the first of the Neapolitan Quartet made up of The Story of a New Name, Those Who Leave and Those Who Stay and The Story of the Lost Child. These brilliant books are much loved and have been read by many of our members. There is also The Days of Abandonment, another popular book by Ferrante. This new book, The Lying Life of Adults is set in Naples where a teenage girl has to find herself as she vacillates between the two very different cities of Naples: the Naples of assumed refinement situated in the heights and the Naples which is a place of excess and, vulgarity situated in the more lowly areas. This is the story about the transition from childhood to adolescence to adulthood and Ferrante again shows her skill with this gripping piece of writing.

Once again we hope that these four books offer you a wide variety of reading.

Enjoy.
Joy Leneaux-Gale.

MALDON BRIDGE CLUB RESULTS

are able and determined, they will recover from any difficulties or problems and be successful.

That certainly applies to this game of Bridge we play. Try as we might to gain the extra point or two to create a top score, some seem to fall short in the final tally. Not so for some it seems, who are equipped with skill, determination and all the necessities to get to the top in playing out the cards.

The scorers were quick onto the computer to work on the final results and it does take a little more time due to the rotating of the partnerships into different directions throughout the afternoon.

The final announcement came from Danny. "In first place with 74 points were Ken and Andrew." Ken does it again!! Four weeks in a row! Ken certainly has all the attributes as mentioned above and his regular games through-out the week at various venues certainly gives him the practice most of us fall short on. It was pleasing to have quiet achiever Andrew have his first win and Congratulations to both players.

Equal second place went to Maldon Elizabeth and Maldon Jo along with Lyn and Bob with 72 points each. There was an equal fourth between Sandy and Campbells Creek Jan along with Mark and Danny with 60 points each.

We enjoyed our warm quiches and hot beverages at the afternoon tea break and a big thank you to the Maldon Hotel team once again.

We look forward to returning next week to take on those cards once more.

Whatever your age group or skills, please feel free to join us to, 'dip your toe in the water' each Thursday from 12.45pm to 4.30pm or on Mondays 1.15pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavour to:

A bright, happy, group of players arrived for Bridge play this week as all were quite refreshed after the Easter Break.

A final tally of numbers meant we would be on the move around the tables as we implemented the Howell movement once more. As there was an extra player, a team of three joined as a partnership for the day's play.

We welcomed new player Kylie who was attempting her first competitive face-to-face bridge game and last week's new player Judy also joined us once again.

MOUNT Alexander Shire Council is encouraging all residents to share what they love about their community and their vision for its future, as part of the six-month project called Your Community, Your Vision.

"Everyone who lives here in the shire, or visits, knows how vibrant and connected it is," said Mayor Tony Cordy.

"We got here by working together. This project is about continuing that work, and coming up with a shared vision of what the community should be in a decade," Cr Cordy said.

"It doesn't matter which town you live in across the shire, if you work for a local business, are a student at one of the local schools, or a member of a local community group or club. We want to hear from you."

Feedback provided as part of the project will inform the development of a number of long-term Council strategies and priorities.

Residents can complete short or long surveys, provide further thoughts and feedback, as well as upload stories, videos and photographs by visiting shape.mountalexander.vic.gov.au/vision.

Scruffy character detained on Mt Tarrengower

HAVE you heard the one about two local police officers patrolling Mt Tarrengower in the early hours of the morning when suddenly an unkempt goat walks out of the bushes.

No, there's no punch line - this is a true story, no kidding.

Now goats have a reputation for being stubborn or misbehaving, which is not a good look when the local gendarmes have you under surveillance, but it appears our local Goat Police whippersnappers were able to coerce this scruffy customer into the rear of the paddy wagon.

Turns out, the goat had a tag on it and the breeder was contacted. She told the police that she had sold two goats to a lady over in Newstead about 18 months ago and a short time later they got out of the paddock and vanished.

The breeder gave police the owner's address and phone number and the scruffy goat was dropped off to its owner soon after.

Thanks to the two Castlemaine officers who took the time to make sure the animal was ok and reunited with its owner.

MALDON GOLF CLUB

THE field of 22 golfers were feeling a little uneasy at 12.15pm prior to hit-off, with the weather appearing to be a bleak and wintry afternoon. To the golfers' delight, all indications of the rain, wind and cold conditions envisaged were replaced with great golfing conditions. A comfortable temperature, just a slight breeze and no rain.

Two excellent scores of 63 nett from Noel Olver and Craig Borrow highlighted the results. Noel's recent investment of a new set of clubs has given him an instant dividend with his win on a countback from Craig. Closest to the pin on the ca$h-HOLE, however, ensured that Craig did not go home empty-handed.

RESULTS

BALL-WINNERS	Ian Long	65 nett

SOCIAL PETANQUE

☆ Fashions on the piste: the sudden cold snap last Sunday saw everyone break out their winter woollies. L. to r. Steve favoured the Dr Zhivago look, Matt opted for Rapper Hoodie Chic and Maxine played it safe with a riff on homespun style.

THE boss was away playing with a Bugatti, whilst 14 VESPAS turned out in Maldon last Sunday. The Vespas are not to be confused with the brand of motor scooters but they are Virtually Elderly Social Petanque Activists.

After a beautiful weekend of sunshine over Easter we were looking for something the same for our fortnightly games, however, what we got was a bit of everything - the sun shone, the wind blew and the rain rained and that was all in the space of one game. Petanque is known as an all weather game so we were not perturbed and pressed on to produce as much variation in our games as what we had with the weather.

The only team to win both their games were Viv and Andrew with 14 points to their credit. Four teams won one game with the best being Phil and Judy with 6 points followed by Clif and Ian 5 points, Matt, Maxine and Stevie Wonder -1point then Carole and Steve -9 points. The only team not to win a game were Geoff, Joan and Julian who ended up -15 points. There were just enough chocolates to go around for everybody to enjoy one.

Our next games will be on ANZAC Day 25 April at the Penny School pistes commencing at the usual time of 2pm.
