Candidate Q&A - The Senate

THE Tarrangower Times emailed, or attempted to email, Victorian candidates for the Senate and asked them three questions, giving them the opportunity to present themselves in their own words. When elected, the new Victorian Senator will represent all Victorians.

There are 64 candidates listed on the website of the Australian Electoral Commission; not all were contactable and in some cases the TT sent the request via a central address or a web form. The questions were: Please tell us a bit about yourself, your background and why you'll be a great Senate representative for Victorians? What do you consider to be your key values, generally? What's important to you? What do you see as the key issues for rural and regional areas of Victoria and what are your ideas to address them? The responses are being published in order of receipt.

(Candidates for the Bendigo seat of the House of Representatives have also been approached; see next week's edition of the TT for their responses).

Brittany Henderson The Greens

I'm Brittney Henderson, a Wiradjuri and Bunurong person. I'm about to finish my Master's in Social Policy, where I've focused on improving outcomes for Indigenous women and Queer mob. I've worked in the not-for-profit space, supporting community-controlled organisations with resources and frameworks to organise and spotlight the incredible work they're already doing. I'm campaigning to make sure young people, women, gender-diverse folks, and especially mob who exist across those identities, can see themselves in future campaigns. For me, campaigning isn't about being perfect. It's about being real, staying grounded in lived experience and showing up for the people who see themselves in your story.

At the core of everything I do are values like collective action, community care and integrity. I believe everything is political. How we care for each other, how we share resources, whose voices are heard and whose are silenced. That's why I show up in the spaces I do. Collective action is powerful. I've seen how much can shift when mob, young people and gender-diverse folks back each other and build something together. It's not about one person leading the charge. It's about making sure we all have what we need to thrive and no one gets left behind. Community care is the heart of it. It's how we look after each other when systems fall short. It's in the everyday acts of solidarity and showing up for people. That's the kind of politics I believe in. Integrity means staying grounded. Being real, being accountable, and knowing who I'm here for. That's why I'm running with the Greens because they back people and planet over profit and power. And that's the kind of future I want to be part of building.

In rural and regional Victoria, communities, especially Indigenous and queer folks, face challenges like poor infrastructure, limited access to services, and social isolation. These issues are tied to broader struggles like climate change, economic inequality and a lack of meaningful representation. Indigenous governance systems offer practical solutions, particularly around climate resilience and land management, benefiting all communities facing environmental pressures. But we can't truly move forward until we break down the barriers that prevent people from accessing opportunities. By bridging wealth gaps with the Greens' tax reform policies and ensuring everyone has an equal chance to thrive, we can create a future where all Victorians, no matter their background, have the opportunity to run the race. Empowering Indigenous women and gender-diverse folks in leadership roles will strengthen our communities and lead to a more inclusive, self-determined future for all.

Democracy, Sausage

Choices, choices

IT is said that you can't have your cake and eat it too, which is confusing and thought-provoking. When it comes to voting you will need to make a choice between voting quietly and conveniently in advance, or braving the throngs while voting on the official Election Day.

There's something to be said for both options; if you vote in advance it may involve a further drive but likely a much shorter queue. On Election Day, there is the camaraderie of partaking in your civic duty and right while in the company of fellow community members. Plus the eating of the Democracy Sausage, which is usually only available on the big day.

These nearby venues are open for early voting: Castlemaine Catholic Church Hall (St Mary's), 70 Hargraves St, Castlemaine; Shop 3, 114 Williamson St, Bendigo and Bendigo Baptist Church (Novo Centre) 757 McIvor Hwy, Junortoun. Opening hours vary but they roughly follow business hours and most of these have extra services to improve accessibility including a virtual Auslan interpreter, hearing loop and/or assisted wheelchair access. Check the website of the Australian Electoral Commission at aec.gov.au for full details.

Preference voting: you are in control of your vote

When it comes to choosing between candidates, that's a whole other rissolle. The most important thing to remind yourself when it comes to food and voting is: your body, your choice. The days are gone when backroom deals between shady butchers decided the order of ingredients; now it is all laid out on the hot plate for you to choose.

If that metaphor seemed forced (it was) here it is again on a plain bun: since 2016 when there was reform to the Senate voting process, politicians, parties and candidates do not have any control over your preferences.

With the green voting form, for the House of Representatives, if a candidate receives over 50% of the vote at first count, they are declared elected. If nobody receives 50% of the votes, the preferences on the green papers of the candidate with the lowest count are distributed to the remaining candidates and that candidate is eliminated. The person who is declared elected will then be the first candidate with at least 50% of the vote from their own first preference votes plus the transferred preferences from excluded candidates.

The distribution of votes in the Senate is more complex, partly due to a quota system and because candidates from the same party are grouped together, like supermarkets with bulk small-goods buying power, on the white ballot paper. Voters can either vote above the line for political parties/groups or below the line for candidates in their preferred order. Groups who have a voting square above the line may be candidates all from one party, or from two parties that have elected to run a 'joint' ticket and have their candidates listed in the same column, or non-affiliated candidates who have chosen to run together in the one column so that they appear above the line.

The only influence that candidates, politicians and parties have over your preferences is through the printing of a How To Vote card, which will demonstrate their preferences and which they will offer to you as you enter the voting place. Like the offer of onions, mustard or tomato sauce for your snag, it is entirely your choice as to whether you accept.

On the Hustings

THERE are 10 candidates for the seat of Bendigo in the upcoming federal election. Most are either from small parties or are independent; social media is shaping up to be the best place to find out about their election platforms. Often the best place to look is the page of the party, rather than the individual, to learn about policy positions.

Meanwhile, candidates for Labor and the Coalition have been very busy making pledges and announcements around the Bendigo electorate.

Current Federal Member for Bendigo Lisa Chesters has announced that a re-elected Labor Government will deliver $750,000 for the development of a Kyneton Skate Park facility, it will deliver $2.915 million funding for Stage 2 of the Central Deborah Gold Mine Revitalisation Project and it will deliver $3 million for the redevelopment of the North Bendigo Recreation Reserve Pavilion.

The Nationals candidate for Bendigo, Andrew Lethlean, has joined Leader of The Nationals David Littleproud and Liberal candidate for Bendigo, Matt Evans to commit funding towards upgrading Bendigo Livestock Exchange by pledging $3 million in funding towards a new roof at the facility. Mr Lethlean and Mr Evans also announced that Councils across the Bendigo electorate will share in more than $18.7 million to fix local roads and upgrade community facilities, plus a major upgrade of facilities at California Gully Recreation Reserve, if the Coalition wins the federal election on Saturday 3 May.

Broiler application taken to VCAT

A case has reportedly been opened at Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) relating to 705 Baringhup Road, Carisbrooke, which is the site of a currently advertised planning application with Central Goldfields Shire Council (CGSC) for a class B broiler farm.

The Tarrangower Times has contacted the company that is representing the applicant for further information but understands that the move is an application for VCAT to 'review a failure to grant a permit' under the Planning and Environment Act.

A spokesperson from CGSC confirmed: "The applicant for planning application DO 06-23 at 705 Baringhup Road Carisbrook has made application to review a failure to grant a permit. The application is for a Class B broiler farm – six sheds, hot water heating facility room, amenities and generator room, caretakers dwelling, water retention dam and access road widening in a heritage overlay."

This comes in light of the recent decision by CGSG on Wednesday 26 March (see the Tarrangower Times edition of Friday 11 April) to refuse a permit for a broiler farm at Clarkes Road, Moolort and 141 Clarkes Road, Strathlea.

Fire danger reminder

Although the declared Fire Danger Period (FDP) finished this week on Tuesday 22 April, the CFA warns against complacency during the continued dry period.

As restrictions lift, CFA is urging residents to remain fire-aware, as dry Autumnal conditions combined with strong winds can still lead to fast-moving grassfires. Despite the cooler change in conditions, it is important residents remain vigilant even though the FDP has come to an end.

Private burn-offs should be registered online at firepermits.vic.gov.au. If smoke or fire is reported, it will be cross-checked with the register to avoid an emergency response and allow 000 call-takers to prioritise emergency calls. Where possible, landowners should also notify neighbours and those nearby who may be sensitive to smoke. Residents travelling to other parts of Victoria are reminded to remain vigilant, as fire danger periods in other regions may still be active.

Saturday Main Street Closure

Fans of British motorcycles will be thrilled to know that the All British Rally will swing through Maldon on Saturday 26 April. Motorists and shoppers should be aware that Main Street will be closed from 9am until around 4pm; the rally in Newstead attracts up to 1,000 motorcycles and many will visit Maldon on their Saturday ride.

Comment on proposed council budget

At the Meeting of Mount Alexander Shire Council (MASC) on Tuesday 15 April, Council resolved to make the proposed 2025-2026 budget available for public feedback for two weeks from Wednesday 16 April through to Wednesday 30 April.

Of a planned $56 million for the financial year, $17.3 million is allocated to capital works, which will improve infrastructure and community facilities.

“In developing the budget, we must first take into account what it will cost to continue delivering our existing services and funding our capital works initiatives,” said Mount Alexander Shire Council’s Mayor, Councillor Rosie Annear. “Then, with the very small portion that remains, we look to fund community projects brought to our attention through public budget submissions.”

MASC points to active transport, carbon offsetting initiatives and levee banks as some of the highlights of its proposed budget for 2025-2026. Other features include traffic improvements and parking safety in Castlemaine, improved street lighting and toilets in Harcourt, and designs for playground improvements in Maldon.

Have your say

Officer, Mount Alexander Shire Council, PO Box 185, Castlemaine, VIC 3450.

Submissions must be made in writing and lodged by 5pm on Wednesday 30 April.

Community members who provide written feedback on the proposed budget during this second round of consultation may indicate if they would like the opportunity to speak to it at an Unscheduled Meeting of Council on Tuesday 13 May.

The three Ps of emergencies

Preparing people, properties and pets is the theme for Central Goldfields Shire’s first Emergency Preparation Expo in Maryborough, Sunday 4 May on the lawns in front of the Maryborough Railway Station. Co-hosted by local emergency services including CFA, SES, Victoria Police, Ambulance Victoria and Red Cross, this Expo will offer tips, tricks and methods for preparing for all types of emergencies including fire, flood, storms and power outages. Local emergency services will feature prominently with trucks, trailers and demonstrations, making it a fun day for the kids as well. Businesses that provide services or products that help people prepare themselves, their pets and their properties for emergencies, are also invited to book a free stall site to display what they can offer.

The Expo will run from 10am to 1pm on the Station Domain lawn area in front of the Maryborough Railway Station.

For details and site bookings, visit: centralgoldfields.vic.gov.au/EmergencyExpo.

Cairn Curran recreation area upgrade

One of Cairn Curran Reservoir’s major recreation areas is fully reopened to the public following the completion of several upgrades. Located on the southeast foreshore of the reservoir, Welshmans Reef is a popular destination for boaters and fishers. Funding from the Victorian Fisheries Authority’s Better Boating division recently allowed Goulburn-Murray Water (GMW) to complete extensive upgrades on the site. The works included refurbishing the boat ramp and the access track leading into the recreation area and sealing the car park. GMW has also funded and completed the refurbishment of Fisherman’s Toilet Blocks, located next to the car park.

VFF calls to scrap new emergency services levy

The Victorian Farmers Federation (VFF) is calling on the Victorian Government to immediately abandon its proposed expanded tax for emergency services and instead focus on urgently reforming the existing Fire Services Property Levy to ensure it is fair, transparent and sustainable for all Victorians. VFF President Brett Hosking said it comes after widespread community backlash to the government’s new tax proposal, which would see families, farmers, and businesses slugged with massive bills, without any guarantee of improved services.

“Victorians are already doing their fair share and this latest tax grab is unjustified and deeply out of touch. Farmers don’t support it, firefighters don’t, nor do businesses and local governments,” Mr Hosking said. “Instead of piling on a new tax, the government should be fixing the broken levy system we already have.”

The VFF is urging the government to commit to meaningful reform, including:

- A cap on levy increases: Introduce a legislated cap so the Fire Services Property Levy cannot increase by more than the consumer price index year-on-year, similar to the rate cap applied to local councils.
- Protection against levy shock: Implement an individual capping mechanism to prevent property owners from facing levy spikes due to extreme land value revaluations.
- Fairer classification and rate setting: Conduct a full review of current land use classifications and rate structures to ensure they are equitable—particularly considering differing service levels between metropolitan and regional communities.
- Implement the rebate for CFA volunteers: The government should keep its plan to provide a levy rebate to CFA volunteers to the existing fire services levy.

“Scrapping this expanded tax and committing to genuine levy reform would be a win for transparency, equity and trust,” Mr Hosking said.

Biosecurity roundtable report available

Victoria’s Biosecurity Roundtable was held on 20 November 2024. There were 168 participants at the event. Local experts – from the wine industry, wildlife sector, horticulture and more – explored phylloxera impacts on the wine industry, what to do to prepare for our biggest biosecurity threats and reaching diverse communities with important messages. Victoria’s Biosecurity Strategy was the underlying foundation of presentations and conversations throughout all Roundtable sessions.

What to do about the flu

Victorians are being reminded to book in their annual flu vaccination ahead of winter peak season, with free flu vaccines now available for children under five years old and other at-risk groups.

Victorian Chief Health Officer Dr Tarun Weeramanthri is encouraging more Victorians to get their annual flu vaccine, with reported cases of flu and other respiratory viruses already on the rise.

“The flu can be serious, especially for children which is why the vaccine is free for children under five,” Dr Weeramanthri said.

“For vulnerable groups in the community the flu can be deadly and for others it can result in severe health effects and long recovery periods.”

Flu vaccination is recommended for anyone six months and older and is free for at risk groups including children aged six months to five years, people over 65 years, pregnant women, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and people with medical conditions that put them at increased risk of severe flu. People can get their vaccine at general practices, pharmacies, local council immunisation clinics, Aboriginal Health Services and often at their workplace.

More information on flu vaccination is available at betterhealth.vic.gov.au.

Candidate Q&A - The Senate

Melbourne's south-east. From mentoring youth to supporting newly arrived families, I've worked hard to build bridges across cultures and create opportunities for people to feel seen, heard and empowered. I've also supported local sports, education initiatives and small businesses—often out of my

Navera Ari
The Greens

I am a creative artist, advocate and a voice for my community. My creative practice utilises a range of mediums including acting and performance, poetry writing, music and photography. With a background in Digital Media, Sociology & Gender Studies, I recognise the importance of critically analysing the structures of our society and looking at avenues for change as we move towards progress and development. As an African raised in Australia, I deeply value our multicultural communities in Melbourne and bring my lived experience to inform how we can make better decisions for everyone. We deserve better and I am here as part of the movement to fight for better.

I hold empathy and compassion for people as a guiding principle in how I interact and advocate for others. I don't have all of the answers, and don't pretend to, instead I do my best to listen to the concerns and struggles that people are facing and advocate on their behalf. I use my experience and knowledge to find solutions in the short-term and fight for change in the long-term and see protections in place for the most vulnerable members of society; ensuring a voice for the silenced.

With rural and regional Victoria experiencing more climate-related disasters, including bushfires and floods, a housing crisis where people are being locked out of the market and people having to choose between paying their rent and putting food on the table, it becomes increasingly important to fight for change. We are driving policies that reduce emissions, transition workers and communities to new industries, and build resilient infrastructure to prepare for a rapidly changing climate. We need publicly owned renewable energy, no new coal and gas, cheaper groceries and a rent freeze now. In a wealthy country like ours, we can tax the billionaires and solve the problems we face.

Independent

I touched down in Australia as a wide-eyed international student 10 years ago. Today I'm a Warrandyte mum of two, founder of My Second Home—an NDIS-registered disability-support service—and co-founder of Simple AI, helping country businesses harness tech they can actually afford. As a childhood-sexual-abuse survivor, I transformed pain into purpose by launching MySafe Circle to protect kids statewide. These lived and professional experiences taught me how policy decisions land on real people, and they fuel my drive to be an independent voice—answerable only to Victorians, not party bosses.

What do you consider to be your key values, generally? What's important to you?

Compassionate leadership, bold action. I act on three non-negotiables: integrity, inclusion and impact. Decisions must be made with communities, not to them; every public dollar must deliver a public good; and sunlight is the best disinfectant in our democracy.

What do you see as the key issues for rural and regional areas of Victoria? What are your ideas to address them?

Key issues for rural and regional Victoria—and my ideas. Cost of living and housing. Families in Maldon, Heathcote or Horsham feel soaring rents, fuel and grocery prices first. I'll champion a $2 billion Regional Infrastructure and Housing Fund to fast-track affordable build-to-rent homes, upgrade local roads and roll out community-owned renewable-energy projects that slash power bills and keep profits local. Health and essential services. Distance should never decide health outcomes. My Fair-Funding Guarantee for regional public hospitals, Medicare-supported tele-health and rural service-retention bonuses for GPs, midwives and allied-health workers will close the health gap. Connectivity and small business. Patchy mobile coverage and sluggish NBN strangle local enterprise. I'll insist on a 'last-mile' fibre promise and create a Rural Innovation Grant so farmers and tourism operators can adopt ag-tech, AI and e-commerce without breaking the bank. Climate resilience. Bush-fires, floods and droughts threaten lives and livelihoods. Redirecting fossil-fuel subsidies into a National Disaster Readiness Fund will strengthen evacuation routes, support regenerative farming and equip our volunteer emergency services. Rural Victoria feeds, powers and inspires our state. With your vote, I'll make sure Canberra returns the favour—and that country communities help shape Australia's future, not just watch it from the sidelines.

Dr Michelle Ananda-Rajah
Labor Party

I am Labor's Victorian candidate for the Senate in the federal election.

I am not a career politician. I entered politics in 2022 after being a doctor at The Alfred Hospital and made history as the first Labor Member of the seat of Higgins. A Liberal stronghold of 76 years, Higgins produced four Liberal Prime Ministers before being abolished in 2024. I had never been in a political party, instead serving as a specialist doctor in public hospitals in the city and regions for 26 years and as an award-winning medical researcher.

During the pandemic I campaigned for better safety protections for healthcare workers. Add the neglect of women, climate inaction and integrity by the Morrison Government, meant that I was primed to have a crack at politics. I did so with no expectation that I would win but only that I would give it my all, and I did.

The past three years has shown me that Government can and must multitask. We have provided cost of living support while putting back the shock absorbers (like housing, Medicare, skills, stronger trade, manufacturing and more renewable energy) so that our economy is more resilient to whatever the world throws at us.

So, which is my favourite child? Education because it is the most powerful lever against social disadvantage. Our investments in early childhood education, fully funding public schools, cutting HECs debt and free TAFE will create pathways for people. But as important is the scaffolding for a successful life like affordable housing, strengthening Medicare, decent wages, infrastructure and paid parental leave (with super). This scaffolding is bread and butter for Labor.

As an Australian of Sri-Lankan heritage who was born in the UK migrating to Australia from Zambia as a child, I understand the importance of an having an inclusive, stable society.

I want to continue rebuilding Medicare and strengthening services for all Australians irrespective of your postcode, which is why I will be running for the Senate. I will bring reason and pragmatism, so that a Labor Government if elected, passes changes that matter to all Victorians.

Glenn Arnold
The Nationals

I'm Glenn Arnold — a father of two, a small business owner, and a long-time community volunteer. I've spent over two decades working in safety, recruitment, and workforce development, helping businesses and individuals succeed across Australia and internationally. I am also the current President of the Inverloch Surf Lifesaving Club, where I lead a team of volunteers devoted to keeping our coastline safe and connected.

What drives me is simple: making things work better for people. Whether it's supporting families, mentoring young leaders, or advocating for action on coastal erosion, I believe in rolling up my sleeves and getting on with the job.

My key values are integrity, fairness, and accountability. I believe in being approachable and always prioritising practical outcomes over political noise.

For regional and rural Victorians, the priorities are clear — and too often ignored:

- Local infrastructure that genuinely meets local needs
- Sustainable solutions for climate resilience, especially along our vulnerable coastlines
- Reliable healthcare, housing, and support for essential workers
- Real investment in our young people's education and job pathways

We can't solve these issues from a distance. Decisions should be shaped by those who live in and understand our communities, not just by people who visit for photo ops.

If elected to the Senate, I will bring lived experience, a strong work ethic, and a no-nonsense approach to representing the people of Victoria. I'm not here to play politics — I'm here to ensure our voices are heard, and that we finally receive the fair go we deserve.

What a great Easter!

As President of the Maldon Easter Fair Committee I write to say WOW, what a great Easter in our wonderful town. Thank you Maldon for again supporting the fair and enabling it to continue as the best and oldest continuous Easter Fair in Australia.

From our small committee and the volunteers that put up their hand to help out over the Easter week, doing even the smallest jobs that sometimes go unnoticed, to the larger tasks of setting up the lights in the street and up on the tower, I know we all do appreciate your time in doing these things for our community.

What an amazing and huge crowd on Monday that turned out to watch and participate in our 148th Parade and we hope this can continue for many years in its current format. My huge thanks to you all, including West Traffic, who did an amazing job dealing with VicRoads and sorting out the traffic control for the parade.

Some of our events have had challenges, but we are committed to keeping our Easter Fair an event to be proud of, from the Scone Bake, The Good Friday Beehive Service, the Huge Easter Market at the Beehive (Just WOW, over 7,500 people attended) and with Sunday adding the RaceYa Day to the program was such a success and my thanks to the Lang family for all they do to make this happen each year, Dancing in the Street (3,000 people Dancing and having fun, even with our much needed rain, it was still so much fun), the great Maldon Vintage Machinery & Museum display of old vehicles that toured the town all weekend and our 148th Parade that was enjoyed by a huge crowd of over 8,000 people to grace our streets of Maldon.

I believe that Easter week would have to be the most beneficial week for business trading in Maldon. Our committee is very proud of the fact that, through our endeavours, we make every effort to keep the tourist dollars in our community by providing free events for everyone to enjoy while supporting our local traders.

It is also wonderful to see so many community groups working with our Easter committee to put on events and do fundraising for themselves over the Easter weekend. These include and I thank, the Maldon Brass Band, Maldon Vintage Machinery & Museum, Maldon Football Netball Club, the Maldon Lodge, Castlemaine's Highland Pipe Band, Maldon & District Fire Brigades, The Maldon Churches, Maldon Golf Club, Maldon Quilters along with those many individuals that help out before, during and after our events. What great community spirit we have and are so proud of in Maldon.

The Maldon Vintage Machinery & Museum hosted their annual Engine Rally, the Churches combined to work as one to host the Beehive Chimney Good Friday Service, The Maldon Football Netball Club hosted their Good Friday Games, the Maldon Quilters had such a wonderful display of quilts and many other local community groups participated in the parade and many other of our events.

I would like to acknowledge the great effort by Daniel Clarke and the Maldon Brass Band who enjoy playing at our events and entertaining us all, The annual Brass Band Concert was a great success in its new format at the Maldon Hotel and a wow to our band for coming up with a future plan by paying a music teacher at our Maldon Primary School to teach (currently 12 students) brass instruments as a way to build our band well into the future. The Band is always looking for new players, both young and older.

Hopefully our 149th Easter Fair will again be a great time for us all who love Maldon

Our Committee is now also planning our 150th celebrations in 2027. We are looking at a back to Maldon Easter week of celebrations with a lot of local tradition. More about this to follow...

Maldon is a resilient community and It is so good for such a small community to be batting well above its average, not only at Easter, but with events throughout the year.

Also to David Skinner for his great music over the last 29 years for our Dancing in the Street.

So well done Maldon... take a bow and be so very proud of yourselves.

A very Proud Maldon Easter Fair President,

Peter Thompson.

Fifth-generation Maldon beekeeper elected president of state association

WARRAL Maldon's owner, Lindsay Callaway, has been elected President of the Victorian Apiarists Association (VAA), the state's peak body for beekeepers.

Lindsay is a fifth-generation apiarist and the managing director of Warral Maldon, a beekeeping business founded by his great-great-grandfather, Edward Teague Penglase, in 1896. Operating over 5,000 hives across Central Victoria and beyond, Warral Maldon is one of the country's longest-running beekeeping enterprises. From its purpose-built facility on the outskirts of Maldon, the business produces high-quality honey and beeswax products, provides commercial pollination services, and runs two in-house programs: SWARM (an apiarist training academy) and SYZGY (Warral's research and development wing).

Though grounded in the local community, Lindsay has spent years working at a national level to advocate for beekeepers. He is an executive member of the Australian Honey Bee Industry Council (AHBIC), a board member of B-Qual Australia and contributes to national projects, including planning for the 2026 Australian Bee Congress in Adelaide.

His leadership at the VAA has included chairing the Commercial Subcommittee and guiding the association's current rebranding process. He also proudly represents the Bendigo Branch of the VAA.

"I didn't go looking to be president—but I do care deeply about the future of our industry, and the people in it," Lindsay said. "The VAA has been a big part of my family's beekeeping story. It's where my dad shared his knowledge in the 70s, helping to form the Bendigo Branch that still thrives today. It's where I've found mentors, mates and now a platform to pay it forward."

The Warral Maldon story and history is captured in the brand's theme: 'Bees love Warral. We love bees.' It's a sentiment that reflects generations of care and one Lindsay says is, "at the heart of the role I now have as president of the VAA."

As the newly elected President, Lindsay hopes to help the VAA stay strong and united in the face of modern challenges—from managing biosecurity threats like Varroa destructor to supporting the next generation of beekeepers. "We've got some serious work to do," he said. "But we've also got a serious community of people who care about bees, the environment, and each other. That gives me hope."

Every glass has a story. Blending is where those stories come together.

The Art of Blending Wine – Balancing Personality, Structure, and Style

WHILE it might sound like a technical process (and sometimes it is), blending wine is also deeply creative, it's where intuition, experience and a touch of gut instinct meet to craft something that's more than the sum of its parts.

At Panacea Estate, blending is one of my favourite parts of winemaking. It's part science, part art—and all about listening to the wine and learning what has worked well and not worked well from the trials that occurred a year ago.

Why Blend Wines at All?

There are a few great reasons to blend:

- Balance – One wine might have bold fruit but lack structure. Another might have great acidity but not enough length. Together, they fill in each other's gaps.
- Complexity – Blending allows different layers of aroma, flavour and texture to come through. It's like adding harmonies to a melody.
- Consistency – In small wineries like ours, vintages vary. Blending can smooth out differences and create a signature house style—even from year to year.

Blending isn't about masking flaws. It's about enhancing character—highlighting the best of what each component brings.

When approaching blending, it is good to think of each wine component as a character in a story. Some are bold and outspoken. Others are quiet but necessary—like punctuation. The goal isn't to let one voice dominate, but to create harmony.

Here's what I look for:

- Personality – The unique voice of a varietal or barrel. Maybe it's a fragrant rosé with wild strawberry notes, or a soft vanilla from a fresh oak barrel of shiraz or some more brashness and pepper from an American oak barrel that refuses to be ignored.
- Structure – Acidity, tannin and body. These are the bones of the wine. A strong backbone gives the blend shape and aging potential.
- Style – This is where vision comes in. Are we making something fresh and vibrant for summer drinking? Or a more contemplative red for cooler nights?

Every blend starts with a question: 'What are we trying to say with this wine?'

Some of our wines are blended from the start—like our Rose All Day, which often combines different varietals and combined to make a consistent product each year.

Others, like our Shiraz, are crafted from multiple barrels, each with different oak, age of barrel, type of yeast used and even small differences—a few days of extra skin contact can give us options to fine-tune the final blend.

We taste, test, spit and swirl. Then we do it again. And again. Sometimes a blend comes together in minutes. Other times, it takes longer and many different opinions and discussions on what would create the best option.

On a personal note, thanks to the Welshmans Reef team for coming to help tasting and always teaching me more about the wine-making process and giving their opinions on this year's blending. Also, to those lucky enough to be at Panacea Estate on the weekend while I was doing the tasting to help out and give their opinions, it is a great pleasure to experience this with others and talk through what everyone is experiencing with the wines and how to get the best from them.

These moments reminds me why I make wine. Not just to bottle a beverage, but to tell a story, enjoy it with friend, both old and new. Next time you're sipping a Panacea Estate wine, see if you can find the layers. Better yet, visit the winery and taste different varietals side by side. You might just discover the story within the glass.

Newsagency news: end of an era

MALDON Newsagency has had a change of hands for the first time in nearly 28 years. Tireless local couple Barb and Graeme Ford have sold the business and are looking forward to the next phase of their lives.

"We will very much miss the contact with people, through their sadness and happiness," Graeme said as they were stepping away. "We've been intertwined with the town and the community."

He reflected on the many changes that have occurred since they have been at the helm of the shop. "When we started, we still sold floppy disks. And there was the suggestion that we might try the new technology called EFTPOS," Graeme laughed.

The couple, who have four children and nine grandchildren, have lots of ideas about keeping busy in the future now that they will have extra time to devote to themselves and their family. "Looking forward to looking after the grandchildren. That has already started this week," Barb said, and reflected that the handover has been an emotional time.

The new owner, Daniel, has commenced during one of the busiest weeks on the Maldon event calendar, so Barb and Graeme are confident that he will manage well.

As well as offering kind company to every customer, Graeme and Barb have been generous sponsors of many community activities; they will be missed. Neighbouring shops and businesses gave them a gift and big card to wish them well, but as locals, Barb and Graeme will still be seen around the town. Congratulations and best wishes from the Tarrangower Times!

MANet presents three artistic gems

Wattle Season - oil painting by Fionna Madigan.

THE MANet gallery is proud to present not one, but THREE artists exhibiting this month. MANet Gallery is an amazing little space, punching well above its weight, thanks to the tireless and creative work of Catherine Tait, who attracts talented local artists to exhibit there. May brings three local well-known artists to present their work. They are Catherine O'Leary, Fionna Madigan and Mary Caspar.

Many years ago, I was involved in developing a flier about the importance of the arts. It was called simply Imagine Life Without The Arts. It went on to say 'Victoria needs people who are: creative, inventive, problem solvers, communicators, skilful, enterprising, resourceful, literate and flexible.' What would we have? A dull, dreary, uninteresting world. 'A world without THE ARTS.' You could safely say the work of these three artists demonstrate these qualities in very different ways.

Catherine O'Leary works primarily with wool fibre and silk fabrics. Her artwork is two-dimensional or sculptural in nature. "The fall of light and the shadows it creates plays an important role in the positive and negative spaces within my artwork. I am fascinated with the shadowed areas found in the internal spaces within my work."

She describes her work thus, "I have developed a style of felt making which is very fine; with the surface of the felt being evenly textured and fibrous. The sculptural shapes are hollow and skillfully manipulated. There is a stillness embodied in my art. I endeavour to construct my work to appear solid and sedentary, but there is an ephemeral lightness in the physicality of my work."

Her three-dimensional felt works almost defy gravity.

Fionna Madigan describes her work as, "A fertile zone between abstraction and realism; where scale is ambiguous, where the macro and micro slide in and out of awareness." She said, "I commence with compositional goals and encourage random occurrences. Improvisation and transience are integral concepts to my creative endeavours. I am interested in the experience of perception; what happens when we look at something; the way our bodies and visual cortex metabolise and interpret information."

"I like to keep the wall between what we know and what we don't know, permeable. I like to play in the space between what we can control and what we can't." Her medium involving beeswax enables her to paint in layers. She added that, "the Goldfields are a never-ending source of inspiration."

Mary Caspar has been an artist for 60 years and is making compelling art into her 80s. I met the third artist Mary Caspar many years ago when she was the Artistic Director of Spadeworks, which was held in the Newstead Community Centre in March 2015. Mary trained at RMIT in the 60s and has always been a working artist. She is represented in collections both here and overseas. While she took up painting in her forties, sometime after undertaking a sculpture course with Shane Merry at Box Hill TAFE. (Incidentally, Shane was formerly an art teacher at Boort – he's a long time ago, where he taught my three sisters).

Mary has an inimitable style of painting people, which involves what she describes as 'more head work' than if she is painting a still life. To quote a comment about an earlier exhibition of Mary's work at Lot 19 in Castlemaine: "There are many reasons to make art...to document, comment, reflect, grieve, forgive, explore or just because you have to, to quote Nietzsche, in order to not die from the truth." Her prints and paintings are quite wondrous, with vivid use of colour and fine line work

The MANet Art Gallery at 27 Main Street Maldon is open from Friday – Saturday, from 11am – 3pm. For further information: 0419 119 047.

The Great Aussie Scone Bake Competition

WE are all slowly recovering from the festivities of the Maldon Easter Fair and Australia's longest continuously running easter parade.

Thursday night 17 April was unseasonably warm and a perfect evening for the traditional Great Aussie Scone Bake Competition.

This is a seemingly simple event, some very talented chefs, or should I say bakers or even cooks, bring out their best recipes and present the judges with the impossible task of choosing the best take on the humble scone.

I say seemingly simple because what we really have is a celebration of a tradition that embraces so much of what makes Maldon and indeed Australia a special place.

I looked around and saw many people I know, the judges, Maree Edwards, Lisa Chesters and Steve Strangward from the Goldfields Railway, some wide-eyed children and everyone having a relaxed, fun evening.

Seemingly simple, but where else can you go and feel so much at home and so welcomed by such a range of acquaintances, friends and complete strangers?

I know the polities were there and I know there is an election brewing, but there was no mention of policies or promises, no sponsorship, no spin, just a group of happy townsfolk.

The scones were prepared on the tables at the front of the Maldon Hotel in their various categories and then taken up the street to be baked in the historic Scotch Oven at the Maldon Bakery and then brought back for judging.

In true diplomatic fashion, everyone received a prize and so they all should.

After the judging, the crowd descended like a flock of seagulls and all that was left were empty plates, some abandoned Easter bunnies and lots of smiles and new memories.

And there are not many things better than a freshly baked scone.

The simple things are the most special things.

Good Friday combined service

HYMNS filled the air of Maldon on Good Friday 18 April during the open-air service hosted by the churches of Maldon in the shadow of the historic Beehive Chimney.

Nearly 100 congregants, many sensibly wearing hats under the clear sky, joined the songs and prayers. Readings and sermons reinforced the links between the present, the history and meaning of the surroundings plus the significance of the past as told through the story of the crucifixion of Jesus, in the Bible. All attendees were welcomed for morning tea at the Baptist Church afterwards. Each church held services on Easter Sunday too, with St Brigid's Catholic Church hosting Easter Mass, Maldon Baptist Church holding its Resurrection Celebration and the Holy Trinity sharing Easter Eucharist.

Platform Extension

Our trains are a popular tourist attraction in the area and we regularly bring between four and six carriages of people into town. Unfortunately, when the platform was built in the 1880s, they never envisioned large passenger trains full of people arriving at Maldon. Trains of this length are too long for the original platform and we have safety concerns with there being five or more carriage doors off the platform when our train arrives. We also need to address the issues associated with the relatively new and very popular cycle trail between Castlemaine and Maldon, which regularly sees people riding into Maldon and catching the train back and we find that large bicycle bookings often require an extra wagon to accommodate the bicycles. The extra wagon is also generally off the platform, causing more operational difficulties.

The size of the extension is dictated by the arrangement of the Castlemaine end of the platform. As the platform has a dock in it, the platform has brick facing all around and on both sides of the dock. To address this, the platform extension needs to butt up to (but not touch or join) both brick faces. This gives an overall width of eight metres. This does not impinge on the large gum tree near the steam locomotive (which was planted by the C&MRPS in the 1980s) and this tree will remain. Impact to the vegetation will be minimal.

The dock itself will not be removed and the little steam locomotive currently parked there will also remain in its current location. We realise this is a great attraction for visitors, both when our train is in town and when we are not operating. I have visited on several non-operational days and seen visitors looking in the locomotive and asking questions about it and the railway in general.

When we proposed the extension to Heritage Victoria, the original plan was to use new plain red bricks and concrete cap stones for the platform faces. Heritage Victoria replied, “Can the bricks be second-hand reds, rather than new? The concern is that new bricks may appear too stark alongside the heritage platform, whereas second-hand bricks would create a softer, more sympathetic visual connection with the existing platform.” So the proposal was changed to this at their request. They also requested us to use recycled bluestone (basalt) cap stones from old railway platforms instead of the concrete ones we had suggested. We are very mindful of the history in the original platform and do not wish to diminish from that in any way.

If anyone would like more information regarding the plans, which have now been approved by Heritage Victoria, please email us at info@vgr.com.au.

The extended family of the Maldon brickmaker are coming to town

My letter to the Editor was published in the Tarrangower Times in February 2024, asking for any information from the community about my great-grandfather Edward Ferdinand Wagener, the long-time Maldon brickmaker and his wife, Louisa Sophia Doris Spanhake and their nine children. I also mentioned the Wagener connection to the Subritzky brothers who had arrived in Maldon earlier and likely brought the future wife of Edward Wagener and her younger brother John William Henry to live with them in the diggings at Long Gully in the care of grandmother Sophie Dieckmann nee Subritzky where they built what became known as Dickman’s Cottage.

I did not receive any direct feedback from readers, BUT I did get encouragement from the Maldon Museum & Archives Association with pieces of valuable research information from historian Tony Kane and encouragement from the secretary and newsletter editor, inviting me to write an article for the March 2025 edition of their newsletter Maldon Muse.

Edward Wagener likely met the Subritzkys at the German Club in Reef Street about 1858 soon after he arrived in Maldon and started working in the brickmaking business of Carl Klose in Long Gully. This was before the bigger brick yard was established close to town along the Tarrangower Creek beside Tobin Street. This can be seen in the two Maldon Panorama pictures taken in 1861 and 1867, as displayed on the Museum website, and in the foreground of the 1867 Maldon Panorama in its glory on the wall in the Maldon Hotel dining room.

To celebrate my Maldon roots, multi-family history, I commenced in May 2024 a very well-supported Facebook group, titled of course, Maldon Story – Wagens/Subritzkys/ Spanhakes. I have had many exchanges with other family historians and found multi-family relatives who have joined the group out of their long-held interest in our early German settler history.

A group of various family members will be getting together for a Maldon reunion on Friday 2 to Sunday 4 May. Some of us will be meeting at the Maldon Cemetery on Thursday afternoon 1 May to do some tidying up and pay our respects at the Wagener grave and Subritzky crypt.

We have a program of events that involves a Friday night get-together hopefully at the Kangaroo Hotel, a Saturday morning town loop walking tour finishing at the Vintage Machinery Museum, lunch at Café Maldon, a Museum & Archives tour, then Saturday afternoon car tour of the important family connected properties and sites, finishing with a Saturday night celebration dinner at the Maldon Hotel in front of the Maldon Panorama, with family stories and yarns and reminiscences.

Sunday morning we are to be welcomed by the Pastor Darcy Vaughan at 10am at the Holy Trinity Anglican Church Service. Various families of Wagens attended the church and there were large groups of Wagener baptism recorded there. My grandfather Fred Wagener, local gold mine steam engine driver, Lodge and Band member was a Vestryman on the Board of the Church for about 10 years.

We will have Sunday lunch in town and recap the weekend and farewell those who need to leave. Others will finish the weekend with an afternoon tour of special local sites to relive our personal Maldon connections and enjoy our new friendships a little longer.

Invitation to the community – if anyone in town has any information or photos about the families, you would like to share with us, please give me a call or send an email. I will reward any photo of Edward Wagener the brickmaker and Mrs Wagener, children and relatives. We can arrange a place to meet OR you can join in with us at one of the sites. If you would like to join us for Saturday night dinner at the Maldon Hotel, please let me know ASAP so that I can include you in our booking numbers. We are presently booked for 20 which includes a few spare seats now and being Election Night the dining room may be full.

A three-part exhibition showcasing works on paper and canvas by local artists. Sally Berridge presents still lifes, portraits and abstracts in watercolour; Malini Lewis shares her intricate iris prints; and Irena Kaczmarek offers moody landscapes inspired by Maldon, the Grampians, and Poland's Białowieża Forest.

The Writing Life – Bonny Cassidy

Friday 23 May, 6pm – 7.30pm

Newstead Writers are hosting Bonny Cassidy for the second in the series The Writing Life where authors explore the joys and challenges of writing in their life. Bonny Cassidy is the author of three outstanding books of poetry and a stunning new non-fiction book (Giramondo, 2024) that has been shortlisted for the Queensland Literary Awards and Victorian Premier's Literary Awards. After 15 years as an academic and researcher in Creative Writing and Australian Literature, Bonny now studies psychology and is establishing a business combining psychotherapy and writing retreats. She lives in the forest on Dja Dja Wurrung country.

This is the second in the series. Local writing treasure Carmel Bird kicked us off beautifully in March 2025.

5.30pm for a 6pm start, with snacks provided and drinks at bar prices courtesy of Newstead Arts Hub. $12, $10 Newstead Arts Hub members.

Band Weaving Workshop with Ilka White

Saturday 31 May, 9.30am – 4.30pm

Experience the ancient art of backstrap weaving in this hands-on workshop with well-known artist Ilka White. You'll create a beautiful woven band using just your body and simple tools.

Weaving our own textiles, particularly using body-tensioned looms, is also one way to live more simply, slowly and intentionally. Explore pattern making, learn basic techniques, and connect with a textile tradition practised across cultures for millennia. Everyone will apply their own colour and pattern choices to the design and construction of their band.

All materials provided. No prior experience is necessary. Suitable for ages 14 and over. $150, $135 for members.

Come along to hang out with other artists. Bring something you are working on and your lunch. This is a FREE, informal way of sharing space with others, creating connections and having a set time to get your art going! Art Hang is open to all, whether a hobbyist or full time artist. No need to book, just pop in and hang out at the Hub. We would love to see you there.

Torchlight Parade

IT was unusually dark at 7pm on Saturday 20 April, which was absolutely perfect for the annual Torchlight Parade.

Featuring members of the local volunteer emergency services holding lanterns and torches, it was a relatively quiet parade that drifted past gently (apart from the brilliant Maldon Brass Band which brings melodies to Maldon throughout the whole weekend, of course!). Viewers were inspired to clap and cheer with pride and gratitude to the tireless and selfless volunteers

Dancing in the Street

AS the Torchlight Parade came to a triumphant close, loudspeakers blasted a familiar song across Main Street: "Callin' out around the world! Are you ready for a brand-new beat?"

Hundreds of people heard the cry and had a spring in their step as they gravitated towards the music: "...the time is right, for Dancin' in the Street!"

Yet again, dancing instructor powerhouse David Skinner had more stamina than most of the children, teens and adults who came to Twist, Nut-Bush, Mash-Potato and Boogaloo. There was intermittent rain but it didn't dampen anyone's dancing spirits. Carol from Maldon told the TT that she has been attending Dancing in the Street for nine years, while her partner Steve has joined her every year from Daylesford for the past seven years. They agreed it is a fantastic activity to do together and they clearly had a blast.

Highlights included the ballet interlude - which was mesmerising - and an intergenerational mashup between the Wiggles and the Eagle Rock. It's always heart-warming to see tattooed, Timberland boot-wearing blokes releasing their inner Travolta with their bunny-eared kids, while mum pulls out the old Bus-Stop moves. What an exceptional unique and fun night out, Maldon is so lucky.

Vintage Engine Rally

THE Maldon Vintage Machinery & Museum was open across the Easter weekend, providing an interesting detour and a chance to have a closer look at the myriad vehicles that populated the parades.

It was also home-base to the intriguing steam-engine that bopped and bustled around town at various times. With all sorts of machines, gadgets and widgets on display, including an antique printing press like the Tarrangower Times was once printed upon, many visitors spent time poking around this fascinating Maldon attraction.

Maldon Easter Fair Grand Procession

THE pinnacle and the highlight of the Maldon Easter Fair was the grand procession on Monday 21 April.

With the Maldon Brass Band leading the way, the colourful and spirited parade featured floats from community groups including a bunch of lovely hippies from Maldon Gardening Club, a school of fish from Maldon Primary School and the dragons and lions of the Central Victorian Lion Team. Additional music was provided by the Castlemaine Highland Band (featuring local players) and the Amazing Valentinos. The Easter Bunny and other generous folks handed out lollies or chocolate eggs and the streets were filled with excited visitors who love a parade. What's not to love?

Congratulations

Newstead Men's Shed

Graeme Lees.

I'M going to go out on a limb here and reveal something about myself that those who know me may not believe.

I'm a bit shy.

Don't worry, I can be the life of the party, given the right crowd and some Dutch courage and I've amassed all the social graces and tactics, but there are some situations which still make me feel a bit uncomfortable.

Like walking into a room full of strangers who aren't necessarily expecting me without a specific invitation.

I'm going down this path because I think that behind all the outward confidence that most of us possess, I may not be the only one.

The other day I paid a visit to the Newstead Men's Shed. Firstly, it's a place full of very friendly people, like a group of your old mates that you just haven't happened to have met before. Secondly, they are just as pleased to see you and only want to know how you take your tea or coffee. So, I had no need for bravado, Dutch courage or social graces.

So here's another surprise. To be a member of the Newstead Men's Shed, you don't need to be a man.

The group's overall attitude is mainly about being friendly, as I mentioned, helpful, useful and harnessing skills and recently, the natural progression is to broaden the membership base to include women. It's just a logical progression. The role of the shed is changing and it's a reflection on the dynamic of our society generally. Now, everyone's welcome, it's just about wanting to be active.

Having made the connection, curiosity kicked in. What's that machine? What's that guy doing? Can I have a go? I've always wanted to learn how to use a lathe ... I was like a dog at a picnic.

I was shown around by Graeme Lees and James Grant who are two of the eight or so core members who help run the shed.

The first thing I learned was that there are no expectations, you can drop in anytime they're open, just depending on your mood.

The open times are Monday and Tuesday: all day, Thursday: Ladies, Friday and Sunday: two hours in the morning for a cuppa and a game of pool.

They are right on the main road in Lyons Street, you've probably seen the cool aeroplane on the top of the verandah and they have a retail store out the front with lots of great gift ideas.

The front part on the road is council-owned, but the back part, where the meeting rooms and workshop are, is actually owned by the group, an excellent idea, so they can set it up exactly as they want and change it without having to ask the landlord.

The group gets involved with all sorts of community projects, like outdoor furniture for the local pool, to helping out the school, fixing things that people bring in and providing a space for members to work on their own interests.

The whole place, although welcoming, has the feel of efficiency and purpose. The meeting room I first sat down in has a large TV monitor running off a laptop and was being set up for a hands-on demonstration about how to take better photos on your iPhone. There are lots of people with lots of skills and you just have to ask. They're running all sorts of workshops/courses where you can learn new skills and you don't necessarily need to be a member.

So now, even if you're shy like me, just wander on down and have a look around and have a chat with your new mates, the kettle is on...

ENGINES ROAR AT MUCKLEFORD

THE Mount Alexander Vintage Engine Club (MAVEC) held its 28th Annual rally over the weekend of Saturday 12 and Sunday 13 April at the Dave Bennett Reserve in Muckleford.

The rally highlighted H.V. McKay-Sunshine engines and Ford/Fordson tractors this year. There were various attractions, including working machinery displays, a vintage carousel and even jumping castles for children. It was a great family day out and was well attended.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

Private Harold Johnson

MALDON born Harold Johnson was working in Echuca when he enlisted in the A.I.F. on 19 August 1914 and from that day he kept a diary recording his experiences of army life.

After a brief farewell visit home, Harold reported to the Broadmeadows Military Camp where he underwent two months of training. When it leaked out that the Victorian contingent, including Harold's 7th Battalion, were due to sail, many friends and relations gathered at Broadmeadows to watch the last drill parade. In the crowd were Harold's aunt and three cousins.

On the day before they sailed, the 7th Battalion travelled by train to Port Melbourne. They had no farewell parade but when their train stopped on the viaduct between Spencer and Flinders Street stations, the troops said goodbye to Melbourne by creating a ruckus, banging their rifle butts on the carriage floors.

At Port Melbourne the 7th Battalion boarded the troopship Hororata and spent the night at anchor in the Bay. The next morning, Monday 19 October, the first Victorian convoy steamed down the Bay. For Harold this was his first experience of the sea and, as a keen photographer, he took the opportunity to take snapshots of Sorrento and the Heads.

The passage to Albany was remarkably calm. Harold spent the time getting used to the cramped conditions and meeting old friends. He was however concerned for the horses on board. They were closely confined and he saw one destroyed after it fell and broke a leg.

The Victorian convoy reached Albany on Sunday 25 October. Only officers were allowed ashore, but Harold managed to replenish his photographic supplies by throwing an envelope containing a sovereign and a list of requirements to a young man on the wharf. Two days later a parcel arrived with all that he had asked for. As they waited for more troopships to arrive, the tedium on board the Hororata gave rise to regular fights among the men, one of which Harold managed to photograph.

On Sunday 1 November everyone was ordered to dress in khaki and line the decks to salute the transport flagship, Orvieto. In what he described as 'a sight of a lifetime', Harold counted 38 transports as they fell into line and left Albany Harbour flanked by many warships.

The convoy, originally destined for Europe, was redirected to Egypt to prepare for the Dardanelles campaign. Harold Johnson landed at Gallipoli on the morning of 25 April 1915. He was wounded three days later and evacuated to Alexandria where he died of his wounds on 2 May. Harold was the first soldier from Maldon to be killed in the Great War.

Top 'combo' take the prize

A smaller group arrived for our regular afternoon of Bridge this week due to Easter holiday break and it was pleasing to have Danny back 'at the helm', having travelled from his now Melbourne home to join us.

It was not long before the draw was completed and we once again settled down to challenge the cards on offer. Well! I must say they were an ordinary lot, with peculiar hands exposed and to try and assess the best bid to make was not easy. The absence of a particular suit or a lone suit card certainly had us a little perplexed at times. As it turned out, perhaps we should have been a bit more adventurous as it was evident that our winners were on the day.

Although Easter Bunny did not find us this year at our changed venue, our break for afternoon tea was enjoyed and a small treat of mini eggs was available for the taking. We are always happy to take the mid-game break and ponder on what we can do for the rest of play to gain the extra trick or two!

At the completion of play the scores were compiled and entered into the computer by Danny with the final results being as follows: in first place, with a very convincing score, were Danny and Newstead Jo with 60 points. Two very astute players who combined very well and 'left no stone unturned' to gain the extra trick needed! There was an equal second between Jan G, Newstead Kevin, Annie and Aileen with 42 points each. Mary and Werner were fourth with 36 points and fifth place went to Fred and Judy Mac with a score not to be mentioned!! Well done everyone.

With the Easter Festivities 'done and dusted' for another year, we extend huge congratulations to the Easter Fair Committee for their tireless efforts in organising all the events and activities. Very well done!

Until we meet again, that is it for this week.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday at the Senior Citizens Rooms 1pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavours to

TOMORROW there will be no IMT. Last Friday there was no IMT. We take public holidays seriously!

So why have an IMT column in the TT at all, we hear you asking. Well, could you confidently pick out our presenters on the street just by knowing their nickname or first name? Of course not, so look at the photo and learn.

Trotting into hearts: Horse the gentle giant is ready to gallop into your life with love

Meet Horse - a lovely young Greyhound X (potentially Great Dane) who is no more than 12 months old. Horse is a playful gentle giant who loves his people and doesn't realise how tall he really is! Horse is very interested in cats so a cat free home would probably be the safest option. Horse will need lots of exercise but is beautiful on the lead, he trots like a little pony! Our beautiful boy needs love and attention which he has lacked in the past. He is so easy to love and loves everyone meets. His adoption fee of $200 includes desexing, vaccinating, worming, microchipping and free registration for Central Goldfields Shire residents. M/C 978 142 000 356 311 Source Number: BR102780.

Library news

Library book sale

A reminder that the Library Book Sale will take place on Saturday April 26 from 9am, outside the library (97 High Street, next to the Post Office). This will be a busy weekend in Maldon, so we are hoping to get lots of customers. All proceeds support the Maldon Athenaeum Library and allow us to keep the lights on and purchase more books.

Joshua and Isobel with library volunteer Tina enjoying the Saturday Easter egg hunt at the library.

A follow up to Carmel Bird's talk

It was great to see so many people at the library in March to hear celebrated local author Carmel Bird talk about writing. She held us spellbound, listening to her read (beautifully) passages from some of her many books. Questions from the audience suggested that there was keen interest in the process of writing: how Carmel found her inspiration, carried out research and went about crafting the stories. We are very fortunate to have recently received several books that will provide help for anyone considering taking up writing, whether it is a family history, a novel or a set of short stories. These include books for budding authors on the art (and business) of screenwriting, how to go about conducting research, how to write short stories that sell and how to encourage a book to stay out of the rejection pile. You will find these new books in the Language & Communication collection.

Introducing library volunteer Jill Stockfeld

We must thank Fiona Farley for introducing Jill Stockfeld to the Maldon Athenaeum Library after they met on a bus trip. Jill has been a library volunteer for 18 months, but it seems that she has libraries in her blood. She has worked in libraries all her life, firstly as a teenager with a Saturday job shelving books, then as a library assistant, school library technician and public library Community Information Officer. In this role, she produced the community information directory and helped people to use the community information database. Later she maintained her connection with school libraries while working for Vipa Books, suppliers of children's and young adult books.

As well as carrying out general duties at the Athenaeum Library, Jill works with Fiona in the Children's Library, helping to select books for purchase and maintaining the library's catalogue. In addition, Jill carries out book repairs and provides dust jackets for books to make them more resistant to enthusiastic small hands. Jill is a keen reader of science fantasy books, both ones from the Athenaeum library and those recommended by members of her book club or purchased following the book talks she enjoys attending.

Fiona and Jill in the Children's Library Room.

Although it's great to have someone with Jill's years of experience, you don't need special credentials to become a library volunteer. Please consider joining us. You will receive training, meet new people, find a rewarding role and join an enthusiastic team. Drop in to see us whenever we are open (Monday, Wednesday and Friday 2pm-4pm, Saturday 9.30am to 12noon) or email maldonathenaeumlibrary@gmail.com.

Library Reviews

Unsettled by Kate Grenville, 2025

What does it mean to be on land taken from others? 'What does it mean to be on land that was taken from other people? Now that we know how the taking was done, what do we do with that knowledge?'

Kate Grenville is no stranger to the past. Her success and fame as a writer exploded when she published The Secret River in 2005, a bestseller based on the story of her convict ancestor, an early settler on the Hawkesbury River. More than two decades on, and following the defeat of the Voice referendum, Grenville is still grappling with what it means to descend from people who were, as she puts it, "on the sharp edge of the moving blade that was colonisation." So, she decides to go on a kind of pilgrimage, back through the places her family stories happened, and put the stories and the First People back into the same frame, on the same country, to try to think about those questions. This gripping book is the result of that journey.

Bone Lands by Pip Fioretti, 2024

1911, on a winter's night in arid New South Wales wool country, mounted trooper Augustus Hawkins discovers the bodies of three young people. They are scions of the richest family in the district, savagely murdered on a road that Hawkins should have been patrolling, had he not been busy bedding the local schoolteacher.

Detectives arrive from Sydney and the disgraced Hawkins, a traumatised veteran of the Boer War, comes under fierce scrutiny. With his honour and sanity at stake, he becomes hell-bent on finding the murderer. But as ever darker secrets are revealed about the people he thinks of as friends, Hawkins is forced to confront an uncomfortable question: who is paying the price for the new nation's prosperity?

Smoke by Michael Brissenden, 2024

After a brutal wildfire tears through the town of Jasper in the Californian sierras, a body is discovered in a shed. It looks like an open-and-shut case of accidental death until further investigation reveals that the victim was locked in from the outside.

Years after leaving Jasper, Detective Alex Markov has been sent back under the shadow of an LAPD corruption investigation. She is convinced that the man, a family friend, was murdered opportunistically under the cover of the fire. As the smoke clears, Alex reveals a town corrupt to its core – but exposing that corruption could destroy her and the people she loves. Will she ignore the crookedness and deceit, or face the consequences of pursuing an inconvenient truth?

Traitor's Gate by Jeffrey Archer, 2023

The Tower of London – impenetrable, well protected, secure. Home to the most valuable jewels on earth. But once a year, when the Queen attends the State Opening of Parliament, the Metropolitan Police must execute the most secret operation in their armoury as they transport the Crown Jewels across London.

For decades, the elite squad at Scotland Yard have been in charge of the operation. And for decades, it's run like clockwork. But this year, everything is about to change. Because a master criminal has set his sights on pulling off the most outrageous theft in history and with a man on the inside, the odds are in his favour. Unless the team can stop him before it's too late.

The Creeper by Margaret Hickey, 2024

For the last decade, the small mountain town of Edenville in Victoria's high country has been haunted by the horrific murders of five hikers up on Jagged Ridge. Also found dead near the scene was Bill 'Creeper' Durant, a bushland loner, expert deer-hunter and a man with a known reputation for stalking campers . . . murder-suicide. Case closed.

But as the 10-year anniversary of the massacre draws near, Detective Constable Sally White, the only officer at Edenville's modest police station, finds herself drawn into the dark world of the notorious Durant family. Lex Durant, in particular, has started to publicly protest his brother's innocence and accuse the police of persecution. As Sally combs the investigation to prove him wrong, it becomes all too clear that each murdered hiker had skeletons in their closet and possible enemies in their past.

JAMES, Trish

Our love and thoughts are with Harold and his family who have all been such a wonderful support to us over the years. Trish was Harold’s support through their lives together raising their 3 adventurous boys Daniel, Aaron and Jahred at Bradford Hills through their youth.
Together their family supported us through our own challenges and their combined warmth and family focus was no doubt amplified by Trish’s caring and no nonsense approach to life. To Maureen and Mac, who raised a wonderful daughter and whose memory will live on through her children and grandchildren we send our love.

Doggos OF THE Goldfields

Introducing our readers to their local doggies and what makes their tails wag!

TT: Ollie! Great to see you at the Maldon Easter Fair Grand Procession!

Ollie: Do you like my black and white jumper?

TT: Yes, you look dressed for a parade.

Ollie: No, I'm dressed as a magpie.

TT: We've never had a magpie doggo before.

Ollie: Hang on, I'm actually a lab crossed with a border collie.

TT: I'm so confused. I'd expect a border collie to be black and white...

Ollie: Yes. But I'm dressed like Alan, my grandpa.

TT: Is he a magpie or a border collie?

Ollie: Neither. He keeps his slippers in his room and he thinks I am so clever when I bring them down so he can put them on.

TT: Clever indeed, but I'm still not clear on the black and white.

Ollie: See? Alan's here at the parade and he is dressed in his magpie colours, too.

TT: Are you talking about that other kind of magpie?

Ollie: A Footy Magpie! The season has started and it's so exciting.

TT: Almost as exciting as the Maldon Easter Fair Grand Procession! Good luck with the footy, Ollie.

Ollie is our Doggo of the Week. 25 April, 2025.

Maldon Golf Club

THERE were some great results at the Easter Hole-in-one Competition and golfers really got into the swing of it!

Participation in this year's Hole-in-One event, a major activity within Maldon's Easter Fair Program, had been eagerly awaited by golfers.

Many visitors to Maldon during the Easter period are regular competitors and great supporters of this very enjoyable activity at Maldon Golf Club.

Maldon Golf Club members had volunteered many hours towards the preparation for this year's Hole-in-one event and were rewarded by great attendance over Saturday and Sunday from very enthusiastic golfers vying for the Community Bank Maldon and District $2,000 Bank account for a golfer achieving a hole-in-one.

In excess of 7,000 golf balls were hit to the green by golfers attempting this year's challenge and their efforts resulted in varying degrees of elation and disappointment.

A new initiative this year saw activities continue until 6pm with the Saturday Sunset Session. There were further attempts for a hole-in-one, sumptuous burgers from the BBQ, refreshments from the bar, and great music from The Complete Unknowns.

With no hole-in-one on Saturday, the closest attempt came from Darren Hitchcock—just 12.5cm (a mere 5 inches) from perfection. That near miss set the stage for fierce competition on Sunday, with players lining up for another crack at the $2,000 prize.

Golfers aplenty hit the tee-boxes from 10.30am on Sunday morning; obviously aware that the $2,000 was still on offer and within the hour at 11.15am, Geelong visitor Chris Hickey had the perfect shot with his trusty 8 iron and was rewarded with his 'ace'.

For the final hours, the big question was whether another hole-in-one would be achieved to force a play-off, or whether Chris's magic shot would be the best achievement. Each of the eight tee-boxes was in high demand as golfers sought to pursue the opportunity of scoring their 'ace'.

However, at close of hit-off at 4pm and despite all the best of intentions and efforts, no further 'ace' had been achieved.

After the BIG BANG

ON Easter Sunday the rain decided to stay away, despite the earth shattering thunder for a mere moment, just before the Piste Artistes were due to play. Before we started, Geoff gave everyone a handmade Easter chocolate, embossed with rabbits made by Marion, our favourite chocolatier.

Then, the fierce but friendly games commenced, with some very skilful coaching by Viv of newcomer Ash. Some of the games were not unlike the never-ending story, with scores creeping up point by point, while others were over in a flash.

The sand pit conditions in some parts of the Penny School piste tended to slow boules down somewhat. As Pétanque is an all-terrain game for all abilities, there were no complaints, just cries of woe as a boule stopped dead instead of rolling towards the cochonette.

At the end of the afternoon, the overall winners were Carole, Steve and André, with 2 wins and +12 points.

In second place were Maxeen, Mick and EC, with 1 win and +4 points. Geoff, Ash, and Viv, came third with 1 win and -2 points. Antoine, Marieanne, and Cazz were lucky last with 0 wins and -14 points. They were more than excited to win the losers' chocolates yet again.

Our next games will be on Sunday 4 May, at 1.45pm for a 2pm start on the Penny School Piste. TEXT 0459 093 452 if you would like to join in. New players are always welcome AND often win.

Maldon Football Netball Club

Round 1 – Maldon V Talbot @ Maldon (Good Friday)

Overview

EASTER 2025 saw beautiful weather across the board. The club was excited to be once again hosting a match on Good Friday and was eager to welcome a large crowd to match the match Vs Talbot.

Although results did not all go in our favour, a great day out was had by all. There were many kids (and some parents) sporting face painting and eating Easter eggs gathered at the Egg Hunt.

Football

Seniors

Maldon 11.10 - 76 Def by Talbot 29.11 - 185

Large crowds, warm weather and a good first quarter was exactly what the Maldon team was hoping for. Maldon started well with a 5 goal to 1 quarter time lead.

Second quarter did not go to plan for the Donners as the Talbot team dominated the term and piled on 11 goals.

After the haltime break Talbot continued with control of the game and put on a further 17 goals in the second half, completely out classing the young Maldon team.

As Maldon look to next week against Campbells Creek, they will be wanting to open their winning account for the year and play 4 quarters of football.

Best Players: Billy Johns, Noah Thompson, Xavier Noy, Darcy Kelly, Cal Buchanan, Coby Bennet.

Reserves

Maldon 1.0 - 6 Def by Talbot 18.13 - 121

The reserves had a tough day at the office. Supply out of the midfield was well held by the Talbot team making scoring difficult for our boys. They battled hard all day but didn't have the answers. Our back six were under pressure for most of the day and did their best.

Best Players: Matt Thomspson, Beau Brackley, Dylan Ross, Tate Webb, Callum Cross.

17.5s

Maldon 22.23 - 155 Def Talbot 2.0 - 12

The Under 17.5 boys came out of the blocks hard after the unfurling of the Premiership flag in our first home game for the season. The availability of some more numbers was welcomed as the boys surged to an 83 point lead at the main break. The back line was able to hold the Talbot side scoreless in the second half while the forwards went to works. A special mention needs to go to young Zack Dyer, stepping up to play up an age level and managing to snag himself a couple of goals which were celebrated enthusiastically with a back flip.

14.5s

Maldon 4.6 - 30 Def by Talbot 11.11 - 77

We came up against a strong Talbot team and gave it 110%, eventually going down by 47 points. The game was played in great spirits and was a solid contest all day. We never gave up and fought it out right until the final siren.

Our best player for the day was Callum McGee, who ran all game in the midfield and never stopped trying. He's in for a big season. Lucas Pascoe did a great job tagging until the last quarter, when he was just too exhausted to continue. He gave it absolutely everything.

Special mention to all the Under 11.5s who filled in—every single one of them got a possession. Their confidence will only grow from playing with the older kids.

Darcy played a great game—eight quarters of footy is a huge effort! Dylan jagged a goal and a point and looked lively up forward.

Over the next few weeks, we'll start getting a few players back from injury and time away and we should see a win on the board soon.

11.5s

Maldon 0 Def by Talbot 15.18 - 108

It was another warm and sunny day for football with Maldon hosting Talbot at home for Good Friday footy. Talbot arrived with a lot of junior players and were happy to share two players for both teams to field 17 players. Talbot were quick to move the ball forward and put Maldon under pressure, with Talbot scoring midway through the first quarter. Maldon were pushed to keep the opposition midfielders out of the play and were unable to capitalise with a score when getting the ball forward. With some key learnings taken from the game, Maldon now look to get their first win for the season at home against Campbells creek in round 3.

Netball

A Grade

Maldon 31 Def by Talbot 81

Today's efforts in the heat were not unnoticed. The continuing hard work by all was commended. We made some changes and the team fell in to place and the goals flowed. It was an awesome display of team work and team support. As all came together as one. Creating a united front.

Best on: Alice McManus

B Grade

Maldon 31 Def by Talbot 42

Today's game was a more even match up. We were able to hit the rung and drive the ball in with greater accuracy and our defence line up was on point working incredibly hard at every opportunity.

Best on: Heidi Brookes

C Grade

Maldon 21 Def by Talbot 28

C Grade encountered another challenging match this week, battling against the intense heat. The girls demonstrated resilience and persevered throughout the game. Each player showcased new skills acquired during their training sessions. It was a closely contested match, but Talbot managed to gain an advantage in the final quarter, while Maldon dealt with several injuries. The team received encouraging feedback and support from all members, highlighting the continuous improvement taking place each week.

Best on: Crystal Sanford

Under 17s

Maldon 34 Def Talbot 20

The U17s again proved they are in fine form with another impressive win over the Talbot girls. The defence was strong with Talbot having to work hard for every goal. Accuracy on goal proved the winner in this game. It was a close contest however the Maldon girls banded together to come away with a very good win.

Best Players: Phoenix Hall and Jess Davies

Under 15s

Maldon 33 Def Talbot 32

The U15s had an amazing game on the weekend they certainly came out of the blocks firing in a must win game this week. The defence was fabulous and the shooting was impressive. The team worked hard to get many turnovers with a nail biter of a game the girls were able to take the win by 1 goal to a very classy Talbot team.

Best Players: Leah Nalder and Melanie White

Under 13s

Maldon 11 Def by Talbot 37

There was a lot of excitement in the team for our first home game and a great crowd watching. The defence end worked hard to try to keep the ball out of their ring but Talbot were very accurate shooters. The middle court ran hard and fast with some very good intercepts from Chloe and Elsa.

Despite the heat everyone kept going all the way through the game and kept their heads up.

Best Player: Martha Gross

Under 11s

Maldon 3 Def by Talbot 18

The under 11s faced a tough game against Talbot. They all demonstrated great teamwork and fought for the ball until the very end. Despite having a loss, they were able to remain positive and were very encouraging towards each other. They look forward to improving for their next game.

Best on: Addi McKnight and Ella Cox
