THE SERIOUS BUSINESS

OF PLAY

These smiling kids regularly enjoy a play at Maldon playground. L-R Hunter with Chase the dog, Olivia and Tai.

Mount Alexander Shire Council (MASC) has been keeping play a priority; it has featured as a key agenda item at its recent council meeting and in the recently released budget. It comes as school starts back again, after a holiday period that saw local children and visitors looking for wintry activities in regional small towns.

Maldon Playground has been allocated $40k in the 2025/26 budget, which the Council says will be used to start the ball rolling on designs and ensure that multiple needs are met. At this stage the planning is about broad concepts, which will then guide the details and costs, and it's not all fun and games. "Delivering a playground involves more than the play equipment itself. We are also required to provide accessible paths, soft fall, landscaping and shade," explained Karen Evennett, Manager Parks, Recreation and Community Facilities at MASC. "Community consultation is key in delivering all our playgrounds."

The idea is to create something that nestles into the area in a sympathetic and accessible way. "Each community has very valid suggestions on how the playground sits with the environment and what features of the town and surrounds should be reflected to help to make the space a special feature of the township," Ms Evennett said.

A similar process took place in the development of the iconic apple-box design tower and slide, as requested by the community, in Harcourt Recreation Reserve. Ms Evennett said: "As Maldon is a heritage town and the playground is situated in the Government Reserve, we need to ensure the designs both celebrate and adhere to heritage guidelines. This is not something that an off-the-shelf play equipment design can deliver."

That also means that it will take time before changes will be seen at Maldon Playground. Ms Evennett said: "Community consultation and scoping will need to be completed before we can prepare detailed costings. We will keep the community updated via local media and our website on opportunities to provide feedback."

Meanwhile, at its last meeting on Tuesday 15 July, Council passed a motion to accept a new Playground Renewal Plan for the shire. The Playground Renewal Plan is designed to guide Council's future investment in Council's 29 playgrounds by using a 'playground hierarchy' to ascribe and compare "levels of service".

Governor's goldfields visit

The Governor on a fascinating tour of the cidery with Simon Frost in Harcourt.

THE Governor of Victoria, Her Excellency Professor the Honourable Margaret Gardner AC, toured the region last week to visit local operations and meet with locals in her role as Head of State, representative of the King.

Between Tuesday 15 and Friday 18 July, Her Excellency traversed towns between Harcourt and Woodend, with visits to Buda Homestead in Castlemaine, Josh's Eggs in Monegeetta and Hanging Rock. One of her first stops was Tarrengower Prison, in Maldon, where she interacted with prisoners and chatted to staff. The Governor sought to understand the role that Tarrengower Prison undertakes, serving as a model of transition and 'bridging' prisoners back into the community. She said a good justice system is foundational to a well-functioning society. "If people do end up in prison, we want to make sure that when they get out, they don't go back in again," she said, noting that there needs to be positive outcomes from detention.

Later, in Harcourt, Simon and Vicki from Harcourt Perry and Cider Makers took the Governor on a tour of their business from the beginning of the production cycle, with fragrant crates of apples, sorting and crushing, enormous barrels, tastings and observations. Her Excellency and Simon discussed trade opportunities and markets; achievements and areas needing support.

On Wednesday 16 July, Her Excellency visited the Victoria Goldfields Railway (VGR) Depot in Castlemaine and met with staff of the VGR, including CEO Wil Maylor and President Rob Lee, as well as Mt Alexander Shire Deputy Mayor Councillor Toby Heydon. After a tour of the workshop and sheds, the Governor took a short (100m!) train trip; the steam engine J549 was bright and sparkling after a recent refit. Her Excellency was very impressed with the restored engine and carriages, admiring the lavish levels of decoration and comfort in the saloon cars.

There was a bit of drama during the Governor's visit when the Vice Regal car was reportedly pulled over by an over enthusiastic member of the police force who hadn't recognised the distinctive Crown number plate! A Civic Reception was held at Castlemaine Art Museum later in the day to cordially welcome the Governor and hear her official address for this Regional Visit.

As the non-political Head of State, key roles of the Governor include supporting democracy and creating a strong community; encouraging ventures such as volunteering, arts, sports and innovation. Governors of Victoria usually serve terms of five years, endeavouring to spend time in each region of the state during that time. It means undertaking this kind of expedition around three or four times a year to acknowledge the contributions of regional Victorians and engage with local organisations, businesses, leaders and cultural groups. Regional Visits are a chance for the Governor to gauge the overall mood and priorities of the state; no doubt Her Excellency will provide a glowing report of this goldfields region for the King.

Shining a light on Goth culture

Glorious fashion and adoring crowds at last year's Goldfields Gothic Festival in Maldon.

THE Goldfields Gothic Festival returns next weekend from Friday 1 to Sunday 3 August and the organisers are excited to share a fantastic program of music, markets and more with locals and visitors. The opening event features local Goth icon, Gabrielle Kelly (also known as Crimson Strix), presenting a fascinating overview of the history and context of Goth culture. It's the first taste of a weekend that invites open-mindedness, accessibility and non-conformity.

Gabrielle explained to the TT that while Goth started in the late 1970s as a music-based subculture, it has thrived since the eighties and features many sub-branches to embrace people with many related interests. "I got into it with the aesthetics and then the music caught my interest," Gabrielle said. "What I've loved about being part of this community is that everybody is welcome, in terms of people embracing who they are and what others are."

Working with regular Goldfields Gothic artists, Saša Čuha and Earl Black, Gabrielle has created the opening event to invite everyone to learn about the interaction and impact of music, politics, literature and media — not to mention fashion — of the Goth subculture. She will also highlight the diversity of Goth identities that include Trad and Romantic Goths, Corporate Goths, Cyber-goths, Death Rockers. It's surprisingly broad and that's part of the point, said Gabrielle. "Goth is about rejecting mainstream societal norms. It's very, very against fast fashion and all that kind of stuff. It goes against conformity so if Goths were all the same, what's the point?" Gabrielle encourages locals to attend, especially those who are still "in the dark" about what Goth is. Come and hear Crimson Strix at the Vintage Machinery and Museum from 6.30pm on Friday 1 August.

Something Goth for everyone

Meanwhile, check out the rest of the program too, there are some incredible events to explore!

Gabrielle's highlights include: Saša Čuha performing a "chilling" live score to a screening of the 1922 horror classic, Nosferatu. "Definitely get along to Saša's events," Gabrielle said. "Both his screening and his Nevermore performance, because Edgar Allen Poe is a big influence on Goth culture." Gabrielle also said the Saturday music performances on the main stage should not be missed, since they are a chance to see some internationally known musicians without having to travel overseas. "We've got bands that have played across the world, at massive events in Germany — that can also help people understand the type of music that is big in the scene, or perhaps get them nostalgic."

And for those hoping to dip their toe into the Gothic pool (which is more like, let's be honest, a deep, dark well), there is the ever-popular Gothic Market on Saturday from 10am and the Gothic Picnic on Sunday from 11.30am, both at the Maldon Vintage Machinery and Museum. There's also the Hearse Parade, history and stories with Dr David Waldron in the Museum Tunnel, poetry, readings plus chill-out spaces with food and drinks galore.

Check out the full program for all the deadly details. Gabrielle hopes to entice locals and visitors alike: "Come and broaden your interests," she said. "I would love locals to be open-minded as we get more Goth people involved. It will hopefully be eye-opening as people understand that there's more to the Goth community than the stereotype."

For all the details see the program and keep an eye on the festival's social media for updates as the festival approaches: maldonfestivals.com/goldfields-gothic-festival-of-dark-ideass.

The public piano that was placed outside Maldon Bakery by Maine Piano Guerrillas as part of Castlemaine Fringe has found a new home with a young enthusiast. It was rolled away and onto a trailer by the new owner's proud dad, some kind helpers and Rebecca from the bakery on Friday 18 July. Member for Bendigo, Lisa Chesters MP returned to Canberra on Tuesday 22 July for the first parliamentary sitting week of the 48th Parliament, where she was sworn in for the 5th time as the Federal Member for Bendigo. Ms Chesters said in a statement that she will be taking the issues and concerns of Central Victorians directly to Parliament, saying: "For locals, the rising cost of living remains a key issue affecting many people in the community." Priority issues are a plan to reduce student debt by 20%, address the ongoing impact of drought on local water storages and commence steps towards: "delivering Federal Labor's election commitment to establish a Veterans' and Families' Hub in Bendigo."

Free adaptive farming workshops

Consultant Dr Kate Burke will present the 'In good times and bad: adaptive skills for your farming future' workshops funded through the Farm Business Resilience (FBR) program which are free but numbers are limited so registration is essential. The workshops will cover a range of topics including: managing climate variability, farm financial performance; growth opportunities, risk, production potential and scenario planning. Running from 8.30am to 3pm over two days each, the workshops will take place between Thursday 14 and Friday 22 August in Rutherglen, Wonwondah and Dunkeld. ## New tool for epilepsy patients

A new questionnaire has been developed to ensure that epilepsy patients are experiencing the best outcomes from their treatments. The Seizure Related Impact Assessment Scale (SE-RIAS) is a 'simple but powerful' five-minute questionnaire that asks patients to rank the impact of their seizures and epilepsy treatment on work, school, and family/social activities in the past 30 days. It converts both seizure and treatment side effects into 'time lost', so it is possible to directly compare and identify which is causing a patient the most issues. A recent study at The Alfred Hospital by Monash and New York University researchers validated the tool and the researchers say it will be made available free of charge to suitably qualified clinicians for use in Australia to help shape management plans. Epilepsy affects 270,000 Australians and is the world's most common chronic neurological condition. It is treatable, but many treatments cause substantial side effects.

Toddlers and dams a dangerous mix

National Farm Safety Week is marked as Sunday 20 to Sunday 26 July by Farmsafe Australia, with a particular focus this year on farm water safety amidst horrifying statistics. Parents and carers are being urged to take immediate steps to reduce the risk of childhood drownings on farms, as new figures reveal inland waterways remain one of the most common sites for toddler and child fatalities. Information is available online to assist rural property owners, with experts pointing out that farms have a variety of water features — including dams, troughs, irrigation channels and septic pits — that are particularly risky for young children. Farm water safety tips include: keeping children actively supervised or within arms reach at all times when in or around water, securely fencing safe play areas away from water hazards, machinery and animals; covering water tanks, securing septic lids and filling or fencing ditches and holes. Experts also encourage early and regular swimming lessons for children and CPR for adults. Bright clothing on young children provides visibility for family activities in rural or bushy areas. For more information on child water safety on farms, and to download the Farm Water Safety Checklist, visit kidsafevic.com.au.

Nationals at Australian Sheep and Wool Show

The 25th Annual Australian Sheep and Wool Show took place in Bendigo over the weekend of Friday 18 to Sunday 20 July, bringing together sheep breeders and fibre enthusiasts in a huge event at Prince of Wales Showground. Member for Northern Victoria Gaelle Broad said she and a team from The Nationals attended the show to hear the concerns of regional Victorians first-hand.

Leader of the Victorian Nationals Danny O'Brien, Senator Bridget McKenzie, the Member for Euroa Annabelle Cleeland and the Member for Murray Plains Peter Walsh all attended with Ms Broad to show their support for the Show. Ms Broad said in a statement following the event that concerns raised included the government's introduction of the National Electricity (Victoria) Amendment (VicGrid Stage 2 Reform) Bill along with drought, roads, rural crime and regional health service access. Ms Broad pledged to remove the contentious Emergency Services and Volunteers Fund, saying: "In government, the Nationals will scrap this tax, along with four other onerous taxes – the GP health tax; the Air BnB tax; the schools tax; and stamp duty on homes up to $1million for first home buyers."

Winery events: council defers decision

AT its recent Council meeting on Tuesday 15 July, Mount Alexander Shire Council (MASC) voted to defer a decision on a planning application from local winery, Panacea Estate. Councillors stated concerns including environmental impact and fire risks.

The application requested approval to host larger events such as annual festivals, community gatherings and functions and to amend the company's liquor licence accordingly. The proposal did not include development of the site, noting that existing and temporary infrastructure would be used to produce events. The winery has been operating as a winery and cellar door for over 20 years and is currently run as Panacea Estate by the applicant, Peter Christen.

Notice of the planning application was advertised via letters to adjoining and surrounding landowners and occupiers; 16 objections and five letters of support were submitted to Council.

As a result of the objections, the application was referred to Council for a decision. The report prepared by Council Officers recommended that the application be approved, saying: "The proposal supports rural-based tourism and community engagement opportunities, contributing to the diversification of land use in the area without compromising the ongoing agricultural potential of the land."

Council concerns and considerations

Initially, Councillor Bill Maltby moved to grant the permit, saying: "The Planning Department have really done their homework and put in 40 conditions," he said, pointing out that many of them addressed the objections received about the proposal. He said the shire is lucky to have numerous wineries. "That area has three or four wineries and they're all active and trying to promote tourism and make a dollar, naturally."

In objecting to the motion, Councillor Lucas Maddock said he had sympathy for the concerns of the objectors. "I wish to focus on the unknown effects this will have on native fauna," he said. "I note and take strong issue with the fact that no ecological assessment was undertaken for the application," noting that "there aren't planning triggers in the environmental significance overlay and significant landscape overlay so they aren't being considered here." He continued to say that he was not satisfied that the effects of noise — from proposed events, likely to include music — on local fauna, and considerations to protect and enhance biodiversity, were addressed in the application.

Councillor Toby Heydon also expressed concern about noise volume and local fauna, quoting a university researcher whose work indicates that human-caused noise changes animals' behaviour and puts them at risk, but pointed out that smaller events at Panacea Estate have been successfully running for some time.

Councillor Philip Walker said he was very sympathetic to outdoor festivals but noted concerns around sound impacts on fauna and residents. He said his main worry was emergency management. "It's a single dirt road in and out of there," he said. "I know the CFA says they've got an emergency management plan... If there is an emergency evacuation and you have 700 people with over 200 cars... it's not going to be an orderly evacuation."

Decision Deferred

After the motion to accept the application failed the vote, Councillor Toby Heydon put a motion to defer the decision and allow the applicant to "consider revising the proposal to remove the Place of Assembly / Large Events component" and undertake further reviews, referrals and provide public notice. The motion to defer was carried by a 5-2 majority. "This won't prevent the operation from continuing to hold smaller-scale events. And I hope this can lead to more conversation between the interested parties so that we can find a resolution that we can all agree to," Councillor Heyden said.

Difficult position for winery

Owner and Operator of Panacea Estate, Peter Christen, said his next steps will be determined by the outcome of the deferred decision and any extra conditions imposed. "The devil's in the detail. It depends exactly on what the details of the conditions are," Peter said, noting that some suggestions raised during the Council meeting, such as sound-proofing the shed/venue, would demand significant financial outlay.

Peter believes the future viability of the business depends on more than making and selling wine. "The options, depending on how practical or impractical the conditions are, range from bulldozing the vineyard and just selling it as a house and land, all the way through to having an ongoing event location and a viable local business that brings visitors to the region."

Changes afoot at the IGA

Jay's excellent new freezers.
Shop local, dudes!

MALDON'S IGA supermarket is undergoing an upgrade and the owner wants to assure shoppers that the goal is an improved shopping experience. The changes will also reveal and highlight the heritage features of the 1859 building, in addition to structural reinforcements and repairs.

Having operated Maldon's IGA for over 14 years, owner Jay Lu has a good understanding of local preferences. He seeks to offer modern convenience inside the historic building, built in 1859 as Dabb and Co Merchants, and hopes it will encourage people to shop local, amidst growing pressures in the supermarket sector.

The recent re-arrangement of the deli area is just the latest phase of the upgrade, which has seen a new roof, exterior paint and the installation of a new deli processing area to the rear of the store. Jay said the aim is for a better display, explaining that the new deli case will also feature "easy-to-grab" items and that deli products are still available. "Please ask staff. The new case is coming soon." He also revealed a glimpse of a heritage fire-safe door that is currently hidden behind the dairy fridges: the new layout will allow the historic detail to be seen by shoppers.

Coming soon are new fruit and vegetable cases and new shelving across the store, while the street-front signage is still being negotiated (to local heritage standards) by the central IGA management and Mount Alexander Shire Council. Jay assures residents that a new notice board is included in that mix, but says it will be maintained by requiring all notices to be dated.

It is a large and complex upgrade that Jay is conscious may cause some inconvenience; he is apologetic to customers and says the improved outcome will be worthwhile. He said: "The shop will look better and better, we would like customers to keep coming to their local store."

IGA is alerting customers to its new operating hours, which are: Monday to Saturday 8am to 6.30pm and Sunday 9am to 5pm. The new Liquor Store hours are 9.30am to 6.30pm from Monday to Saturday and 10am-5pm on Sundays. These hours will come into effect from Monday 28 July.

Let's talk men's health:

Continence and Wellbeing in focus at Maldon Men's Shed

DHELKAYA Health is proud to partner once again with the Maldon Men's Shed for an open and important conversation about men's health. On Wednesday 20 August, Continence Nurse Annie McMurray, will visit the shed to deliver a presentation focused on Bladder and Bowel Health, including the often-overlooked topic of continence and its impact on men's overall wellbeing.

This free session being held between 11am and 12pm aims to break down the stigma surrounding personal health issues, offering a safe, relaxed environment for men to learn, share and support one another.

Statistics show that over 5 million Australians - one in four people - are incontinent and experience bladder and/or bowel control problems. Incontinence is a common condition that, with the right help, can always be managed, treated and sometimes cured.

Annie says, "Dhelkaya Health supports open discussions about incontinence issues and we offer information about improving symptoms by adopting a healthier diet and lifestyle."

The Maldon Men's Shed has long been a hub for community, conversation and camaraderie, welcoming men from all walks of life - from ages 16 to 94 - to connect through projects, conversation and shared experiences. But the Shed is about more than just fixing and making things.

"We've hosted many health talks over the years with Dhelkaya Health," says President Rob Gibb. "They've always been incredibly well received. Some members even bring their partners along - everyone is welcome to this free session."

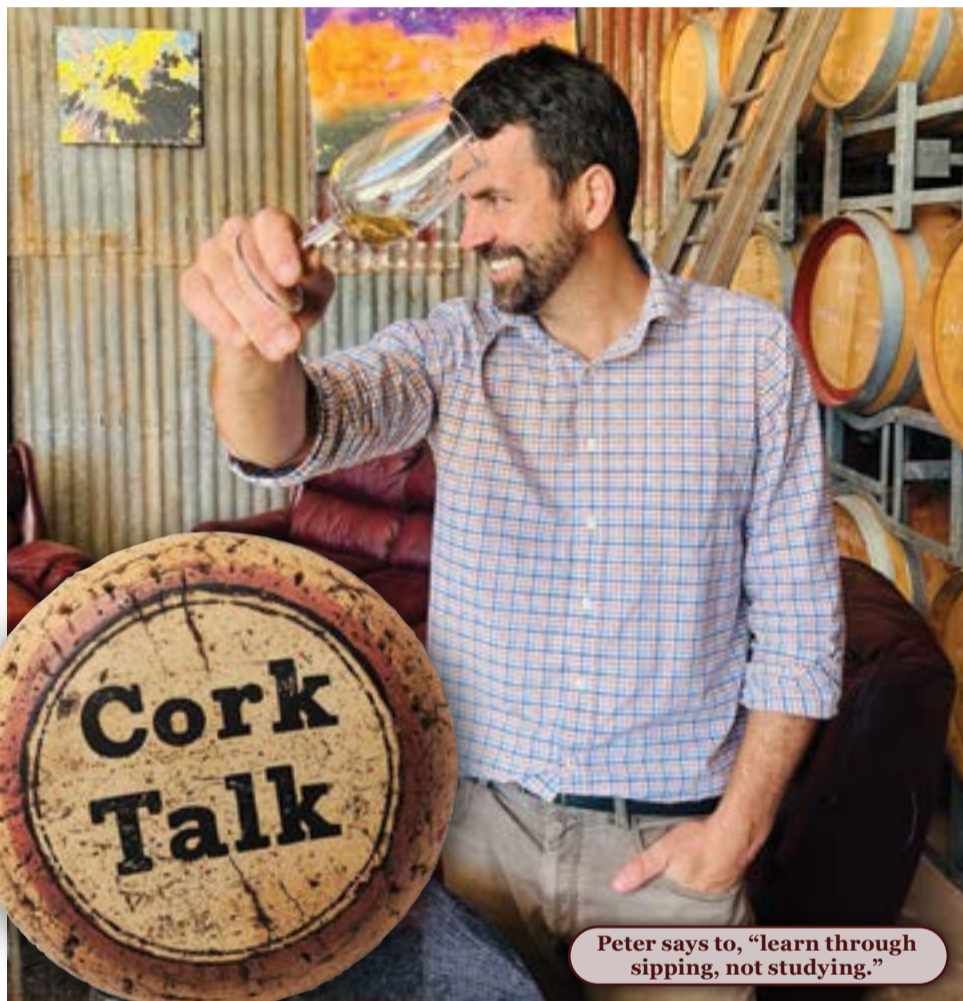

This presentation is open not only to Shed members but also to residents from across the Maldon community. It's part of the Shed's ongoing mission to encourage men to prioritise their health and wellbeing, and to normalise conversations around issues that affect them.

Event Details: Wednesday 20 August from 11am - 12pm at Maldon Men's Shed - located down the dirt driveway off Phoenix Street, Maldon (look out for extra signage on the day).

Tea and coffee will be provided. No bookings are necessary - just come along, bring a mate, and join the conversation.

Continence Nurse, Annie McMurray.

"How to build confidence with wine - forget rules, follow your palate"

THERE'S a strange pressure that can come with drinking wine.

You swirl. You sniff. You nod while someone says it smells like gooseberry, pencil shavings, or the inside of a violin case—and you wonder if you're missing something.

At Panacea Estate, we believe wine isn't meant to intimidate you. It's meant to welcome you.

Forget the rules, the jargon, and the feeling that you need a certificate to enjoy a glass. Confidence with wine doesn't come from knowing all the answers—it comes from paying attention to what you enjoy and building trust in your own taste.

There are no wrong answers. Start here: if you like it, it's good wine. That's it. That's the rule.

It doesn't matter if someone else thinks it's too light, too bold, too fruity, or not structured enough. Wine is personal. Taste is subjective. And your opinion is valid—even if you can't describe it with fancy terms.

Confidence starts when you stop looking for permission to enjoy something.

Learn through sipping, not studying. You don't have to memorise regions or vintage charts to enjoy wine. Here's a better approach:

- Try different wines side by side.
- Notice how they feel—light vs. full, smooth vs. grippy.
- Make notes, even casual ones. "Red fruit," "peppery," "great with pizza."

Every bottle is a chance to learn something about the wine, and about what you enjoy.

Be curious, not correct

Some of the best wine conversations start with: "I'm not sure what I'm tasting, but I like it."

Ask questions. Talk to winemakers. Read labels. Try things from different places and producers. You'll start to see patterns—and those patterns help you understand your preferences. Are you drawn to oaked whites or crisp ones? Earthy reds or fruit-forward styles? There's no right answer—only your answer.

Let go of the 'Perfect Pairing' myth. Pairing wine with food can be fun, but don't let it stress you out.

Yes, acidity can cut through richness. Yes, bold reds can overpower light dishes. But the best pairing is often the wine you like with the food you love. Want Chardonnay with steak? Go for it. Sparkling rosé with sausages? Sounds perfect. There's freedom in choosing what suits your taste—not someone else's rules.

Know what you like—and own it. This is where real confidence lives.

Once you know what you enjoy, you can explore variations of it, ask for recommendations that suit your palate, and describe it in your own words—even if it's 'reminds me of summer holidays' or 'tastes like a good mood'.

At Panacea Estate, we love when people try something unexpected and say, "I didn't think I liked that... but I love this one." That's discovery. That's growth. That's confidence.

On a personal note, my favourite wine stories? They come from people who simply light up when they taste something that hits the mark—whether it's a perfectly aged red or a chilled glass of Semillon on a hot day. You don't need to be an expert; keep a diary of wines along with a taste and colour chart. You just need to be open, curious, and honest with your own senses.

What's a wine you didn't expect to love—but did?

Share your 'surprise sip' moments with us, or better yet—come by Panacea Estate and let's find your next unexpected favourite. We promise: no judgment, no jargon, just good wine and good conversation.

Peter Christen

Maldon District Hospital

ONE need not be a billionaire to experience significant life events in splendour: see the glorious façade of Maldon District Hospital.

Listed with the National Trust and the Victorian Heritage Register, having been built in phases since 1860, the building as it appears now features architectural detailing that is considered distinctive and historically important. The style is called ‘Classical Revival’ and it draws heavily on the architectural elements of ancient Greece and Rome; look at the symmetry of the design and those – relatively-minimalist – Doric columns. (The term Doric is believed to have originated from the Greek-speaking Dorian tribes: save that tidbit for your next trivia night. It’s rare to be able to drop it into conversation — Ed.)

‘Classical Revival’ was a movement in the mid-18th century that tried to emulate the grandeur and simplicity of Greek and Roman styles while adapting them to contemporary uses. Maldon Hospital is exactly that.

The Victorian Heritage Register says: “The original Maldon Hospital was a temporary timber building constructed in 1859. This was soon extended with two red brick wings either side, the male ward constructed in 1860 and the female ward constructed in 1862.” The early versions of the hospital were designed by local artist David Relph Drape. Further extensions and alterations have taken place since then, notably those in 1867 to the designs of TF Kibble, when the elaborate decorations and details were added.

It still operates as a hospital, so it’s not a visitors’ attraction, but it doesn’t hurt to know more about this vision of splendour as you drive or cycle past, enjoying the sites of Maldon.

The serious business of play

Amelia flying high at Maldon Playground.

The plan does not include an evaluation of Council’s existing playgrounds, or whether there are any unmet demands for playgrounds. Councillor Lucas Maddock highlighted this point and said that while a hierarchy is useful, an analysis of needs would also assist decision-making and “...how to best equitably spend our limited resources.”

Cr Maddock added: “When we’re thinking about spending money on playgrounds and we want to make the most equitable decision, we need to know where those service gaps are and if our money would be better spent building a new playground, fulfilling a service gap, than renewing one that already exists.”

After the unanimous motion to accept the Playground Renewal Plan, Mayor Rosie Annear stated: “This document is really to guide how we pick which playground we renew next, because we do have a lot; they are spread across the entire shire.”

It’s interesting to realise how much research and red tape there is in recreation. But when you think about play in terms of health, safety, fitness, tourism, education and socialisation, it’s reassuring to know that climbing and swinging are being treated with appropriate gravitas.

Winter escape to Central Victoria

We’ve just returned from a ‘winter break’ in Central Victoria. We usually visit in warmer periods, but it’s still a tonic for us Melbourne folk.

Fresh air, peace and quiet, idyllic landscapes and wildlife. Even on a bleak, windswept, rainy day, we found warm hospitality and delicious homemade cakes at the Guildford General Store!

But the sun shone most days, and with a warm coat and beanie, you can explore all the region has to offer. Central Victoria is a jewel. It’s so easily accessible from Melbourne, and it provides a much-needed mental health break, summer or winter, away from the noise and pressure of the city. Please keep it that way!

Maldon Cemetery visit

If you’re looking for something to do, why not plan a visit to the Maldon Cemetery.

We are yet to secure funding for the cottage refurbishment, but the roads and drainage have been upgraded, our monthly working bee heroes are keeping the grass and weeds under control and the Tarrengower Ladies have been making wonderful progress on the beautification of several areas, including raking and burning all the leaves and bark along the parking area. A big job well done. Thank you, ladies.

I would like to mention that when we applied for a grant for our wonderful new Defib, we did discuss that it could be seen as a conflict of interest. Let me assure everyone that the Defib is not for our residents, but rather for their visitors.

I hope to see some of you wandering around and enjoying the delightful atmosphere out here sometime soon.

We do let facts get in the way of a good story.

Because that's what facts do. They get in the way of wild theories, sensational headlines, and stories that are just too good to be true. And that's the point.

Real journalism isn't about chasing clicks or stirring outrage. It's about accountability. It's about getting the story right, not just being the first to talk about it.

It's about knowing your community and knowing what matters most.

Because when the truth matters, shortcuts don't cut it.

We believe facts make stories stronger, not weaker. That's why everything we publish is grounded in independence, integrity and an unwavering commitment to accuracy and the community we are part of.

Truth isn't a single person's point of view.

It's a responsibility. And it's one we take seriously.

40 Years of Julie Patey

~ A Retrospective ~ at Newstead Arts Hub

JULIE Patey's 40-year retrospective exhibition will open at the Newstead Arts Hub, 8A Tivey St, Newstead on Saturday 2 August 2025 and run until 24 August. Opening hours 10am-4pm Saturdays and Sundays. The official opening will be on Saturday 9 August at 2pm.

Mt Tarrengower dominates the northern skyline. Looking southwards, Cairn Curran Reservoir presents a spectacular view of huge granite boulders dominating the landscape. This is where Julie Patey and Duncan McGinty established their 1,000-tree olive grove 26 years ago on Goughs Range. This is where Julie has her studio.

Julie taught in TAFE for over 38 years and retired from higher education seven years ago. This body of work, developed over 40 years, demonstrates a close observation of the land and a continual search for the essence of the landscape in her work. The visual power lies in the intense sense of stillness and ambiguity, the thoughtful use of media and paper.

Julie will also be holding an artist talk on Sunday 10 August at 1pm at the Newstead Arts Hub and there will be a workshop on Saturday 17 August from 11am-1pm at The Red Shed.

For further details contact Julie Patey on 0408 528 536, juliepatey.com.au, Instagram: @julie_patey_artist or Facebook: julie.r.patey.

Whether you're drawn by the granite tors and olive groves that inspire her, or simply curious about four decades of one artist's vision, this retrospective promises a rare window into Central Victoria's enduring landscapes.

WINTER DAY AND KNIGHT

Laurie and Lenny, making Warral beeswax candle gifts.

THE final days of the Maldon in Winter Festival and the school holidays resulted in some interesting sights around Maldon. Visitors bustled amongst primary school portraits and kids of all ages rolled candle wax. Neon lights in glorious rainbow-coloured configurations danced across the facade of Maldon Hotel. And there was also the day of the Knight.

session with Greg Nash, who is a professional joustier from Kryall Castle (one of only two in Australia, guess where the other one works?). Greg explained that jousting is a genuine extreme sport with international competitions. His own armour exhibits the 14th Century style, with some personalised features. "I made it myself," he said. "Because I could." Normally squires help Greg to dress in the multiple layers required for full armour, including a padded jacket underneath, but in Maldon he was assisted by Melissa, who works at Sovereign Hill ("a couple of centuries ahead of Greg."). The two of them enjoy historical and fantasy re-enactment, though Greg confessed that posing for the 'Knight Drawing' sessions were not made comfortable by the chain-link and heavy metal.

On Friday 18 July, in the cosy rear room of MANet Gallery, the constant hum of a hairdryer was a clear but puzzling clue that visitors were melting beeswax to roll it into aromatic candles. It was an activity arranged by Warral Honey and Maldon in Winter, with Warral's Business Support Officer Kate cheerfully explaining the process. "It's simple, it's quick, they smell so good. You can't really mess it up and if you do it's easy to fix," Kate said of this fantastic and fun activity. "It is getting the community involved and also being part of the community."

Never a dull moment... A passer-by is amused as Catherine Tait (MANet Gallery) defeats the knight.

Laurie and Lenny had a great time, fully focused on rolling their candles, and said they were planning to give them away as gifts.

Firelight feast

IN the depths of winter it's an ancient human activity to gather around a fire for warmth and to prepare food. While baked bean jaffles prepared in a hot iron are a camp classic, it is possible to incorporate fresh and seasonal produce into your winter feasts.

Regular campers in the goldfields region, Rocky and June Huxley, have mobile meal planning down to a fine art and their methods often boil down to good preparation. "Pack your protein in a marinade," she suggested, while also revealing that a small box packed with condiments is part of their camping kit. They take a few vegetables and fry them up under the stars — corn is particularly fantastic this way.

Scorching fruit is another idea that brings out some amazing flavours — and aromas. Try grilling some citrus (for cordial) or quince and apple for a crumble or with some blue cheese.

Roast Potatoes

Such a classic comfort food, while also operating as a vehicle for other flavours piled on, baked potatoes are so simple and satisfying. If you're popping your potatoes into the fire, you just need foil, some fork-holes and a good spot in the coals.

If you are preparing roast potatoes at home, Anthony, the dedicated chef behind the Community Lunch and Midwinter Dance at Newstead Community Centre, reckons you should take a step back before baking. "Parboil them first," he recommends. "Add some crushed garlic and put some rosemary in the water with some salt. Then it's already infusing." He suggests choosing sebago or pontiac varieties. "They're not mushy, they hold their form." Thanks for the great hints, Anthony.

Roasts and firelight feasts are sociable, delicious and they don't have to come from a can!

IN MALDON TODAY RADIO PROGRAM

Nancy shows you a handful of nothing.

A never-quite-finished book drafted in the 1960s was titled, How to Subdue a 500-pounds Gorilla with Both Hands Tied Behind your Back. No doubt destined to be a bestseller if published, its sub-title was 'Great Expectations'. That was our kind and compassionate way to let you know that there will be no IMT – again – today. Like that fine book which never saw the light of day, we had high, high hopes. And like the book, it won't be happening.

MAINfm management is both treading with the utmost care to ensure presenter safety AND using the refurbishing as an opportunity to make some much-needed improvements and upgrades. It's hoped live broadcasts will resume in early August; our broadcast calendar has pencilled in Loz and Katrine to interview Councillor Rosalie on 1 August. Be hopeful, but don't hold your breath!

Round Robin shakes up Thursday Bridge

IT was Thursday again and it was time for a session at the Bridge Tables which we always look forward to. What would the day bring?

Prior to our arrival there was a 'ring-around' by Danny to find out the numbers expecting to play. What was that? Did we hear correctly? It appeared that there were quite a few 'drop outs' due to individual circumstances and to have enough players for a 'quorum' was not possible.

It did remind me of the song from Grease 'Beauty School Drop Outs' which describes how there are other things in life that need to be done and so be it!

So...the rest of us duly arrived and with some quick thinking it was decided, for a change, to have a Round Robin for the afternoon's play. Jo soon had us organised, and play began. Individual scores were kept after playing four boards and then it was a change of partners. Quite intriguing really. There were some great hands viewed and how nice it would be if Bridge was that easy to play most days, as with great hands the play just flows for the lucky contract maker.

We had a short break for afternoon tea and the warm drink and a munchie or two put us in a good frame of mind to continue with the Round Robin series.

Now, onto the results! With a quick totalling, and not with a calculator, it was discovered that Newstead Jo won 'the prize' for the day with 4,810 points, followed by Judy Mac in second place with 4,765 points. Werner came in third with 3,780 points and followed by Liz in fourth place with 3,000 points. A pleasant and enjoyable afternoon was had.

A special mention to Keven Arnott and Maree who had a win at Ballarat recently – well done!

Until we meet again next week, we hope everyone keeps warm and well and that our regular players are back 'on duty' to help us play out those cards once more.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday at the Senior Citizens Rooms 1pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavours to

BLAST FROM THE PAST

Florence Emily Green

Florence Emily Green.

FLORENCE Emily Green was born in New Zealand in 1862. She came as a child to Australia and in 1880 was one of the first women to pass the University of Melbourne matriculation exams. She then completed a degree at the Australian College of Theology with first-class honours.

Florence came to Maldon in December 1885 when her brother Rev Arthur Vincent Green was appointed the vicar at Holy Trinity. Soon after they arrived, advertisements appeared in the Tarrangower Times announcing that they were reopening the Trinity Church High School. Arthur would teach the Classics and Mathematics, while Florence would teach English and French. Lessons in drawing and painting were also offered and evening tuition could be arranged.

Six months later their first student, Louisa Aylwin, passed the matriculation exams. Other students who matriculated in the School's first years included Colin Gray, who for over 40 years was Maldon's local GP, and Alfred Adams, an engineer and war correspondent, who died in 1900 at Bloemfontein in South Africa while reporting on the Boer War.

During her time in Maldon, Florence also established the Girls' Rational Recreation Club. Rational Recreation was a concept promoted by middle-class reformers in the 19th century aimed at replacing 'degrading' popular pastimes with 'improving' and well-ordered activities. The Club presented several musical performances to raise funds for the Maldon Hospital and the Ladies' Benevolent Association.

Florence is said to have paid some of Ethel (Henry Handel) Richardson's fees at Presbyterian Ladies' College. Later in The Getting of Wisdom Richardson based her characters Miss Isabella and the Rev 'Robby' Shepherd on Florence and Arthur. Her depictions were said to be "malicious but accurate".

In 1889, when Arthur became the vicar of St Paul's Geelong, Florence went with him and there she founded the Geelong Girls' High School, a forerunner of The Hermitage that is now part of Geelong Grammar. In 1894 when Arthur was appointed Bishop of Grafton and Armidale, Florence again followed him and in Armidale founded the New England Girls' School that soon became one of Australia's largest girls' boarding schools.

Florence returned to Victoria in 1910 when she was appointed on a temporary basis as the first headmistress of Firbank Girls' Grammar School in Brighton. Ill health forced her to resign this position in 1911. Florence however had not finished her career as a school founder. Before her death in 1926 she founded two further schools at Montmorency and Murrumbena.

State Government Grant for the Maldon Athenaeum Library

THE library has received an unexpected (but gratefully received) grant as part of the Mechanics’ Institute Grant Program. Mechanics’ Institutes were formed to provide free lectures and educational and community facilities. More than 500 Mechanics’ Institute buildings in Victoria are still in use, but only a handful continue to provide a library service.

The Maldon Athenaeum Library is a member of this small group, along with the Melbourne Athenaeum and the Mechanics’ Institutes in Ararat, Ballarat, Berwick, Bonnie Doon, Footscray, Little River, Prahran, Stanley, Talbot and Toora. In announcing the grants, Minister for Local Government Nick Staikos said, “These grants will help their invaluable library collections remain for future generations to enjoy.” Maldon Athenaeum Library will use the funds as directed to increase the availability and use of technology for library users, including the installation of Wi-Fi, purchase of additional laptops and other IT equipment and upgrading of existing software. These facilities will benefit the community by increasing access to information resources, enhancing management and use of the library collection and facilitating storage and retrieval of library archival material.

Introducing Anne Proudfoot, new library volunteer.

As a recent arrival to the district from Sydney, I was introduced to the Maldon Atheneum Library through a casual conversation about my previous employment at an architectural bookstore. Upon my initial library visit, I was welcomed as a visitor and could see that it was a unique place cared for by the volunteers and the Maldon community. After volunteering, I was given some training in front desk duties by Tina, with patience and good humour. I look forward to getting to know my fellow volunteers, and meeting with library visitors and sharing a mutual love of books.

Crucified by Lynda La Plante, 2025

Detective Jack Warr is haunted by the gruesome legacy of serial killer Rodney Middleton and reeling from a series of events that has left him deep in depression. Refusing the Met-offered counselling service, Jack instead finds solace through renewing a dangerous friendship with the artist and master forger, Adam Border. When a body is discovered nailed to a giant cross in a framer’s shop, Jack feels a connection to the case even though it is not in his jurisdiction. But is his involvement that of a detective or witness?

The Star on the Grave by Linda Margolin Royal, 2024

In 1940, as the Nazis sweep toward Lithuania, Japanese diplomat Chiune Sugihara defies his own government and secretly issues thousands of visas to Jewish refugees desperate to flee. After the war, Sugihara is dismissed and disappears into obscurity. Three decades later, in Australia, Rachael Margol, her father and her grandmother live disconnected from one another and haunted by unspoken tragedies. When Rachel announces her engagement to a Greek Orthodox man, it detonates a long-held secret. The Margols are actually the Margolins: they are Jewish, and her family has concealed their identity from her and the world. But why? As Rachel struggles to understand this deception, an opportunity arrives to visit Chiune Sugihara, the man who risked his life to save them during World War II. Rachel becomes determined to meet him, but will a journey to Japan, and the secrets it uncovers, heal the Margolins or fracture them for good?

Just Don’t be a D**khead by Kasey Chambers, 2024

Kasey Chambers’ *Just Don’t Be a D**khead and Other Profound Things I’ve Learnt* is a whirlwind of great stories, rock-solid life lessons and Kasey Chambers at her most heartfelt and honest. From her childhood in the Australian outback to the heights of her chart-topping international success as a singer/songwriter, Kasey has trusted her gut, stuck to her values and learned some hard truths, always while trying to live by the best advice she’s ever received: just don’t be a d**khead.

The Last Convict by Anthony Hill, 2021

Oxford 1863: Young Samuel Speed sets a barley stack alight in the hope it will earn him a bed in prison for the night. He wants nothing more than a morsel of food in his belly and a warm place to sleep off the streets. What he receives is a sentence of seven years’ servitude, to be served half a world away in the penal colony of Fremantle, Western Australia. When Samuel boards the transport ship Belgravia, he is stripped of his clothing and even his name, and given regulations about when to rise, eat, clean and sleep. On arrival at Fremantle Prison, hard labour is added to the mix and he wonders if life can get any worse. The only solace he finds is a love of reading, which allows the likes of Tom Sawyer and Oliver Twist to become his lifelong friends. Samuel is granted a ticket of leave in 1867 and full freedom in 1871, but what sort of life can a man forge for himself in the colony, with no skills, no money and no family? Will it be the beginning of the life he has always dreamed of, or do some sentences truly never end?

Mrs Kelly by Grantlee Keiza, 2017

Ellen Kelly was born during the troubles in Ireland. When she arrived in Melbourne in 1841 aged nine, British convict ships were still dumping their unhappy cargo in what was then known as the colony of New South Wales. When she died at the age of 91 in 1923, having outlived seven of her 12 children, motor cars plied the highway near her bush home north of Melbourne, and Australia was a modern sovereign nation. The wife of a convict, Ellen, like so many Australian pioneering women, led a life of great hardship. She was a mother of seven when her husband died after months in a police lock-up, lived through famine and Australian drought, saw her babies die, listened through the prison wall while her eldest son was hanged and saw the charred remains of another of her children who’d died in a shoot-out with police. One son became Australia’s most infamous (and ultimately popular) outlaw. Another became a highly decorated policeman, an honorary member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and a worldwide star on the rodeo circuit.

The Tarrangower Times is part of Australia's biggest rural news network

A platform for independent news and stories written by, for and about people living outside Australia's capital cities Australian Rural & Regional News is the first platform featuring independent news from and for the whole of rural and regional Australia. There are many dedicated independent journalists and publishers based outside the Australian capitals reporting on the news from their local area and others that focus on rural and regional news. Some independent news publications are long-established mastheads that have been the trusted source of news for their community for generations and are now in print and online. Some older independents now produce only digital editions. Other newer independents from the digital age have always been online only. Australian Rural & Regional News also features relevant news and media releases from clubs, societies and organisations, companies and businesses, government bodies, local councils and State and Federal Ministers and Members of Parliament. Australian Rural & Regional News is a growing newsroom, separate from the mainstream media, covering Australia outside the capital cities. arr.news

Heart Health

Accessing healthcare in rural areas can be tough. Heart disease affects 5.3% of our community, higher than the Victorian average. We are helping to reduce this difference with specialised cardiac and pulmonary rehabilitation programs designed to support recovery and long-term wellbeing. Cardiac rehabilitation programs support individuals recovering from heart-related events or surgeries, like a heart attack or stent operation. Pulmonary rehabilitation programs support individuals with chronic lung conditions, such as Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD). Both programs involve a team of multidisciplinary professionals, including registered nurses, exercise physiologists dietitians, social workers, pharmacists and occupational therapists.

Max Kay's farm in Yapeen is the site of the first non-indigenous settlement in the area (originally settled by William Campbell of Strathloddon station). The walk starts with 360 degree views of the surrounds, which includes views of Lalgambook. You'll see a wide variety of eucalypts - some over 200 years old - as well as interesting geological formations and work that has been completed by Landcare. Please note that this walk is short but contains some hills, so some fitness is required. The walk will be cancelled if there is any rain whatsoever, to avoid slipping on hills. # Doggos OF THE Goldfields

Introducing our readers to their local doggies and what makes their tails wag!

TT: You're probably the most worldly doggo I have met, Paris.

Paris: Is it the name? Or the Eiffel Tower costume that makes you think that? Because it's just a cardboard replica.

TT: You clearly have an affinity for the City of Lights.

Paris: Well no, you see, I am a COVID puppy and I have a bigger affinity for staying home.

TT: And you seem to be a kelpie or similar?

Paris: I'm a Border Collie/Labrador cross.

TT: I need to stop making assumptions. Are you a talented people snuggler?

Paris: I am very talented at jumping. I can jump through hoops and over high fences but yes, I prefer to jump into the arms of my favourite people.

TT: Who are your favourite people?

Paris: Most people, if I'm honest.

TT: And what is your preferred food? Croissants, escargot?

Paris: My favourite food is sour cream.

TT: That's oddly specific. And not very French.

Paris: Unbeatable. I would happily eat anything but I haven't yet tried snails.

TT: So you're not planning to jump fences and run away to Europe?

Paris: Not when I can stay home and snuggle

TT: That's sweet. No wonder you were so welcome during COVID times.

Paris: There's no more lockdown, but they'll Always Have Paris.

TT: Thank goodness. Bonjour!

Paris is our Doggo of the Week. 25 July, 2025.

MALDON PÉTANQUE CLUB

*All were hoping to be in good form
Easy when you have a fire to keep you warm*

AFTER a week with a mixed bag of weather, Sunday dawned with a frost, but later cleared to a great day for petanque, no wind, no rain and a little sunshine. For those who really feel the cold there was a lovely warm fire aglow. With these conditions, it was no wonder we had 25 players out to do their best. It is good to see a number of players from other clubs enjoying our hospitality and taking home some of our prizes.

After our three games, the computer told us we had three players who had won all their three games. The best score was by Andrew Leckie with 17 points, followed by Colin Westhorpe 14 points, with Memphis our junior player coming third with 12 points (showed us oldtimers how the game should be played).

At the completion of the day's play, we had our Club Annual General Meeting. Our existing hard-working committee were all re-elected and Andrew Leckie was welcomed to the committee because of his work with the website.

Next Saturday we are joining with the Mt Macedon Petanque Club in a social petanque day at Gisborne. Games will be played in mixed teams, weather permitting. We hope for a great friendship day.

Coming up on Saturday 2 August we travel to Ballarat for the next round of the Golden Boule Round Robin competition. Let's hope it is not too cold.

Our next games will be on Sunday 3 August (weather permitting), be there early for a 1pm start on the St Brigid's pistes, all welcome for the fun and games. The fire will be going.

Please Note: Training/practice is on every Thursday at 3pm for the winter, again weather permitting. It is non-competitive but good fun

Check out our website maldonpetanqueclub.com.au. Please support our sponsors: Community Bank Maldon & District and Cantwell Property (buy and sell trust Cantwell) and Boules Australia (our member Chris Przygoda) for all your petanque needs.

MALDON GOLF CLUB

GOLF last Saturday returned to a 2-player Teams format with players in eager competition for the Club's 4BBB Championship - a major Honour Board event in the golfing season.

The field of golfers competed in very favourable climatic conditions, although a little wind here and there, and appreciated the vast improvement in the fairway grasses and new sand on the scrapes.

4BBB events rely on both team members reasonably sharing good scores, confirmed with the results from the leading team of Peter and Bruce; the resultant 48 points a clear winning score on the day.

Congratulations to Peter and Bruce joining past winners on the 4BBB Championship Honour Board.

The Club is very proud to be hosting the Golf Central Victoria SandGreen Championships on Sunday 3 August. Members assistance is sought this Sunday 27 July for a working-bee in preparation for the visiting 50-60 golfers from District clubs.

ROUND 14 – MALDON V TALBOT @ TALBOT

FOOTBALL

SENIORS

MALDON 7.2 (44) DEF BY TALBOT 15.19 (109)

Maldon's Round 14 clash against the second-placed Talbot will be remembered as one of the Bombers' grittiest and most spirited performances of the season, despite what the scoreboard might suggest in their 65-point loss.

Back in April, the opening-round encounter between these two sides saw Talbot dominate with a commanding 109-point win at the Bill Woodfull Reserve. Fast forward to this weekend, Maldon entered the match with nine different players from that first clash, including four debutants who had to 'double up' due to last-minute withdrawals.

With expectations modest but determination high, Maldon took to the field with a competitive mindset. From the outset, they showed tremendous fight, regularly beating Talbot to the ball and stringing together clean passages of play. The first quarter saw Talbot create numerous chances, but inaccurate kicking kept Maldon within striking distance, trailing by just 20 points at the first break.

Nine minutes into the second term, Nathan McLaren sparked the Bombers with the first of his three goals for the day. Maldon's tight checking and relentless pressure disrupted Talbot's rhythm, frustrating the home side, who were chasing a big percentage winning margin.

Trailing by 35 points at halftime, Maldon continued their spirited play, although Talbot had also emerged with renewed energy, applying heavy pressure that resulted in a couple of quick goals. But Maldon refused to lie down, adding a fourth goal against the run of play.

In the final quarter, with only pride on the line, Maldon lifted once again. Their ball movement was sharp and purposeful, resulting in three final-term goals and outplaying their more experienced opponents for stretches of the quarter.

The backline stood tall throughout, led by Callum Buchanan, who impressively kept Talbot spearhead Dean Limbach goalless. Buchanan was well supported by defenders Xavier Noy, Max Johns, and the ever-reliable Darcy Kelly.

Stand-in ruckman Matt Mitchell battled strongly against Talbot's Michael Sikora. The midfield was led by the tireless Damian Wust, the current Berry Powell Medallist and captain Ash Woodman, who both stood out with their work rate and leadership.

With this courageous showing, Maldon now turns its attention to next week's clash with Lexton — a must-win that could see them break into the top eight.

Seniors' goal kickers: N. McLaren 3, A. Woodman 2, B. Johns 1, T. Webb 1.

Best Players: C. Buchanan, D. Kelly, A. Woodman, M. Johns, D. Wust B. Johns, X. Noy.

RESERVES

MALDON (0) DEF BY TALBOT 32.12 (204)

This week we travelled to Talbot, who sit on top of the ladder, and with a limited number we found the going very tough. Those who played gave it their all, with some playing two games. Looking forward to Lexton at home this week. Go Dons!

17.55

MALDON 4.1 (25) DEF BY TALBOT 17.17 (119)

It was a tough outing for the Maldon boys on the weekend as they faced a strong Talbot side. From the first bounce, Talbot asserted their dominance around the contest, using their size and speed to quickly hit the scoreboard and apply scoreboard pressure.

Maldon battled hard throughout the four quarters, showing glimpses of their potential with moments of solid defensive efforts and determination to keep pushing despite the scoreboard margin. The team never dropped their heads, continuing to put in effort until the final siren, which is a credit to their spirit and resilience.

Goal Kickers: T. Hamilton 2, A. Turner 1, Z. Dowdell 1

Best Players: J. McLeod, A. Turner, T. Hamilton, T. Rowbottom, C. McGee, H. McMullan.

14.55

MALDON 13.9 (87) DEF TALBOT 3.2 (20)

In the under 14.5s, in terms of ladder positions, 9th-placed Bombers took on the 10th-placed Talbot. On this occasion, the Bombers were able to turn the tables on their round one loss and come out convincing winners.

Finn Cullen got the Bombers off to an ideal start with a clever soccer goal. From there, the Bombers were able to kick another four goals for the quarter.

Talbot fought back hard in the second quarter, where goals were less easy to come by, with the Bombers leading at the main break by 40 points.

The third term was another competitive quarter with the Bombers adding another 2 goals. The game opened up in the last quarter with the Bombers scoring a further 4 goals to Talbot's 2, ensuring a 67-point victory when the final siren sounded.

Co-Captain Seth Gross kicked 3 goals in a fine display of skill and leadership and was clearly amongst our best. Other goal kickers were Jasta Muller, Finn Cullen, Ollie Merlo, Lucas Pascoe, Cooper Scoble, Will Govier, Callum McGee, Jack Farley and Kaelen McGee.

Co-Captain Xavier Turner also provided great leadership throughout the day. Cooper Scoble played his best game yet for the Bombers, as did Jasta Muller. Lucas Pascoe was dynamic up forward, and utility Vance Jones was always in the contest, as was Will Govier. Finn Cullen, Kaelen McGee, and Jack Farley were amongst our best.

A good contribution from all.

After the bye next week, we welcome back head coach Luke Dwyer and son Zac in our charge to the finals.

Goal Kickers: S. Gross 3, J. Muller 1, L. Pascoe 1, O. Merlo 1, C. McGee 1, W. Govier 1, C. Scoble 1.

Best Players: J. Farley, C. McGee, L. Pascoe, S. Gross.

MALDON (0) DEF BY TALBOT 10.13 (60)

On Saturday, Maldon journeyed to Talbot to take on the top of the ladder team. It was always going to be a tough game, but Maldon's youngsters took to the field determined to stop their run, with just a minor lapse in concentration in the second quarter allowing the home team to get a winning margin on the scoreboard. Maldon were able to keep the pressure on the opposition, causing a lot of turnovers and missed opportunities, and unfortunately, not getting to score. Maldon were congratulated post-game by Talbot's coach, who spoke to the team about their improvements this season and the impressive display of play against the top team.

NETBALL

A GRADE

MALDON 25 DEF BY TALBOT 65

Today was a ripper for our team spirit and cohesion. Everything came together — the communication, the leadership, and the resilience. Every player understood their role and executed it with pride. The team backed each other up and carried out their tasks with determination. Heads were held high, and you could see the fire in their eyes. It was a great game to watch, full of energy, drive, intercepts, and sheer persistence.

Best on: Sophie Z, for her excellent work in the ring and her unwavering resilience.

B GRADE

MALDON 20 DEF BY TALBOT 30

Today we rose to the challenge and supported each other every step of the way. Our intercepts were on point, and the mid-court drives and feeds into the ring created strong opportunities for our attackers to present and deliver. Once again, our defensive end was outstanding, pulling out every trick in the book to try and outplay Talbot's powerful attacking line, and it paid off multiple times.

Best on: GK Michaelah, whose grit and relentless effort stood tall all game.

C GRADE

MALDON 21 DEF TALBOT 18

In a fantastic turnaround, the Maldon C-grade netball team defeated Talbot by a close margin, avenging their previous 7-point loss. Maldon led in every quarter, demonstrating remarkable composure and teamwork throughout the match. Their strong support for each other was evident, contributing to their dominant performance.

Best on: Mia Blake.

UNDER 17S

MALDON 29 DEF TALBOT 18

The U17s again proved they are in fine form with another impressive win over the Talbot girls. The defence was impressive, with Talbot having to earn every goal. With exceptional turnovers throughout the court, it was a very exciting performance by the team.

Best on: Pheonix Hall and Maggie Wamsley.

UNDER 15S

MALDON 23 DEF TALBOT 16

The U15s had an amazing game on the weekend. They certainly came out of the blocks firing in a must-win game this week. The defence was fabulous and the shooting was impressive. The team worked hard to get many turnovers and were able to take away a great win over a classy Talbot side.

Best on: Leah Nalder and Domika Carroll.

UNDER 13S

MALDON 11 DEF BY TALBOT 15

Our Under 13s played with incredible determination and heart this week. The team gave it their all and never backed down.

Defence was a standout — the pressure applied across the court was outstanding, resulting in so many turnovers that gave us extra opportunities. Every player stepped up, chasing down loose balls, applying tight one-on-one defence, and working together seamlessly to shut down the opposition's attack.

Best on: Charlotte and Maci.

UNDER 11S

MALDON 4 DEF BY TALBOT 22

Our Under 11s put in a determined performance this week against a strong Talbot side, going down 22–4. Despite the scoreline, the team kept their heads high and showed incredible spirit right to the final whistle.

Best on went to Ava, who impressed with her excellent positioning in the ring and outstanding defensive pressure. Greta also received best on for her ability to read the play, which led to several key interceptions and turned over valuable possession for the team. Well done team!

Best on: Ava and Greta.
