Dangerous local road to be upgraded

Funding under the Australian Government's Black Spot Program is set to improve 47 dangerous crash sites on Victorian roads in 2022-23.

The state will receive $18.4 million under the Black Spot Program's 2022-23 funding round, including almost $2.2 million for the Bendigo electorate.

The local funding includes $1,200,847 for Fogartys Gap Road at Ravenswood South, one of the most dangerous roads in the electorate.

Federal Member for Bendigo, Lisa Chesters said the funding will be welcomed by the whole community.

"I'm relieved to announce funding to upgrade Fogartys Gap Road, this stretch of road has seen three fatalities in recent times," Ms Chesters said.

"In announcing these new projects, this government recognises the importance of working with the Victorian government to partner with local councils to deliver the program in the state."

Councillor for Tarrengower Ward, Stephen Gardner, said,

"After many years of lobbying by council it was great to see Lisa Chesters announce funding to finish the upgrading of Fogartys Gap Road off to the intersection with the Calder Highway and I was very happy to support this."

Cr Gardner told the Times that traffic along the narrow and dangerous road has increased, and bike riders are now a common sight.

"Council has prioritised Fogartys Gap Road as its number

The Castlemaine Group of Bendigo Legacy, which was formed in 1958, provides support to over 70 war widows and their families throughout the Mount Alexander shire, including Maldon widows, in many ways, providing home visits, financial support for home and appliance needs, financial support for energy bills, Christmas gifts, and Christmas Luncheon.

Donations are also welcome, and if you miss making it to the stands on the day, can be made at Maldon Newsagency.

Warral Maldon Gift Shop

DID you know there is a gift shop on Boundary Road in Maldon?

According to Lindsay, his partner Kelly was the mastermind behind the shop's design, which uses old beehives as shelving for the honey, Honey Logs, beeswax and candles. The shop also sells Warral merchandise; truckers' caps, t-shirts and insulated keep-cups.

There are also some fascinating beekeeping artefacts, such as an old reducer and an unused wax press; a glimpse into the history and development of beekeeping.

Make sure you pop down to the shop and pick up a gift or two and a tub of their delicious honey.

one road, to be upgraded under the black spot program for the last five years, but it was never supported by the Australian government. Council recently upgraded a large section of Fogartys Gap Road, but assistance was required to finish it off," said Cr Gardner.

The Black Spot Program funds safety measures such as traffic signals and roundabouts at locations where a number of serious crashes are known to have occurred or are at risk of occurring.

The 47 Black Spot projects across Victoria will make an important contribution toward reducing serious injuries and deaths on local roads and build on previous investments in the state.

Black Spot Consultative Panels provide the opportunity for stakeholders to have a say in the project selection process and ensure that nominations of the highest priority and importance to the local community are recommended for approval.

Ms Chesters has recently been appointed Chair of the Victorian Black Spot Consultative Panel.

Revitalising Old Bank Corner

☆ Council will be temporarily closing Old Bank Corner for approximately two weeks from Monday 9 September to undertake works.

NEW plants, furniture upgrades and an enhanced pavement surface are a few of the improvements on the way for Maldon's much-loved public space, Old Bank Corner.

Mount Alexander Shire Council will be temporarily closing Old Bank Corner for approximately two weeks from Monday 9 September to undertake the works.

Existing outdoor furniture will be temporarily removed during this time to enable the works to take place.

Old Bank Corner is situated on the corner of High and Main Streets and was transformed into a public park in 2021 to help local businesses cater for more patrons while meeting COVID-19 restrictions.

The vibrant outdoor space was fitted with trees, bench-style seating, low tables and upcycled planter boxes to provide a safe, outdoor space for the community to meet.

Castlemaine business The Salvage Yard used reclaimed materials for the site, which included locally sourced steel tanks from Baringhup and timber from the Castlemaine-Maldon rail line.

Since being established, Old Bank Corner has been host to a number of free, family-friendly gigs by local musicians and, in 2021, was awarded 'Best Regional Main Street' in the Mainstreet Australia Awards.

Old Bank Corner has proven to be a successful project and is well-loved amongst Maldon residents. It was essential in building community connections and reducing social isolation during the challenges posed by COVID-19.

The upcoming works aim to make the space more welcoming and accessible so it can continue to be enjoyed over the warmer months and into the future.

To find out more about other works happening in Maldon as part of the Maldon Streetscape Revitalisation Project, visit mountalexander.vic.gov.au/maldonstreetscapeproject.

What are your thoughts on upgrading Old Bank Corner? Write a letter to the Editor: editor@tarrangowertimes.com.au.

Young at Heart Playgroup

THE Young at Heart Playgroup, originally designed to connect young children with residents at the Maldon hospital, has been running for over seven years and now has more than 22 families, parents, grandparents and carers attending with their young children.

Unfortunately, due to COVID, the playgroup hasn't been able to visit the hospital, but that hasn't stopped the children from connecting with the residents, with special hand-made gifts and Christmas cards sent to hospital residents, who wrote back to the children telling them what life was like when they were young.

This year the playgroup has participated in the National Simultaneous Story Time and has started toddler-time sessions with visits from the Castlemaine Library.

Coordinator of the playgroup, Brenda Misso, said, "Many of the parents have said they enjoy the social aspects of the group, the new friendships they've made and watching their children's interactions with everyone."

"Being able to talk with other parents about our children's development and the parenting journey has been a big bonus as well."

The group now meets every Wednesday (during school terms) from 10am to 11.30 at the Maldon Neighbourhood Centre.

All parents/carers of children from birth to preschool age are welcome to come along, get to know other parents and participate in playtime.

☆ Members of the playgroup enjoy toddler-time sessions, run by the Castlemaine Library.

New directions for Cactus Warriors

☆ Dying wheel cactus plant.

OVER the past 16 years, the Tarrangower Cactus Control Group has achieved remarkable success in increasing knowledge about wheel cactus in our local area, and how to keep the problem under control. Now, in this new era of change, the TCCG Committee has decided to plan some different approaches and objectives for our future.

These changes are brought about by many factors, including having achieved most of our original objectives, the overwhelming logistics of running large field days and the desire to have landowners and managers, both public and private, take more responsibility for the control of wheel cactus on their land.

The major changes we are implementing are, limiting our large community field days to two per year and instead focusing on supporting smaller, casual groups treating areas of wheel cactus that they find and by providing information and education via stalls at community events such as the Maldon Market and Maldon and Baringhup Agricultural Show.

We will be maintaining many of our actions, such as continuing to educate and advise new landowners, continuing to provide equipment loans and support to community members willing to kill wheel cactus and continuing to assist Parks Victoria in controlling re-infestations in the Maldon Historic Reserve.

We'll also continue to liaise with council and state government departments for action on the wheel cactus problem and actively promote the wheel cactus issue via TV and radio media, our website, Facebook and wheel cactus control brochure distribution, etcetera.

We have five more events planned for this year which include: a small-scale field day on 28 August, an info stall at Maldon Market on 11 September, an info stall at Maldon Baringhup Ag Show on 16 October, a community field day in Maldon Historic Reserve on 23 October and our AGM on 27 November.

We welcome community members who need help with a wheel cactus problem, especially anyone who is new to our area, to please email us via our website at www.cactuswarriors.org.

Friends of CHIRP

CHIRP Community Health relocated from Mostyn Street to the Castlemaine Health site in June 2022 and operates from Spencely House. A Community Health Information Hub has also been established at Castlemaine Community House in Templeton Street.

The Friends of CHIRP are now seeking feedback from community members about how they are adapting to using community health services at the new sites.

"The Friends have been receiving anecdotal feedback, and we would now like to obtain feedback from a wider range of people," said Margaret Griffin, Convenor of the Friends of CHIRP.

"It can take time for people to adjust to changes in services which they are familiar with. We want to know what is working for people and what isn't."

The Friends have advocated for strong and viable community health services since 2019.

We maintain regular contact with CHIRP Community Health (Dhelkaya Community Health).

The Friends are seeking feedback using a survey which is available online at our Friends of CHIRP Facebook page. A hard copy can be picked up at Spencely House or the Community Health Information Hub, or you can ring Margaret Griffin on 03 5472 2855 and provide your responses over the phone. If you would like to receive the link by email you can contact us at friendsofchirp@gmail.com.

The Friends would like to receive responses by Friday, 30 September 2022.

Steve's Wine pick

John Gehrig
Wines
Rutherglen 2017
'RG' Durif

Although Durif today is almost non-existent in France, it has become synonymous with North East Victoria, making a full-bodied dry red with a rich, plummy aroma and strong mouthfeel. This outstanding wine, selected from the Gehrig Gooramadda vineyard at Rutherglen, is badged 'RG' by fifth-generation winemaker Ross Gehrig as his personal expression of premium Rutherglen Durif. Bursting with strong tannins and flavour, it's a perfect match to hearty meat dishes – think roast beef and stews – game dishes and mature hard cheeses.

Awarded silver medals at the 2019 Victorian Wine Show and 2021 Royal Melbourne Wine Show, the wine is drinking well right now or can be confidently cellared for five years or more. As always, decanting is recommended!

Castlemaine Central Wine Store is committed to sourcing great wines from smaller family-owned producers that you may not easily find elsewhere. Cheers!

Beekeepers from around Australia rally together to eradicate parasitic mite

☆ Local beekeeper and owner of Warral Maldon, Lindsay Callaway.

THE presence of Varroa Mite (a parasite of adult honey bees that weakens and kills colonies and can also transmit viruses) has exacerbated and magnified the regular stresses of beekeeping in Australia. Unfortunately, this year there is a huge shortfall of hives to assist with pollination, which could dramatically impact on the almond industry, other food suppliers and local beekeepers.

The importance of managed honey bees as the main ignition point of our food security is becoming more evident. This year the Victorian almond industry will be short up to 60 per cent of their normal hives delivered, placing concerns about the nut set and future crop.

Fifth-generation beekeeper, owner and Managing Director of Warral Maldon, Lindsay Callaway, told the Times, “We will have to help clients spread the bees over more drops. This year the spread will be much smaller loads. But the bees will give it a red hot go to spread the love!

“Almond trees have a certain number of flowers that are pollinated; they then shed fruit through different stages of the maturing process.

“Fingers crossed, the trees will get enough pollination and shed accordingly. The proof will be in the pudding”, said Lindsay.

Warral currently has 500 hives (with 50,000 bees per hive) stuck in NSW due to the border closure, which has resulted in an instant cash flow reduction for the commercial beekeeping business.

“Even though I’d like to, I’m reluctant to take more bees to NSW, where my canola crop clients are; however, I am able to use the bees that are already there,” said Lindsay.

“I’ve restructured my plans to account for the situation, building more hives, chasing honey flows instead of pollination and looking after hives in Victoria and trying to make the best of the situation.

“The border closure is frustrating and means the business can’t function how it needs to. Having the border closed makes it difficult to get to where the ‘ball’ is (to speak in footy terms).

“Lead by beekeeper volunteers from around Australia, the eradication effort is progressing well; however, if NSW can’t contain Varroa Mite, then it will eventually be everywhere in time, including Victoria.”

Lindsay, two staff members and another commercial apiarist volunteered their time in July to assist with the eradication of Varroa Mite. They became temporary authorised officers, working alongside 12 volunteer Queensland commercial beekeepers and went into the field, conducting surveillance on beehives near infected premises.

The positive news is that, in addition to the volunteer beekeepers from around Australia, the Department of Primary Industries (DPI) in NSW is working tirelessly, and beekeepers from all around Australia are helping, with between 40 to 80 volunteers on the ground at any one time.

At present, bees are still allowed to move around NSW through the blue zones (where Varroa Mite hasn’t been detected) with a permit. Bees in the purple zone (a 25-kilometre radius of mite detection) are unable to be moved and are under

2022 Emergency Response Expo

ARE you looking for information on how to prepare for emergencies? Perhaps you’re interested in volunteering with our emergency services?

Come along to the Emergency Response Expo to find out how you can prepare for emergencies, get advice directly from first responders and find out who is there to help you.

- The expo is a free community event where you will find:
- trucks and other vehicles that support our community during times of crisis
  - information on how to prepare your property for flooding, storms and bushfire
  - learn how to prepare and care for your pets and wildlife in an emergency
  - find out how to keep safe around the campfire
  - presentations from our emergency services organisations
  - volunteers who can help you get involved locally, and
  - food, drinks, live entertainment and kids activities.

“We all know that disasters are unforeseeable. Whether it’s the season for floods and storms or bushfires, you need to know exactly what to do,” said Luke Ryan, Council’s Emergency Management Coordinator.

“This is a great chance to meet your local emergency service organisations and have your questions answered by professionals. It’s also a good way for new and existing residents to gain a better understanding of local emergency risks and how to prepare for them,” said Mr Ryan.

“The expo is a perfect opportunity to engage with emergency services and increase your preparedness for all emergencies,” said Claire Collie from Safer Together’s Community Based Bushfire Management Program”.

What: Castlemaine Emergency Response Expo
When: Saturday 8 October, 11am – 3pm
Where: Western Reserve, Castlemaine
Entry fee: gold coin donations to the local CFA and SES are welcome

Local organisations and businesses that are involved in emergencies directly or indirectly, and would like to be involved in this event, are encouraged to contact Zac Abbott at Mount Alexander Shire Council on z.abbott@mountalexander.vic.gov.au.

The expo is hosted by Mount Alexander Shire Council and the Castlemaine SES Unit in partnership with Victoria State Emergency Service, Country Fire Authority, Fire Rescue Victoria, Forest Fire Management Victoria and Victoria Police.

surveillance, and those in the red zone (a 10-kilometre radius) are being euthanised.

As of Monday, 22 August, DPI teams will be working in the Central Coast, Hunter Valley and Newcastle Eradication zones to carry out widespread euthanasia actions. In Victoria, regular mite checks are being undertaken as required.

Lindsay told the Times that during peak season, Warral has three and half thousand hives, which equals 200 million bees. “That’s some serious pollination power there! We sent all of our bees off for almond pollination in early August, and they will be picked up in four weeks’ time. After that, they will be moved to canola or yellow gum in central Victoria.

“Commercial beekeepers are champions because we’re pollinating the food that feeds Australians. The industry is highly resilient, punching above its weight, and it will bounce back. If mite eradication is achieved, we’ll high-five each other and be the first and only country to ever eradicate Varroa from our mainland. If Varroa Mite is not eradicated, well, that’s the end of an era of beekeeping in Australia, but we’ll still say- let’s go, beekeeping life will be a little different, though.”

RCVC desexing day - another win for animal welfare

☆ Dr Yvette Berkely and volunteer vets and vet nurses from Vets for Compassion generously donated their time last Sunday, desexing 28 cats on RCVC’s second cat desexing day.

ON Sunday, 21 August, Regional Community Vet Clinic held their second free cat desexing day thanks to a donation received in May specifically for cat desexing, with a total of 28 cats desexed.

RCVC was delighted to welcome volunteer vets and vet nurses from Vets for Compassion, who assisted Dr Yvette Berkely a director of RCVC, castrate 11 male cats and spay 16 females. The de-sexing of 16 females means RCVC has prevented the birth of approximately 400 kittens in the next 12 months. RCVC also handled an unexpected wildlife emergency, helping local wildlife rescuers with critical care of a juvenile kangaroo who had been caught in a fence.

RCVC Director Robyn Slattery and volunteers spent the day hard at work looking after cats from as far away as Maryborough. This free desexing program is saving generations of misery by preventing the births of unwanted kittens and is also saving the lives of thousands of birds and native animals who become prey to cats.

Director James Mack said, “Despite not yet having a permanent home, RCVC will continue to operate pop-up clinics and will shortly launch its outreach program assisting elderly and frail residents to care for their companion animals and maintain the vital human-animal bond”.

Regional Community Vet Clinic is working towards building a not-for-profit, low-cost vet clinic in Campbells Creek, with a grant of $200,000 announced in April from the Victorian State government, giving them a big boost towards the estimated $400,000 building cost.

RCVC is a not-for-profit, and all donations over $2 are tax deductible. If you’d like to help RCVC get their project started soon, you can donate via their MyCause page at <https://rcvc.org.au/donate/>.

The aim of RCVC is to establish facilities that provide affordable, quality veterinary care for companion animals when their owners are experiencing social disadvantage or financial hardship in Central Victoria. It is hoped the RCVC clinic will be up and running by the end of 2023.

If you would like to volunteer or would like to contact RCVC personally, please email them at info@rcvc.org.au or ph:0493 447 394.

Vietnam Veterans Day

LAST Thursday, 18 August, servicemen/women commemorated all the battles fought by Australians in Vietnam, from large-scale operations to platoon and section-level encounters.

Those gathered remembered the sailors of the Royal Australian Navy who supported land operations and members of the Royal Australian Air Force who served in combat and transport roles.

Kevin Moschetti spoke to those gathered before reciting In Flanders Fields by John McCrae. “On Vietnam Veterans’ Day, we pause and reflect on the bravery, teamwork and endurance that Australians displayed throughout the war,” Mr Moschetti said.

“We honour those veterans who lost their lives during battle, returned home wounded, ill or injured, lost their lives in the years since they returned, and still carry the physical and emotional scars of their service. We also pause to reflect on the impact of service on veterans’ families.”

In Flanders Fields by John McCrae

In Flanders fields, the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Thank You

Thank you Mount Alexander Funerals, Brian and Lyn Leidle, Maree, Ross Harding and Ron Stone (celebrant).

We would like to express our appreciation not only for Violet's service but also for the days leading up to it. You are all kind and caring.

To Sean Keenan, who played beautiful music.

Maldon RSL, Sharon and Peter for their attendance and reciting the Ode.

Gavin Alexander for recording the service for my family in England.

John at the Neighbourhood Centre who was very helpful in providing access to the hall.

Our dear friends who were there for us after Violet's passing, for their love and support that was a great comfort.

Jan and Edward

Thank You Maldon Hospital

To all the aged care staff at the Maldon Hospital who cared for my mum Violet with dedication, kindness and empathy, making mum's time there since March 2020 the best it could be.

Mum passed away on Sunday evening, 7 August 2022. What I experienced and witnessed was simply unbelievable; nothing was ever any trouble. They were always at hand to help, and the level and regularity of care was something that I had never seen nor imagined could exist. They made Mum's final weeks comfortable.

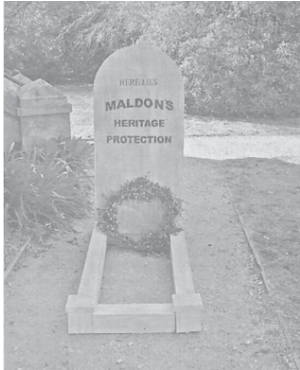

I wish I could name you all; however, there were many changes and very difficult circumstances over the last two and a half years. You have something very, very special going on in your facility in Maldon, and I know the team work extremely hard to provide a wonderful service. I hope the entire team feel valued as you deserve; I certainly value you all and always will.

THANK YOU to Doctor Max, who first admitted Mum after her fall and was there when she was suffering delirium towards the end, for his kindness and understanding.

THANK YOU to Doctor Fowler, who guided and advised me in the early days of the best decision for Mum for her safety, to remain in care and not return home to live on her own. Without this decision, it would have been extremely difficult during the COVID outbreaks, and this resulted in the best care possible for Mum.

Lost heritage

It is with interest that, given the current happenings with Maldon's streetscape, I have been re-reading Brad Hooper's article 'A bid to identify and protect our common heritage' (TT 24 January 2020) and consider its relevance with the visual changes that are undergoing to Maldon's CBD. Brad looks at the various ways in which heritage is lost – it can be sudden but planned; sudden but unplanned, incremental by stealth, incremental by design, or incremental by neglect – much of which can rarely be reversed. The last two ways in which heritage is lost can almost happen before we realise what we have lost. Whereas, with either planned change, or incremental by stealth, there may be some warnings as to what is happening, whether by advertisement by the planning authority or by concerned residents taking note of what is happening around them.

This then leads to the question: is Maldon in need of a fully updated conservation/heritage study of the town and the former shire of Maldon areas, which has been sadly neglected just like the heritage by the authorities who are charged with the legislative protection of it? The study would identify what we have as well as determining its significance along with how it should be protected now and into the future. Then there is the documented history and heritage that would add a layer to the physical landscape artefacts and assist with the interpretation.

So whose responsibility is it to stand up and be counted in relation to the heritage that surrounds us all? And how do we get the heritage recorded and protected? Perhaps the shire council needs to step up and be counted as well and protect the 'old heritage' as well as planning for Cr Gardner's 'new heritage', or should we just put Maldon's heritage to rest as reported and pictured in the TT on the 24 April 2009?

New Maldon entry sign not following heritage guidelines

I found it interesting that council has not followed Maldon Heritage Guidelines in the new design options for the town entry sign. MALDON DESIGN GUIDELINES - 1998 SCHEDULE 6 - ADVERTISING SIGNS states:

'RAISED CAPITALS: While the general practice was to use uniform capital letters, some small number of signs have words set out in capitals but with the first letter (and sometimes the last) slightly taller than the other letters.

The lettering faces on signs were sometimes given additional character by flaring the letters, by presenting them as shaded faces, by highlighting parts of the letters, or by giving the letters cast shadows. In addition to these devices, words were sometimes arranged as a waving pattern.'

The old sign uses capital letters, so why have council themselves chosen not to follow the heritage guidelines?

I'd also be interested to know who decided on the two designs out of the 30 submitted.

Never just a dog

Just like to let you know that Dolly, our little white Staffy passed away recently. I'm sure that there are a lot of locals who will recognise her. If Dolly could have spoken, it would be, 'give us a pat', and when we were in town having coffee, she was everyone's friend greeting all with a big smile.

Dolly made the Melbourne Papers when she was quite young. She had a life-saving operation, the first time done in Australia. It was a liver shunt via keyhole surgery. She was, at eight years, the oldest surviving dog from having this groundbreaking procedure.

We were regulars of the Baringhup Sunday Dog Walking Group and would like to send special thanks to them all for their kind words of support.

Dolly had three wonderful years in Maldon, following us all over Tarrengower Hills.

Fresh Roo poo was a treat to eat or roll in - a favourite pastime.

I know some people will say she's just a dog, but then there are the dog lovers out there who will understand.

They are never just a dog.

'THEY ARE YOUR DOG'.

So your pet needs a dental...what does this involve?

YOU may have been told during a routine veterinary check that your dog or cat needs a dental. This means that signs of dental disease have been detected, such as a build-up of calculus, gingivitis (gum inflammation) or tooth decay.

As humans, we brush our teeth every day and have our teeth professionally cleaned and scaled at the dentist once or twice a year. While it is possible to brush our pet's teeth, this is often too difficult or time-consuming to be done regularly to make a difference. Hence over time, it is inevitable that their teeth will need a scale and polish to address dental disease and deal with rotten teeth.

A lot of people ask, why does a dog or cat need to be under anaesthetic to have their teeth cleaned? There are many reasons for this:

1. We need them to hold still - if you've ever tried to brush your dog or cat's teeth, you can appreciate how hard it is to do anything around their mouth. A dental involves probing under the gum line to assess gum recession, probing teeth for decay, ultrasonic scaling and polishing.
2. We need to protect their airway - scaling and polishing teeth involves a lot of water, just like when we have our own teeth scaled at the dentist. Therefore, we need to be able to ensure they can maintain their breathing without panicking. They have an endotracheal tube placed while under anaesthesia to keep their airway open and prevent them from inhaling water.

3. It hurts to have teeth extracted - once they are under anaesthesia, we are able to determine whether there are any rotten teeth that need extracting, and this is quite often the case. Extracting teeth is not easy; it involves injecting local anaesthetic, cutting into the gum to access the roots, sectioning the tooth using a burr in order to remove each tooth root separately, and sometimes burring into the bone to remove retained roots.

The dental machines that veterinarians use are the same as the machines that human dentists use. So next time you're sitting in the dentist's chair, imagine your pet going through the same process and how difficult it would be if they weren't anaesthetised. It is understandable to have concerns about putting your pet under anaesthesia, which is why it's important for your pet to see a veterinarian for a full health check and discussion about potential anaesthetic risks and what can be done to minimise them. If you'd like more information on ways to keep your pet's teeth clean or to book your pet in for a health and dental check, give us a call on 54 751 751.

Know Your Local - Frank Forster

After that, I moved to Melbourne and worked at an industry association. There were a lot of small high-tech manufacturers who developed a whole network in the early 90s, taking on trade missions and early co-op research centres, promoting Australia's high-tech advanced manufacturing.

I then went on to work as an International Market Manager for a company that was selling to America, Europe and Asia.

I've been married twice, first when I came to Australia, and after that, I met Angie at an office we both worked at on St Kilda Road. We were married in 1990, so we've been married for 32 years. Angie has two children from a former marriage, and we have a daughter, Aspen (named after the ski resort I stayed at in the US), who has just turned 30.

Despite the strength of a relationship, there are not many couples who can run a business together, and we've run two.

We had 'She Sells Seafood' in Castlemaine for nine years. During that time, we spent a lot of time contemplating sustainability, and we often had customers asking about sustainably sourced fish. I got fairly interested in the issue, first, as it related to the food industry and then more broadly. Outside of work, I became involved in the Mount Alexander Sustainability Group, which at that time was looking at building a community wind farm.

When we sold the business, I was in my 50s and didn't want to retire, I wanted to find something intellectually stimulating, and someone asked if I was interested in starting up a renewable energy business. We started at the top end of Barker Street in Castlemaine. I could see an opportunity, and that this would be the way of the future.

When I'm not eating, breathing and dreaming of renewable energy? Mountain bike riding is my escape. I'm part of the Castlemaine Rocky Riders, and there are so many great places around Castlemaine, Maldon, Muckleford and Harcourt.

Of course, I've broken things; that goes with the territory. In the last six years, I've broken a collar bone and elbow and had cracked ribs. My wife knows that I'll come home with cuts and scrapes.

Five to six years ago, I used to ride a lot harder, but as you get older, the body doesn't recover as quickly, so I'm a little more conservative now. However, I do still ride the black diamond rock trails (there are green circles for beginners, blue squares for an intermediate, black diamond for an advanced and double black diamond for the really extreme!).

The technology in mountain bikes these days is fantastic; there are dual suspension and stiff frames. The mechanics of it all is very forgiving, which enables people to ride technical trails more safely. If you look back at videos from the 80s, there was no suspension or decent brakes; they were complete daredevils!

I also used to present a regular radio program on Main FM called 'Independence Incarcerated', featuring a lot of Indi music and was able to attend many big festivals between 2006- 2014; Meredith, Falls, Splendour, Laneways etcetera. That was great fun. The whole scene has moved on now, and the demographic has changed."

If you're interested in hearing more about renewable energy, tune in to MainFM on Tuesday mornings to listen to 'Hearsay', where Suzanne Donisthorpe interviews Frank once a month.

☆ Frank pictured outside the EnviroShop in Newstead

OWNER of the EnviroShop in Newstead, Frank's passion and knowledge about all things renewable are astounding. There is an increasing demand for renewable energy, and Frank believes that the best starting point is to understand your energy usage and ways to improve efficiency before upgrading systems.

"Everyone wants a magic wand, but there's no magic fix for anyone. Australia has so many advantages, such as space, sunshine, and truckloads of coastline, and with the development of undersea cables, there's the possibility of supplying green energy to other countries. Australia has smart people and good academic research capability; we can definitely move towards being smarter, cleaner and greener.

I grew up in Auckland, New Zealand, and after high school, I moved to the South Island to the city of Dunedin with the intent of becoming a doctor, but Dunedin was a very university-oriented town. With all the attractions and distractions (whichever way you look at it), the social aspects and student politics in the 70s, so I started studying history and politics, which I found to be less academic and more socially interactive.

Then I travelled overseas, to Australia and the US for a year, a working holiday. I spent winter skiing in a resort in Colorado and travelled during the summer. I bought a 'Rambler', a huge, dark green station wagon, for $500. I used to roll out the sleeping bag in the back at night time.

Then I moved to Australia in 1982, initially in Canberra, where I studied my master's in political science at the Australian National University before working in Canberra for six years in the Department of Trade.

I did a lot of research, preparing briefs for ministers etcetera. This was during the time of the Hawke/Keating government, and the public service was dynamic, with a lot of new initiatives. I really enjoyed that for a while.

Maldon Primary School Annual Athletics Carnival

Last Friday, 19 August, Maldon Primary School held the annual Athletics Carnival. This day is always eagerly looked forward to by students, staff and parents. Prior to the carnival, students and staff attend preparation house meetings where the singing of chants echo through the school, posters and decorations are created, and team spirit fills the air. This year was particularly special as it marked the first time since 2019 that we have been able to run this annual event, and we were so happy to invite parents/carers to be involved and cheer along with us! Across the day, students from grades prep to six competed in a wide variety of events including: short and long-distance running, relays, hurdles, long jump, javelin, discus, and shot put.

All members of the school came together in houses, and not only did we have some great personal best times and distances throughout the day, the cheering and encouragement from everyone was a standout! It was a day of joy, challenge and celebration of everything that Maldon PS represents and values – Be kind, Be brave, Be your best!

Congratulations to Franklin House, who took the win for the day with the most points overall. The day was a true success, and we are thankful to everyone who was able to help out and join in. Thank you to the staff for organising such a successful event.

Scarlett, “It was super fun. I really liked doing hurdles and running. Team Franklin did a good job and good job to the other teams for having a go.”

Maci, “It was really exhilarating, and I really like sport.”

Athena, “I was really scared doing the hurdles, so I did tiny jumps.”

Meg, “Franklin’s the best.”

Dean, “Nuggety lost, but we did our best.”

HELLO Maldon library followers. Along with the great reads we have listed below for you this week, we have some news about an exciting new activity that we are going to trial at the library. We have decided to start a Scrabble Club at the library. Initially, we will trial Saturday mornings from 11am - 1pm, commencing on 2 September. All are welcome to come along and join in the fun of this wonderful word game. We have some Scrabble sets available, and you are welcome to bring your own sets as well. Tea, coffee and nibbles will be available, and we will ask for a gold coin donation to play.

Among the new additions to our library shelves, you'll find these three fascinating books by Australian writers. The first two, by local authors, are recently published memoirs of very different kinds. The third, published almost a decade ago, is a poignant, award-winning novel set in Tasmania.

Telltale by Carmel Bird

Confined to her own library during the lockdown, Castlemaine-based author Carmel Bird revisited her bookshelves and stirred her memories to write this memoir contemplating the importance of books and reading throughout her life. Recurring motifs of bridges and peacocks evoke memories that serve as a springboard to books read and books written and to wide-ranging ruminations on topics such as her childhood in Tasmania, Australia's first people, Hiroshima. Memories send her searching through her extensive but disorganised collection ☆ Frank and Nick in the studio last week.

TODAY Nancy and Mike look forward to meeting Porcupine Village star Deb Baird. Nancy will also be asked for a full report on the dinner at the 'soft launch' of the Golden Nugget.

Last Friday, Nancy and EC had the enlightening experience of learning all about EVs, battery charging and the life of solar panels, which is around 40 years. We wondered where a good place for a community battery for Maldon could be, maybe on the big lawn at the lower Tarrangower Village, where it would be out of sight from the road - and heritage restrictions - particularly if disguised as a woodshed. To hear more, go to Mixcloud at the address below. We learned SO MUCH from Frank Forster and Nick Jackson! We'd like you to, too!

Next Friday, EC and Alison meet Donna-Marie Wood, manager of the Kangaroo Hotel.

of books, and the books found – or those that eluded her – in turn, evoke new memories. Through this intertwining, Telltale provides fragmentary insights into Bird's life, thoughts and writing techniques. It is an exquisite literary meander for those who, like Bird, are captivated by words, imagery and symbolism.

Along the Coliban: A Journey Through Landscape and Time by Brian Coman and Harry Oldmeadow

This stylishly produced book presents a series of portraits of the Coliban River and its more recent history through the personal experiences of two people. Brian Coman, drawing on his lifelong association with the river, wrote the text, and Harry Oldmeadow took the photographs that sumptuously illustrate the book throughout. Coman and Oldmeadow's aim is primarily to portray the natural beauty of the river from its source near Lyonsville 'little more than a swampy depression' until it empties itself into Lake Eppalock. As they trace its journey through the landscape, they also tell of some of its history since colonisation – from observations by Major Mitchell to the construction of reservoirs and channels – all of which inevitably and irrevocably changed the river and its surrounding vegetation. Published this year, the book will appeal to those interested in local geography, recent history and feats of engineering, or those who just want to enjoy beautiful photos of the Coliban River.

Set in a small Tasmanian fishing community, this stunning debut novel published in 2011 tells a devastating story of

MALDON BRIDGE CLUB

IS BRIDGE A MIND GAME?

RESEARCHERS have discovered ... that mentally challenging games such as bridge are well suited for older people because the games offer intellectual and social stimulation on a routine basis. Bridge's intricacies make it particularly appealing for those who want to sharpen acuity with mental gymnastics.

Is that so? So that is why we play the game of bridge! Our bridge group, and many others, I suspect, comprise a variety of members with diverse backgrounds in life, but all come together to enjoy the challenge and interaction within the group each week. Age is not a barrier, as this week's results will indicate.

The scoring was mentally challenging this week as our computer guru Danny was away, and Ken and Werner took up the challenge to coordinate the scoring. As we completed each round, we were mindful of writing in the correct scores to make it easier to total at the end of the afternoon session.

The scores were in, and it was time to read the placings. Alas! The computer decided to take control and refused to divulge the totals! Now, this was mentally challenging for Ken, who worked feverishly to total the scores without the aid of the computer.

Hello! Hello! Are we ready? Came the call. After announcing the placings, there was a slight problem as the computer then decided it would take control again and displayed a different winner, by one point! Hang on! Change of results for the top two placings!

All that said, it was great to have Lillian and Liz announced as the final winners with 71 points. Let age be no barrier as Lillian is our most senior member, Liz a few years younger, and they combined very well to earn the top prize. Second place went to Aileen and Ken with 70 points, followed by Mary and Newstead Jo with 64 points. There was an equal fourth between Gretchen and Lyn along with Castlemaine Jan and Judy Mac with 62 points each.

Our dear friend Mark celebrated another birthday, and we hope he had a great day.

Our Maldon Hotel hosts never let us down and provided delicious scones, jam and cream, which we all enjoyed. Thank you, we appreciate your efforts each week.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday from 12.45pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavour to neglect, abuse and tragedy. Parrett's sparse prose evokes the isolated beauty of the landscape and the harsh, unforgivingness of the ocean. It captures the boys' voices at the heart of the narrative – their loneliness, desperation and fear. Some years earlier, when Harry, the youngest, was too young to remember, their mother was killed in a car crash, leaving the boys at the mercy of their brutal father. Miles tries to look after his younger brother, tries to protect him from their father, and tries to save him, but ultimately heartbreaking, tumultuous tragedy unfolds. This is a beautifully written, finely crafted story of bonds forged in adversity, of brotherly love and brotherly burden.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

The Oswald Ward

☆ Oswald Ward.

When local mine owner Robert Dent Oswald Snr died in 1891, he bequeathed £500 to the Maldon Hospital. Five years later, an inspection of the hospital revealed a long list of urgent repairs required to the buildings. During a discussion about what should be done, hospital committee member William Broughall suggested that the best approach would be to pull down the old, dilapidated benevolent ward and use Oswald's bequest to replace it with a new wing.

Broughall's proposal was supported by Oswald's son, Robert Dent Oswald Jnr, and was adopted at a committee meeting on Friday, 4 September 1896. It was agreed to name the new building the 'Oswald Ward'. Due to illness William Broughall could not attend the meeting, and he died 10 days later.

Local architect Louis Boldini drafted plans for the new ward, and the committee called for builders to tender for the project and to make other repairs to the hospital. When the period for tenders closed on 13 November, five had been received. Only one of them was from a local builder. George Clayfield of Daylesford offered to complete the work for £876 and was awarded the contract. Prior to the start of work, photographs were taken of the old building in its original condition and copies were sold for 2s 6d each.

Work progressed well, and in early July 1897, the Tarrangower Times reported that the new building was completed. The Times described it as comprising two large rooms, one to be used by benevolent asylum inmates and the other as a hospital ward. The building had high ceilings and excellent lighting and ventilation.

The hospital committee then started to plan a celebration for the ward's opening. Initially, it was suggested that a dance be held in the new building. This suggestion, however, was quickly set aside as being inappropriate. Instead, a 'calico ball' was organised to be held in the Shire Hall. The ball proved a great success both socially and financially.

Although the building had been completed and opened, the hospital was still waiting for approval from the Board of Health before it could be occupied. In December 1897, the Board asked for improvements to the flooring, ventilation in the dining room and other minor changes. Exasperated, the hospital committee told the Board they did not have any funds to make further changes. This seems to have ended the matter, and the ward was soon fully occupied.

This information was supplied by the Maldon Museum and Archives.

Round 16 v Royal Park

goal of the day on a penalty shot saw Royal Park take the win by 1. The team will get another chance to have a showdown with Royal Park playing this weekend in the qualifying final against them. U15s started third on the ladder.

Best: Jess Davies.

Under13s

Maldon 26 Def Royal Park 6

What a season; the team fought hard for the last game of the season. I am so proud of everyone who played this year. The team has done so well this year; with a win on the board, the team couldn't be happier. Throughout the year, we had 11s and unders fill in, and two players come over once they have played footy. Without them, we wouldn't have had full teams on most weekends. Thank you to everyone who helped out. U13s finished thirteenth on the ladder.

Best: Holly Williams.

Under 11s

Maldon 2 Def by Royal Park 17

Today would be our last game of the season due to us not making the finals this year. We were very determined to get out on the court and have the best fun ever. We didn't come away with the win, but we did implement all that we had learnt for the year. We opened up the court, didn't seagull, came to the ball and fed the shooters well. It was just Royal Park's day. A big thank you to other families for contributing and helping game day work; we appreciate your support. To the team, we are so proud of you all. You all displayed strong teamwork ethics, and I do hope you have had as much fun as I have. U11s finished tenth on the ladder.

Best: Isla, Primrose, Elsa, Grace, Alice, Pip and Martha.

MALDON PÉTANQUE CLUB

☆ Sue in action last Sunday at St. Brigid's.

LAST Sunday, it was all back to normal after our memorable Golden Boule victory.

We gathered for our fortnightly games on the St Brigid's pistes wondering what the weather was going to do. It was freezing cold with some clouds over the mountain but that did not stop the intrepid petanquers. The fire was going, so everyone got warm before getting into hot play.

The scores again showed four players had won their three games; the same thing happened last fortnight. The winner overall was Richard Leach with 22 points followed closely by Len Paul 21 points - Len also won three games last fortnight. Then followed George Forster 14 points and Bruce Ackland 9 points.

This Sunday, Maldon PC has been invited to join the Woodend-Hanging Rock PC in a social day at Woodend, sure to be a day of fun and friendship.

Sunday 4 September will again be a regular competition day on our home pistes starting at the usual time of 1.30pm.

On Saturday 17 September, there is to be a presentation of the Golden Boule Trophy at the Ballarat PC pistes and clubrooms. There will also be social games involving the four clubs who participated. On the next day, we have the Pyrenees PC from Avoca coming to Maldon to fight out the annual Rusty Poppethead Trophy.

In between all our competitions with other clubs, a number of our players have been playing in tournaments elsewhere.

Overview

AND that's a wrap for the home and away season. Our last games are now done and dusted, concluding with a great clash with Royal Park at Royal Park.

All games depicted where our teams would land on the ladders to finish the season off and who we would come up against in the finals. As a club, we are extremely happy to have 10 out of 12 teams representing Maldon in the finals; what an incredible season it has been for our club, its players, supporters and the wider community; we are so fortunate to have a dedicated and passionate club.

Coming off the back of broken seasons due to the pandemic, Maldon has regained its strength and focussed on our players, culture and the success is evident coming into the finals campaign. We would love to see as much support as we can to cheer our club on in the finals which kick off this weekend with the game times as listed. As a club we also want to wish all teams the best for your games over the weekend. Let's stand together and have fun.

Football

Seniors

Maldon 64 Def Royal Park 0

Tremendous effort from our Senior team on the weekend in very trying conditions. For the whole game, the team never took their foot off their opponents and ended up having a very convincing win and holding the opposition scoreless. To have such a great win gives us great form going into a final series and taking on Lexton on Sunday at Avoca in an elimination final. The Seniors finished seventh on the ladder.

Best: David Wilson, Bryce Coffey, Coby Bennett, Max Johns, Hayden Coffey and Matty Gray.

Reserves

Maldon 98 Def Royal Park 19

The Reserves had to win on Saturday against lowly ranked Royal Park to secure the fourth spot. In very muddy conditions, a 7-goal opening quarter set up the victory. After quarter time Royal Park was able to defend a lot better, holding us to a further 8 goals while kicking 3 themselves as we recorded a 79-point win. Reece Carmichael was great up forward, kicking 7 goals and getting good supply from midfielders Shaun Burchell, Lachie Josey and Bryce Roberts. With results going our way, the Reserves take on Trentham on Saturday, with the winner progressing through to the Preliminary final.

The Reserves finished fourth on the ladder.

Best: Shaun Burchell, Lachie Josey, Bryce Roberts, Nick Kinross and Reece Carmichael.

17.5s

Maldon 113 Def Royal Park 6

Xavior Noy, Bailey O'Dell and Lochie Holman set the tone from the first bounce. Jovian Goulton was brilliant again in the ruck, giving the team first use. Flynn Rowbottom, Finn Mackenzie and Ollie Peace were also standouts with solid performances around the ground. Now the home and away season is done, we are looking forward to the finals this week. The U17.5s team finished top of the ladder and has a very good chance at taking home the silverware. Congratulations, boys you do your club proud.

The U17.5s finished first on the ladder.

Best: Xavior Noy, Bailey O'Dell, Flynn Rowbottom, Oliver Peace, Lochie Holman and Jovian Goulton.

14.5s

Maldon 111 Def Royal Park 0

It was a big occasion for our centre-half forward Brodie Doyle, who kicked his 100th goal for the season. Congratulations Brodie; that's an enormous effort in 16 games – well done. With most of our mids out, others stood up and showed the depth this side has. It's been a fantastic year for this team, and we are looking forward to the finals this week. The team is in very good shape.

The U14.5s finished second on the ladder.

Best: Brodie Doyle, Tully Rowbottom, Dustin O'Dell, Levi Mason, Angus Layne and Tadhg Cananzi.

11.5s

Maldon 6 Def by Royal Park 8

Heartbreaking loss after a strong effort in muddy conditions, but there were fantastic individual efforts and team play. Lucas had a breakout game and joined Heath and Zavior to crash through packs. Oliver, Essie and Chloe racked up the hard ball gets. Aleks, Seth and Piper had a strong impact. Auzzie had a coming-of-age performance. The young team have performed well to play finals, so we are all-in for a win in the elimination final.

The U11s finished sixth on the ladder.

Best: L. Pascoe, A. Powell, O. Merlo, A. Webster, S. Gross and P. Marshall.

Netball

A Grade

Maldon 41 Def by Royal Park 50

The Maldon team were up for the battle with Royal Park. The scores were very even in the first half; however, with many players playing two games, it was a challenge. The team were able to convert many interceptions, and the teamwork down the court was very measured; however, Royal Park was able to convert easily.

A Grade finished seventh on the ladder.

Best: Tagie Weir.

B Grade

Maldon 27 Def by Royal Park 33

The Royal Park team were out to win this weekend, and with key players missing from the Maldon lineup, the challenge was always going to be difficult, and the ball was contested at every centre pass by all teams. The Maldon team again showed great teamwork with lots of positive talk on the court.

B Grade finished sixth on the ladder.

Best: Sarah Blake.

C Grade

Maldon 36 Def Royal Park 24

The last time we met Royal Park, we walked away with a draw, but this week we changed that, walking away with a win. The progress of this team and their willingness to learn and grow was proven yesterday. Bring on the finals.

C Grade finished eighth on the ladder.

Best: Claire Kelly
