Every now and then, something comes along to remind you that, despite all the current negativity around the traps and around the world, it does one good to give yourself permission to grab at least one night a year to scoop up friends, invite visitors, get dressed up and have yourself a mighty good time. Enter the 18th Twilight Dinner.

Around 100 kids and parents from kinder and school received applause and cheers up and down Main Street—from the 800 seated, plus scores watching from the local pub and wine bar—during their lantern street procession and Flash dance routine. Opera kick-started the entertainment. And Forever 80s took everyone back to the big-hair, shoulder-pads and tight-pants look and hit songs of the 80s.

The Twilight Dinner had around 50 volunteers for set up and pack up. Then Sunday morning and reality eventually bites, with volunteers back in action again - doing the dishes.

Arts About

by Nancy Whittaker

Visual notes on life & nature

MY first encounter with Carolyn Vickers was in the MANet Arts Focus Gallery a few months ago when we played 'duelling camera phones'. I thought I was quick, but she was quicker. Carolyn is the next featured artist in the aforesaid gallery from 18 January to the 29 February, It's a Leap Year! Her exhibition opening is on Friday 26 January, at 5pm.

Carolyn said that her works are her visual notes. "The animals that share our lives, fish and the amazing variety of birds I see changing shifts throughout the day all inform my work. The big sky here and unique landscape also inspire and motivate me to create."

Just looking though her large front windows gives her endless inspiration, particularly the variety of birds she sees. Carolyn said they see more birds here in Maldon than they did in their previous home in Millgrove. The Lily Pond is full of fish and rowdy frogs.

Carolyn said, "I enjoy working in a variety of mediums as each elicits a different response. Printmaking is my main area of interest". Her printmaking is greatly enhanced by her highly desirable handmade printing press constructed by Fitzroy Etching Presses (pictured).

From an artistic family, Carolyn did her formal training at Prahran College, gaining her Bachelor of Fine Arts, following a foundation year, where she majored in printmaking.

Carolyn grew up on a farm in Central Victoria among a family of creatives. There was lots of drawing of animals, people and nature which are still her favourite subjects. She enjoys working in different mediums but chose printmaking when doing her Bachelor of Fine Art at Prahran College in the 1980s. Since then, she has exhibited paintings, drawings, and photography, but during the last five years or so, she has returned to print-making, specifically lino printing and, more recently, monotypes.

When you see her printing press, you can understand why!

Carolyn said, "I love the bold graphic nature of lino printing that lends itself to so many applications. I enjoy every aspect of the process, from pondering ideas, sketching, and then transferring those ideas to lino. I love carving with tools that have been around for a long time and the mindfulness that comes with the practice. I also enjoy finding solutions to challenges that arise. There is a magic that comes with a print that you are never fully aware of until the final stage of printing, when you reveal your idea and the lino reveals its own. I like the surprise element that makes a piece feel more like a collaboration.

"I am also enjoying making monotypes as they are more immediate and spontaneous. Both processes seem to suit my method of working back to front."

Since moving back to Central Victoria, Carolyn said that she is rediscovering the landscape, wildlife and history of this beautiful region and loves collaborating with the artists she has met here.

Her work is highly desirable and skilful.

Carolyn has exhibited extensively throughout Victoria, and most recently with the MANet Pop Up Gallery, before the MANet Arts Focus Gallery was developed in 2023.

Vox Pop - AUSTRALIA DAY

AUSTRALIA Day, Survival Day or Invasion Day - today (26 January) is a national holiday which means different things to different people.

How much does the person in the street know about the history of Australia Day? And how do they plan to celebrate it?

The Times asked a cross-section of people (a weekender, three locals and two bikers riding through town) three questions about Australia Day:

Peter

(with dog Albert)

1. Landing of the first fleet.
2. The 1950s.
3. We're coming to Maldon for Australia Day (Peter is a weekender).

Paula

1. I'm not sure.
2. The 1960s.
3. I'm going to Lake Burrumbeet for a day out with the family.

David

1. Landing of the first fleet.
2. The 1920s.
3. I'm looking forward to a day off work; maybe I'll go for a ride.

Michael

1. Landing of the first fleet.
2. The 1920s.
3. I'll have a BBQ with the family and possibly go for a ride.

Joy

1. Landing of the first fleet.
2. The 1960s.
3. Sadly Maldon no longer has its own Australia Day event, so I'll be having a BBQ at home.

Anna

1. Landing of the first fleet.
2. The 1960s.
3. I've no intention of doing anything special; it's a date I feel ambivalent about.

Big ticks for those who knew that 26 January was chosen as the date for Australia Day because the First Fleet landed in Australia on 26 January, 1788.

For question 2, no-one got it right. Australia Day only became a public holiday across the nation in the 1990s - 1994, to be precise. All those interviewed expressed surprise that Australia Day is a relatively recent phenomenon.

Editor's note:

Peter only agreed to be interviewed if the TT promoted his band's gig, so here goes: Brave New World will be performing on 11 May at the Brunswick Ballroom. Be there!

A man with a beard is sitting in the driver's seat of a car at night. He is holding an orange breathalyzer device in his mouth and blowing into it. The device has a red screen and the number '99' and 'SYDNEY' on it. The car's interior is dimly lit, and the background is dark.

Stop kidding yourself. If you drink, don't drive.

Thinking about driving after a couple of drinks? Think again.
If you blow .05 or over, you could face serious penalties, including fines, losing your licence, getting an interlock installed in your car and having to blow zero for three years.

You'll LOVE This Exhibition!

LET'S face it, we all get a little emotional when it comes to love, so here's an art exhibition that will stir your senses: it's called LOVE. It's a major exhibition exploring the theme of love through the visual arts, and it's on at the Central Goldfields Art Gallery in Maryborough until Sunday 14 April.

The exhibition includes a range of painting, sculpture and other art forms drawn from collections across the region. It includes works from Italian sculptor Sabatino, David Rosetzky's photographs and a wedding dress made from paperbark by First Nations artist Georgia MacGuire.

A must-see special feature of the exhibition is 16 photographs by much-loved Maryborough wedding photographer Wal Richards. Over 50 years, Wal built up a collection of 20,000 wedding pictures from Maryborough and surrounds, as he rode from one wedding to another on his bike.

Gallery Coordinator Helen Kaptein said that Wal's work was much more than wedding events. "Wal's photos are a remarkable social documentary of the people, fashions, architecture and cars in regional Australia over half a century," she said. "We are so thankful to the Maryborough Midlands Historical Society for lending us some of these unique photographs."

Collections contributing to the LOVE exhibition include: the Ararat Gallery, Bendigo Art Gallery, Castlemaine Art Museum, the Cascade Art Gallery and the Golden Dragon Museum.

The Central Goldfields Art Gallery is in the Old Fire Station at 1 Neill Street. Opening hours are from Thursday to Sunday, from 10am to 4pm, and entry is free.

National Heritage Bid

MALDON resident Michele Waddington is a woman with a mission. She believes that it's time the township of Maldon was recognised with a listing on the National Heritage List. Towards this end, she is currently working on a submission to the Federal Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water.

This will be Michele's second submission; her first submission was not successful. Her efforts to date have been stymied not only by a change of personnel within the Department but also changes in the bureaucratic goalposts.

But Michele's not about to give up. According to Michele, Maldon occupies a unique place in the heritage sphere. After all, as she pointed out, the National Trust declared Maldon as Australia's First Notable Town in 1966. The township also set a precedent for the rest of Australia with the introduction of the award-winning Maldon planning scheme and design guidelines, which were implemented in 1977.

Thanks to the planning scheme and the work of local residents who have supported the need to preserve the town's historic streetscapes, Maldon has retained much of its heritage values.

Michele's second submission is still a work in progress. She has gained a positive response from Bendigo Federal MP Lisa Chesters, who has written a letter supporting the bid. She has also received valuable assistance from the Maldon Museum & Archives Association.

Support from Mount Alexander Shire, however, has yet to be secured. In refusing Michele's first submission, the Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water informed her:

"...the nomination did not provide evidence of support from the local government. Support from the local government could be provided as additional evidence in 2024 for consideration."

"It's obvious from that comment that the support of Council is important," Michele said. "So I'm continuing to work to that end."

With a 54-year connection to Maldon, Michele knows the town very well and has operated the B&B property Fairbank House for 30 years. Seven years ago, she bought the Carriers Arms in High Street. Built in 1857, the Arms is one of the oldest remaining buildings in Maldon.

Obviously, as a business owner of two historic buildings, Michele has a vested interest in enhancing Maldon's heritage status. But it's equally obvious, after only 15 minutes of conversation with Michele, that she is a great champion of Maldon's heritage.

"We invented heritage, or at least the Lewises did," Michele said (referring to Miles Lewis, who began researching Maldon's history in 1964 and Nigel Lewis, who was Maldon's first heritage advisor). "And I believe that Maldon deserves national recognition."

Bronze, Silver & Gold

So how do heritage listings work?

We'll simplify it by comparing heritage to a sporting event.

A bronze medal would be the equivalent to a listing on the State of Victoria's heritage register.

Silver would win you a place on Australia's national heritage list.

Gold is the big one: a much-coveted World Heritage listing.

Maldon is well-represented in the bronze medal category, with around 20 buildings and other sites of historic significance listed on the Victorian Heritage Register.

The Castlemaine Diggings Park gained a place on the National Heritage list in 2005 - that is, a silver medal. This National listing is the one that Michele is working towards for Maldon.

What about a gold medal?

The bid for a World Heritage listing for the Victorian Goldfields region has been a long time coming. The idea has been floating around since 1989, but continues to gain momentum. A team that has the support of 15 local councils (including Mount Alexander Shire) across the goldfields area is working on a submission to the Federal Government in a bid to achieve World Heritage listing.

If the bid is successful, the Victorian Goldfields region would join 20 other places across Australia, including the Great Barrier Reef and the Sydney Opera House, that already have a World Heritage listing.

Save Maldon

The Beehive Chimney remains cordoned off. The Butts historic picnic shelter remains cordoned off. Carmans Tunnel remains cordoned off. Council handed care of all Maldon's reserves, including structures within them, to Parks Victoria some years ago. The blackberries and rabbits in Long Gully are thriving. The Wheel Cactus infestation at Cairn Curran can be seen from space. The gorse is growing back on the Derby Hill badlands, after Parks razed everything – including a 15yr old MULGA native replanting – leaving countless small birds homeless. Parks Victoria doesn't have the funding or personnel to handle the environment, let alone deteriorating heritage assets.

Meanwhile Council has allotted over a million dollars to upgrade lighting at the sports ground. Anything new, they know how to do. Conveniently, those other more pressing problems are no longer Council's responsibility. What central Vic goldfields World Heritage listing application?

The now unnecessary No Standing sign remains on the east side of Bank Corner. The main entrance to town features a new, modern construction (a helicopter landing pad?) in someone's front yard – heritage overlay be damned. The historic gutter stonework Council 'repaired' looks nothing like the original. The Streetscape Rejuvenation [sic] Project modernised town vistas. The bakery's cheery 'we're open' red flag was removed after being declared 'not heritage', then Maldon Inc put those drab, unChristmassy, Council-funded flags all over Main Street, followed by Twilight Dinner flags. If Council was a person, you'd have to say they're lazy, sloppy and inconsistent. But we undergrounded the power lines. Yes, with a government handout. So much easier to spend.

The old catchphrase of 'In Maldon Today' on MAINfm – 'The town that needs to get over itself' – is an actual comment overheard leaving the mouth of a Shire councillor. Complain, people. To Maree Edwards, to the Victorian Ombudsman, to Parks Victoria. If you're optimistic, to Council. Maldon deserves better.

Happy Days

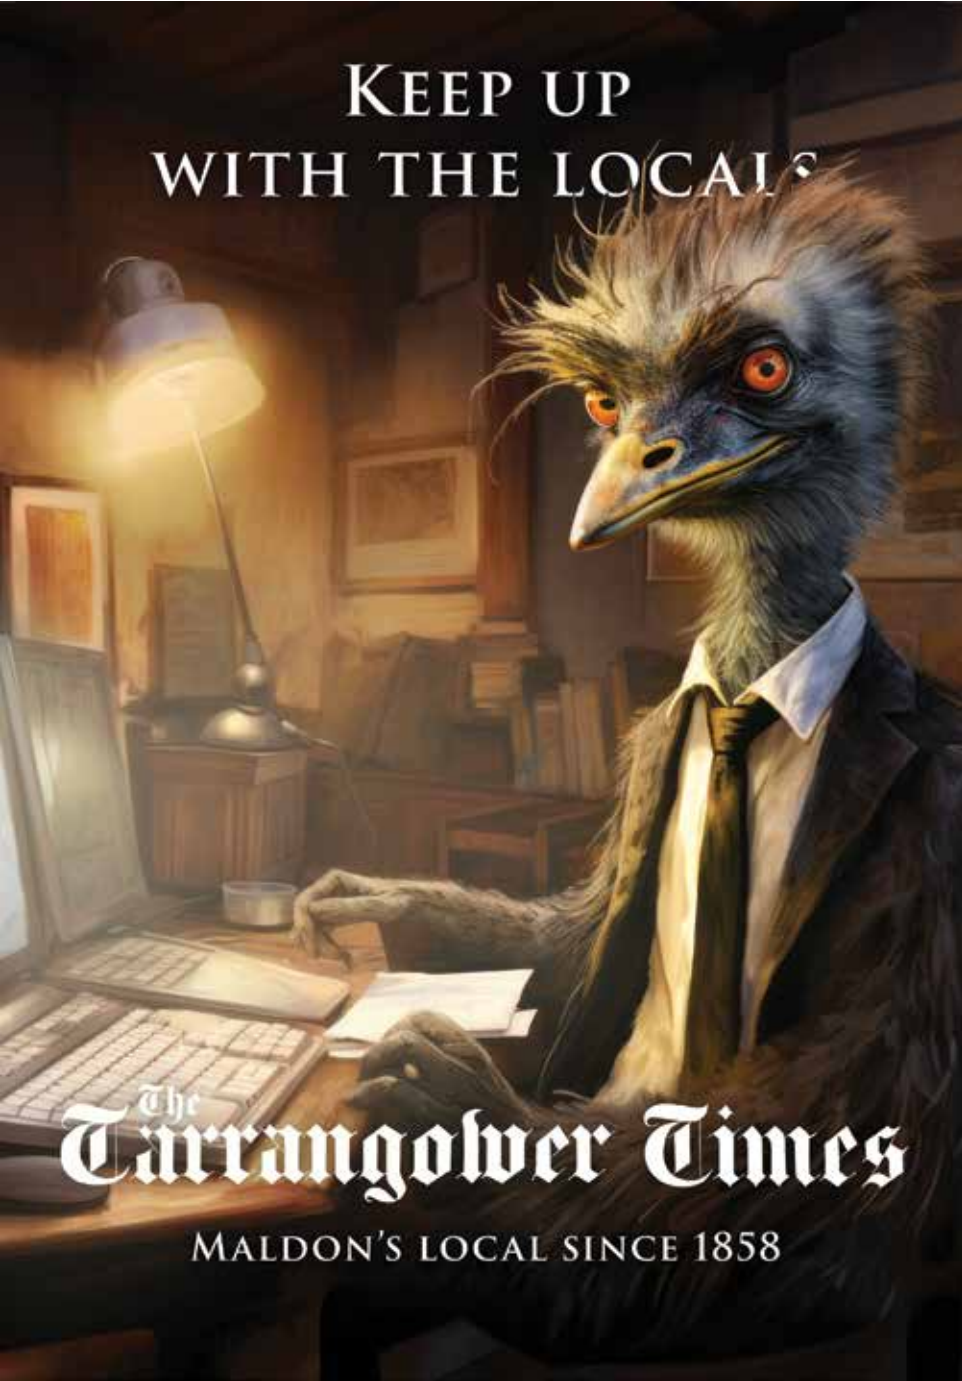

Just spent a leisurely couple of hours walking along the Loddon River at Baringhup. From 11am to 1pm (late for us).

Happy to report less rubbish since introduction of the 10c refund.

We also had the pleasure of watching a platypus swimming down the river, only occasionally diving for food, so had a great sighting for 20 minutes.

Some interesting bird life, eg Little Eagle, pair of Brown Goshawks, Diamond Firetail and the beautiful Rainbow Bee-eaters which are around until March before heading back north.

Happy Days.

Maldon's Twilight Dinner

The bright and colourful ...

The stylish ...

Ready or not ...

Getting warmed up ...

In anticipation ...

Bring it on ...

The devil made him do it ...

All dressed up and ready to go ...

Ready to spread their wings ...

Let the fun begin ...

Hits of the 80s hit the spot ...

Forever 80s strike a pose ...

People, people everywhere ...

Flash dance surprise ...

Smiling, laughing, happy people ...

Customer Satisfaction Survey

MOUNT Alexander Shire Council's annual Customer Satisfaction Survey will begin on Monday 29 January. The annual survey of a random representative sample of 400 residents will be undertaken by independent market research agency, National Field Surveys.

Shire residents may receive a phone call from the agency between the end of January and mid-March to answer some questions about their satisfaction with Council services. The overall results are provided to Council but individual responses remain confidential, so residents can express their thoughts and opinions openly.

Mount Alexander Shire Council's Mayor, Cr Matthew Driscoll, said that the annual Community Satisfaction Survey provides valuable insight into how the community is feeling.

"This survey is a fantastic opportunity to hear directly from community members," said Cr Driscoll. "We want to know what you think about Council services, what we're doing right and what you think needs work. It's by listening to our community and taking into account their lived experiences that we can identify areas for improvement. I encourage everyone to engage with the survey if they receive a call."

The majority of Victorian councils participate in this state-wide survey. The results are benchmarked against a state-wide average and similar-sized local government areas.

The survey informs mandatory reporting requirements of the Local Government Performance Reporting Framework. The results from previous years are available on Council's website.

Find out more at www.mountalexander.vic.gov.au/CommunitySatisfactionSurvey or call Council's Customer Service team on 5471 1700.

Library News

Celebrating January 26

In his 2021 book, Truth-Telling: History, Sovereignty and the Uluru Statement, Tasmanian historian (and national living treasure) Henry Reynolds reports on the widespread confusion about why January 26 was chosen as Australia Day.

A national survey carried out in 2017 identified that while 70% of participants believed a national day was important to them, most could not correctly identify why January 26 was chosen in the first place. Which event did it commemorate? 8% believed it marked the arrival of the first European to the continent. One in five selected Captain Cook's first arrival on the east coast of Queensland. One in six thought it was the date of Federation. Seven percent believed it marked the signing of a treaty with the First Nations. The same proportion identified it as the date when Australia ceased to be a British colony. Two percent stated that it was the date of an important battle in the First World War. 14% said they did not know (perhaps they thought it marked the first AFL fixture Collingwood v Richmond). Only 43% correctly identified January 26 as the date of arrival of the first ship of the First Fleet.

In 2018 Mount Alexander Shire Council decided to formally dual name events held on 26 January as Australia Day – Survival Day, to recognise how celebrations on this day impact the First Nations community. This acknowledges that for many January 26 is a day of mourning.

January 26 also marks the 161st birthday of the Maldon Athenaeum Library! Well done, Maldon, a great achievement for an engaged and active community.

Book Reviews

To mark Australia Day-Survival Day, an eclectic mix of recently donated books.

1788: The Brutal Truth of the First Fleet
by David Hill, 2008

In 1788, 11 small ships set sail from England on an eight-month-long voyage over the roughest of seas, carrying 1,500 people, food for two years, and all the equipment needed to build a colony of convicts in a land completely beyond their experience and imagination. In Portsmouth, the fleet's preparation was characterised by disease, promiscuity, and death. The journey itself was one of unbearable hardship, but also of extraordinary resilience. Upon their arrival, however, the colonists faced their biggest challenges of all: conflict, starvation, and despair. Combining the skill of a vigilant journalist with the magic of a master novelist, this entrancing history brings the sights, sounds, sufferings, and joys of the 'First Fleeters' back to life. Journals, letters, reports, and pleas to England are all interwoven here with the author's own insight, and together they convey the innermost horrors and joys of the very first European Australians. The result is a narrative history that is surprising, compelling, and unforgettable.

The Penguin Century of Australian Stories, edited by Carmel Bird, 2000

This landmark collection brings together the best Australian short stories written in the twentieth century. From early bush life to contemporary urban existence, The Penguin Century of Australian Stories celebrates our finest writers in all their modes: the lively comic fiction of Henry Lawson and Steele Rudd, the distinctive imaginations of Christina Stead and Patrick White, the experimental style of Peter Carey, and the highly lyrical prose of Brenda Walker and James Bradley. Selected by Carmel Bird, these stories mirror the concerns of Australia's past and present.

Dark Victory by David Marr and Marian Wilkinson, 2003

A stirring account of the Australian government's handling of the Children Overboard affair and the Pacific Solution is a remarkable piece of investigative journalism.

Cricket Kings by William McGinnes, 2006

Step into the lives of a team of regular middle-aged men who meet each week to play cricket in their local park. With these characters William will make us laugh and cry. Never again will we think that someone is just a regular bloke: everyone can be a king or a queen in their own suburb.

TODAY there will be no show as IMT takes full advantage of the public holiday.

Last Friday EC and Nancy talked to Amy Atkinson (pictured) about the Tarrangower Village.

The Village is an independent living retirement village which provides affordable accommodation for older people. There is an elected Committee of Management, including an executive consisting of President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, and up to five Ordinary members. The Village is a demonstration of the ongoing work of successive committees since 1976. The committee is looking for new members. For more information look at <https://tarrangowervillage.com.au>

Next week Lynette and Mike will catch up with Tina Fratta for an info session about Maldon's rather unique Athenaeum Library.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

JUSTICE TO ALL

ON Friday 29 November 1867 seven Chinese men appeared in the Maldon Police Court before Frederick Courtin JP charged with breaking into a house and stealing a pair of trousers. Thomas and Elizabeth Blamey gave evidence that two weeks earlier they had returned home to find their front door had been forced open and clothing, including a pair of trousers, had been stolen. Thomas identified the trousers when they were produced in court.

Constable John Croake said he had gone with other police to the tent where all the accused lived. There, one of the Chinese, Ah Ching, gave him a parcel containing the stolen trousers. Croake then arrested all of the Chinese present and proceeded to search the tent and the men's locked boxes. Nothing further was found.

Two of the accused, Shy Fat and Pack Sing, said that another man, Ah Hung, had brought the trousers to their tent on the night of the robbery and offered them and a pair of boots for sale. They were not interested, but eventually, their friend Fy Wong purchased the goods for 12 shillings. Ah Hung was unable to be found.

George Merrifield, who represented the accused, submitted that it was ridiculous to charge seven men with the theft of one pair of trousers. He also said there was no evidence that any of them had broken into the Blamey's house and stolen the trousers. Merrifield said that although his clients were Chinese they were 'most exemplary characters' and he called local businessmen, including Samuel Dabb, to support his contention. Merrifield asked for the case to be dismissed, but Courtin found that although the Chinese did not break into the Blameys' home they were somehow involved in the robbery. There was uproar in the court when Courtin sentenced them all to three months hard labour.

The police then proceeded to charge the prisoners with the theft of the boots Ah Hung had sold Fy Wong. Before this matter could proceed, Merrifield reminded Courtin that a justice of the peace sitting alone could not impose prison sentences. Courtin accepted his objection and remanded the accused on bail.

Following the trial, the Tarrangower Times, in an editorial headed 'Justice to All', said the verdict was based on the flimsiest of evidence. The conviction of these law-abiding Chinese resulted from a prevailing assumption that all Chinese were thieves. The Times insisted that the Chinese were entitled to the same treatment before the Law as any European.

A week later, the seven Chinese appeared before Police Magistrate John Cogdon and two other JPs. After hearing the evidence, the magistrates immediately discharged the accused but warned them to be more careful in future when purchasing goods. Outside the court a large crowd of friends celebrated their release and their countrymen in Castlemaine sent boxes of crackers as their contribution to the celebrations.

This information was supplied by the Maldon Museum and Archives.

CREATIVITY

EACH week we arrive to join in with our Bridge friends to play out the cards on offer for the afternoon. An eager group arrived for play to see that all was in readiness for the game ahead.

Perhaps at times we take for granted how organised everything seems to be with tables set, boards distributed and score sheets placed on the tables. It does not 'just happen' and the early team of Ken, Aileen, Sandy and Danny quietly going about their team tasks is greatly appreciated by all. Adding to this, depending on the numbers, Danny's creativity comes into play as he has to work out which movement and how many boards per round etc are to be played, and this he does with great skill.

Sometimes it means creating an extra movement, which Danny has called the 'Howell' movement, and it was put into play this week. It keeps us moving around, which is good exercise for the body as well as our brain!!

The scorers were quick onto their recording of the scores, which Danny transferred to the computer for a totalling of the final results. There they were. Another close finish was the result, which is a compliment to how well everyone is playing.

In first place with 46 points were Annie and Kevin, who combined well to get the top honours.

Second place went to Danny and Ken with 44 points. Newstead Jo and Fred were third with 41 points. There was an equal fourth between Mary and Sandy, along with Gretchen and Lyn with 38 points. Well done everyone!

A special mention and congratulations on the continued success of our Maldon players, who play at Castle-maine on Tuesdays and online on Wednesdays. Wins for Ken, Sandy and Sue and placings for Fred, Mary, Werner and Liz.

The afternoon tea break is always a good time to 'take a breather' before tackling the remaining cards for the day. The warm sausage rolls and hot beverages were appreciated by all. Thank you team Maldon Hotel for your continued support.

We look forward to returning next week with sickies well again, no appointments to meet, and some new players to learn the 'ins and outs' of the game we play.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday at the Maldon Hotel 1.15 pm to 4.30 pm to help us in our endeavours to

Aged care food & dining experience project

STAFF at Dhelkaya Health continuously work with residents and their families to ensure a positive dining experience. A current project being led by Dhelkaya Health's Kirsten Cain is reviewing the food and dining experience provided in Aged Care.

Kirsten is working alongside Dietitians, Health & Wellbeing, Food & Hotel Services and Aged Care staff and residents and family members to enhance the experience of dining. This will create exciting dining options which will increase social engagement and additional experiences.

Part of the project is to create a Calendar of Food Events that will provide alternate dining experiences, including cultural celebrations and foods, shared dining with families and outdoor dining. Kirsten is looking for input from not just residents and their families, but also from members of the public.

"We want the residents to celebrate and enjoy food, what different cultures bring to the table and the joy and inclusivity that comes with sharing meals and trying new things," said Kirsten. "The dining experience is a combination of the food and drinks on offer, as well as the service and the atmosphere. This impacts on a resident's quality of life and wellbeing and is so important. The Aged Care Quality & Safety Commission tells us that residents who enjoy their dining experience are more likely to eat and drink well, reducing their risk of malnutrition and dehydration."

If you have a great idea for a food experience that you think would be enjoyed by our residents, get in touch with Kirsten and share your ideas – kcain@maldhosp.vic.gov.au OR scan the QR code below.

LAST SUPPA FOR DONNA AT THE KANGA

HOW did Donna spend her last night at the Kangaroo Hotel last Saturday? Doing what she enjoys doing – preparing meals for patrons.

It was only a few weeks ago when Donna shared the news.

“I want to let my loyal customers know that my last day at the pub will be 20 January 2024.

“We took over The Kangaroo Hotel on 6 March 2020, and COVID closed us down on 28 March. So, we had about two and a half weeks of business. You plan something, but it doesn't go to plan. So, I just refocused and did the best I could with what was thrown at me.”

What's next for Maldon's Kangaroo pub? Watch this space.

Le Sel French Deli - Vanilla Slice

Le Sel French Deli in Maldon has mastered the mille-feuille, the French term for a vanilla slice, translating to 'thousand sheets'.

A divine French dessert, it features layers of puff pastry and luscious pastry cream. During my recent visit, I found Le Sel's version to be a perfect, sweet, creamy slice of vanilla-flavoured heaven!

BETTER WITH AGE: VINTAGE SHORTS

HERE’S a great new event for the town: Vintage Shorts, a film festival that is calling for submissions from film makers around the globe as well as across the nation (and there’s already been a submission from the USA!).

The Vintage Shorts Festival will be held on Sunday 5 May from 5pm to 7pm, at the Maldon Vintage Machinery Museum.

The Festival invites you to make a short film about something old or vintage. It might be a story about a person, a place, an object, a home or a town.

Local resident Paul Kooperman, in collaboration with the Maldon Vintage Machinery Museum and Maldon Golden Movies (MGM), is organising Vintage Shorts. “I think that the theme - embracing age and heritage as things of beauty - resonates with a town like Maldon,” he said.

The selection committee will be members of MGM. There’s a strict time limit of 4-8 minutes in total for films submitted. The deadline for submissions is 5pm on Friday 29 March. Decisions on the final selection will be made by Friday 19 April.

Tickets to Vintage Shorts cost $20, with a $10 discount on tickets for MGM members. As seating is limited, it’s probably wise to book now.

For further information on submitting a film or to book a Festival seat, go to vintageshorts.net.

Graham West and his 70s Torana win West Coast Classic

See the race here: <http://tinyurl.com/4vrwsc39>

GRAHAM West did the car roof-top dance to loud cheers and applause when he took on some of the biggest, fattest race cars in his division while driving his Torana to win the SSA Modified Sedans West Coast Classic 2024 at Avalon Raceway on Friday 12 January.

Graham won the state title in 2002 and again in 2014. He has also won the state series four times. “I love the challenge of keeping my car fast and the sense of achieving something in an old car that people think can’t be done.”

It all started when Graham’s father - a car enthusiast who enjoyed going fast in paddocks, with young Graham and his brothers and sisters taking turns in the back seat. From then, Graham and some of his siblings developed an interest in motorsports. They started racing at a young age and eventually transitioned from being enthusiasts to competitive drivers.

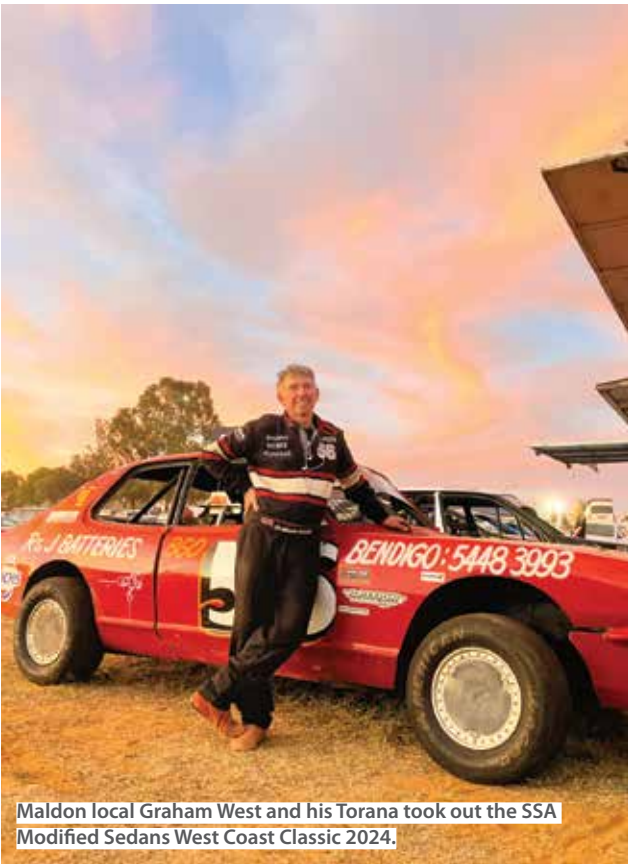

The Torana is a car model that was popular in the 1970s. The roof and chassis of Graham’s car are from a Torana, while the rest of the car is incorporated from other parts.

“Growing up with Dad was interesting. He was a car enthusiast and loved going fast. He didn’t really get into motorsports himself, but he did build an old car with us when we were teenagers. We had a lot of fun working on it together. Overall, Dad’s love for cars definitely influenced my interest in the sport.”

Graham said the greatest challenge in the West Coast

Classic he won was adjusting to the new setup of the car. “We had recently repaired the car after a crash and the handling was feeling disorientated. However, we were able to find a setup that worked well, and we ended up dominating the race, said Graham.”

MALDON BOWLS CLUB NEWS

LAST Friday, 19 January, we saw a successful Community BBQ night at the Bowls Club to start the year. As part of the Goldfields Playing Area, our club donated the proceeds of our raffle to the Cancer Charity initiative. Over $300 was raised on the night. A big thank you to everyone who supported this event.

On Saturday, 20 January, all bowls clubs in our region gathered at Maryborough Highland Bowls for the Charity Round. We played in the morning against Dunolly Blue, and we were successful in winning all three games. The final score was Maldon 76 shots to Dunolly 54 shots.

Annette’s team of Ken, Kevin and Lindsay won 15 of the 21 ends. They led 21 to 4 after 13 ends and continued strongly to win 27 to 8.

Geoff’s team of Sean D, Peter and Jim had a very tight game. They won 11 of the 21 ends. Maldon were down 10 shots to Dunolly 14 at the half way point. Maldon were down 22 to 23 with one end to play. A handy 4 shots were scored by Maldon resulting in a 26 to 23 win.

Eric’s team of Ellen, Don and Cameron won 14 of the 21 ends. At halfway, it was 10 shots all. Maldon had a strong second half to win seven of the last nine ends. In the end, Maldon won 23 to 13.

This weekend Maldon will play at home against a very strong Talbot team.

Good Bowling all.

MALDON PÉTANQUE CLUB

*We were playing at last
The pistes were hard and fast*

THE weather was kind to us on Sunday, not too hot, and at one stage, it got quite cool and then warmed up again. It was very much a day of welcomes; while there was a general welcome, we were glad to see Richard Monegatti and Phil Hopley back and competitive. It was also great to see Jenny Haddon and Susan Monegatti having their first games with the club.

This year we are only playing three games each fortnight starting at 1pm. At the end of the day’s play the computer told us that three players had won all three games. The best score was from Bruce Ackland 3 wins 32 points, followed by Susan Forster 3 wins 18 points and Kevin Haddon 3 wins 15 points. The player with the most points with 2 wins was the first gamer, Jenny Haddon, with 17 points.

We are considering a singles competition to be run in conjunction with our regular games which should prove interesting.

Next fortnight’s games will be on Sunday 4 February commencing at 1pm on the St Brigid’s pistes. The more, the merrier.

Geoff McLennan

MALDON GOLF CLUB

26 January Event

JUST a quick reminder, the Maldon Golf Club is hosting an Australia Day celebration from 4pm that’s pet-friendly as well as family-friendly.

You can snack on some Aussie-inspired food - cheese and Vegemite toasties, prawn skewers from the barbie, Brad the Butcher’s very own snags and kranskys, and top it all off with some pavlova. All washed down with ice-cold drinks, both alcoholic and non-alcoholic. And don’t forget the inaugural Thong Throw competition.

The Darling Buds of Maldon will be providing live music and there’ll be some golf games where you can practise your chipping and putting. Enquiries 0412 272 181.
