Twilight Dinner and a new Twilight Market

THE Maldon Twilight Dinner 2023 is set to be bigger and better than before with the possible addition of a Friday Night Market.

The committee is awaiting council approval to include a free Twilight Market to showcase local street traders, food trucks, produce stalls, bands, and swing and belly dancers.

After conducting research last year, the committee found that while most of the visitors to the Twilight Dinner stay in accommodation Friday and Saturday nights (due to the two-night minimum on most stays), most of these visitors were spending the Friday evenings in Castlemaine. Event organisers hope to encourage visitors to stay in Maldon by extending the festival to include activities, music, food and stalls on Friday.

The move to a two-day festival has resulted in concern from some local businesses regarding extending street closure hours.

Cr Stephen Gardner told the Times he has had a number of local traders contacting him with concerns regarding the event and the subsequent street closures.

Pamela Jewson, the organiser of the event, has told the Times, "The proposal is to close the street on Friday from 5.30pm until 9.30pm, which shouldn't affect local trade. There won't be any fencing for the Twilight Market, and local stores will be able to remain open. If the council approves the event, the street will have one-lane access for overnight traffic."

Event organisers are hoping to close the street at 10am (in the past closed at 11am) on Saturday 21 January, to allow additional time for volunteers to set up for dinner, including white picket fencing along the shopfronts on Main Street in place of the controversial hurricane fencing that has been used for the past few years (with the exception of hurricane fencing at each end of the street).

"We are trying to alleviate stress for the volunteers by allowing more time for set-up before the heat of the day," said Pamela. "Moving heavy tables and chairs in the summer heat, especially for our older volunteers, can be difficult; we're always racing against the clock."

"I have worked closely with the council for seven years to

What do people think about the closure of the Blue Light Camp?

☆ John: "I think it's a shame it's closing. It's such a great facility for school kids and a source of employment for locals."

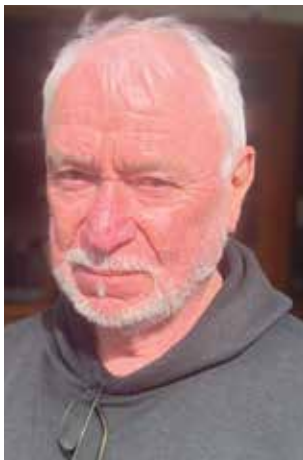

☆ Mark: "It's a big setback for the youth of the state, particularly given the huge emphasis on youth mental health following the pandemic."

☆ Kate: "It's such an important asset, and it's devastating to lose it, not just for local people, but for disadvantaged youth, especially given the increased need for children's mental health services."

☆ Brad: "It's a shame. The energy from the camp is such a good thing."

☆ Mike: "What's it going to be? It's a great resource for the town and if it's no longer run as a camp that will be a huge loss."

☆ Les: "I don't think it's a good thing. I love seeing the large groups of kids riding around."

Battle Of Australia Day Commemoration Service: Maldon Sub-Branch RSL

BATTLE for Australia Day is commemorated every year on the first Wednesday in September, marking the first defeat of Japanese forces in the Battle of Milne Bay.

It recognises all those who served on the home front in Australia and who fought on land, air and sea in battles in the Coral Sea and New Guinea, including Milne Bay and the Kokoda Track, between 1942 and 1945. Many were Maldon people and members of our RSL, some of whom were Dick Cox, Bill Dyall, Len Sells, Brian Fenn, Alex Allan, Bob Lang, Harry Dieckmann, Laurie Cox and Jessie Bowe.

Let us not forget the contribution made by Militia Units in the Battle for Australia, the Chocolate Soldiers, ‘Chocos’, while fighting a defensive retreat, did halt the advance of the Japanese on the Owen Stanleys until the arrival of the second AIF, and continued to fight with honour during the time.

Fuzzy Wuzzy Angels

Many a mother in Australia,
When the busy day is done,
Sends a prayer to the Almighty
For the keeping of her son,
Asking that an angel guide him
And bring him safely back—
Now we see those prayers are answered
On the Owen Stanley Track.
For they haven’t any halos,
Only holes slashed in their ears,

And their faces worked by tattoos,
With scratch pins in their hair.
Bringing back the badly wounded
Just as steady as a hearse,
Using leaves to keep the rain off
And as gentle as a nurse.
Slow and careful in bad places
On the awful mountain track,
The look upon their faces
Would make you think that Christ was black.
Not a move to hurt the wounded,
As they treat him like a saint;
It’s a picture worth recording,
That an artist’s yet to paint.
Many a lad will see his mother,
And husbands wee’uns and wives,
Just because the fuzzy wuzzies
Carried them to save their lives
From mortar bombs, machine-gun fire,
Or a chance surprise attack,
To safety and the care of doctors
At the bottom of the track.
May the mothers of Australia,
When they offer up a prayer,
Mention those impromptu angels,
With their fuzzy wuzzy hair.

This Little Piggy Market is coming to Maldon

☆ Lisa Speed owner and chef of This Little Piggy Market.

THIS Little Piggy Market will open its doors on Monday 19 September, providing delicious pre-cooked Thai, Chinese, Spanish and Indian cuisine.

Lisa Speed, owner and chef, has travelled the world, honing her craft while living in Spain and while travelling around Asia. Since its conception 25 years ago, This Little Piggy has had many forms, initially operating as This Little Piggy Sausage and Co business making sausages and salamis.

“I was known as the queen of pork,” said Lisa.

The company then moved into catering before a move to Bali, where it was known as This Little Piggy Warung, a popular local eatery.

From 2017 until the beginning of the pandemic, This Little Piggy Market was operating in Barker Street Castlemaine, where Lisa’s Bahn Mi and Rice Paper Rolls became infamous.

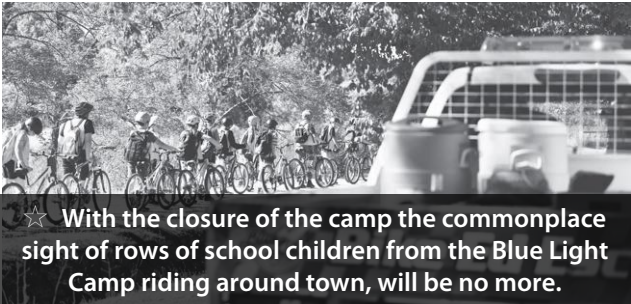

Now, This Little Piggy Market has found its way next door to the Maldon Post Office. Two meal portions will be available for $24.50 and a one-person portion for $15.50.

Lisa will begin offering five meal options: Chinese Sticky Master-stock Braised Beef Cheek, Thai Chicken Lemongrass and Ginger Curry, Spanish ‘El Matador’ Mixed Seafood Cazuela, North Indian Lamb and Kidney Bean Rama Masala and Western Indian ‘Salaam Bombay’ Vegetables with Lentils and Spinach. With accompaniments of salad, rice, bread, raita and fried shallots that make the dishes sing.

Make sure to pop down and check it out!

Located in the alcove next to the Maldon Post Office at 95 High Street. Opening hours Monday to Friday 2.30pm- 6.30pm.

Blue Light Youth Camp closure

☆ With the closure of the camp the commonplace sight of rows of school children from the Blue Light Camp riding around town, will be no more.

THE much-loved camp on Derby Hill will officially close its doors on Saturday, 24 September. The results of the closure are widespread, with 25 employees left without work and the cancellation of all future school camps and programs for disadvantaged young people.

The future of the camp is uncertain, and many are concerned about the loss of a valued community facility. Community events such as the Folk Festival have booked the camp for future events and are now left to find alternative accommodation.

Pam Lyons, organiser of the Folk Festival told the Times, “We have advertised the Blue Light Camp as available accommodation on our website. Some people have already paid deposits and we’re left trying to find them somewhere to stay for the festival.”

The camp was about to begin running programs for vulnerable, marginalised, disadvantaged young people at risk of being engaged in the youth justice system. These programs, designed to support young people to return to structured learning, will no longer be available to those who need them most.

Jonathan Mitchell brought on as the Executive General Manager of the camp early in 2021, managed to sustain the camp amidst the pandemic, despite considerable financial strains. When the camp was able to reopen in March this year, Jonathan told the Times, “Once restrictions were lifted, we were inundated with bookings, right up to 2024.”

CEO of Blue Light Victoria (BLV), Elissa Scott, told the Times that despite ongoing fundraising and grant applications, the pandemic has had a significant impact on BLV’s ability to generate income. BLV owns the campsite at Maldon and has had a lease in place for the site with the tenant, the Victorian Blue Light Youth Camp (VBLYC).

“The Maldon campsite requires significant maintenance, has increased running costs and expensive insurance (insurance costs have more than doubled),” said Elissa Scott. “A rental increase was not viable for the camp tenant. The camp will close at the end of September 2022 and will go on the market shortly, with the assistance of real estate agents Mason White.”

ensure we run a slick, professional event that doesn’t cut corners. Restrictions and regulations have changed dramatically over that time, and of course, in the last two years, we have run an event through the middle of a pandemic,” Pamela told the Times.

“I agree not everyone is happy with street closures, but they are the minority, and it has never stopped the event before from being a huge success and boost to the town’s economy.”

According to (BLV) the land is zoned PCRZ, which under the Victorian planning provisions is:

- To implement the Municipal Planning Strategy and the Planning Policy Framework.
- To protect and conserve the natural environment and natural processes for their historic, scientific, landscape, habitat or cultural values.
- To provide facilities that assist in public education and interpretation of the natural environment with minimal degradation of the natural environment or natural processes.
- To provide for appropriate resource-based uses.

BLV was established in 1976 and began delivering drug and alcohol-free discos for young people before being established as a not-for-profit organisation and a registered charity.

BLV acquired the Derby Hill Property in Maldon in 1987.

Frog choir

☆ The Bells Swamp ‘Frog Choir’.

Bells Swamp, Neereman, at the moment with all the rain, is in flood. It is well worth a visit, just to listen to the ‘Frog Choir’, with an abundance of ducks and other water birds. In addition, there was a stunning pair of White Necked Herons on show.

Brooms Lane on the left is easy to walk up, and we were rewarded with many Parrots and a magnificent Crested Shrike-tit who was busily ripping off big pieces of bark to feed on the insects.

When the water drops, the mud left will attract many more species of water birds.

All First Nations line-up rocks Treaty Day Out Bendigo

TREATY Day Out, the biggest, blackest event on Victoria’s music calendar, is returning, and this time it’ll be rocking Bendigo.

A first-class, all-First Nations line-up is set to light up Dja Dja Wurrung Country in October, with Briggs, Dan Sultan, No Fixed Address, Marlon x Rulla, Kee’ahn, and more, sharing the stage for a celebration of our Treaty journey and the oldest surviving culture in the world.

Kicking off on Saturday, 1 October, at the Bendigo Showgrounds, the festival will play host to food trucks, First Nations market stalls, a smoking ceremony and traditional and cultural activities for the whole family.

Treaty Day Out is hosted by the First Peoples’ Assembly of Victoria (the Assembly), the elected voice for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples in the Victorian Treaty process.

Tickets to the festival are free for First Nations people who are enrolled with the Assembly and are available to purchase for friends and allies.

Any Traditional Owner of Country in Victoria who is 16 years and older is eligible to enrol, along with any Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander person from interstate, as long as they have lived in Victoria for at least three of the past five years.

Enrollees can vote in Assembly elections to pick the members who will represent their interests on the journey to Treaty.

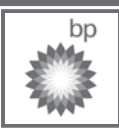

Amy Rust, proud Kokatha woman and Head of Engagement and Communications at the Assembly, said she wants Victorians to share in First Nations culture.

“Treaty Day Out is a way for us to share our culture and to invite all Victorians on the Treaty journey with us.

“The work we’re doing is monumental, but this is an opportunity to come together, reflect on how far we’ve come and have fun with the mob. Our culture, our music, is deadly, and we want to share that and to celebrate it all.”

Tickets to Treaty Day Out are on sale at treatydayout.com

For more information about enrolling with the Assembly, head to firstpeoplesvic.org/enrol or contact engagement@firstpeoplesvic.org.

and the Victorian Blue Light Youth Camp (VBLYC), not for profit organisation, was born. Since this time, the VBLYC has run school camps, specialising in bicycle safety and, more recently, started the process of introducing programs targeting young people who have been identified as being at risk of becoming a victim or perpetrator of a crime.

In 2014 Victoria Police discontinued financial support for BLV, resulting in an array of partners and community stakeholders becoming involved in the running of school programs, discos and other programs. BLV is currently funded via a variety of sources, including Federal and State Governments, fundraising, sponsorship, donor support and fee-for-service programs.

Elissa Scott said, "Proceeds from the sale of the property will be invested. In line with our strategy, income from the investment will go towards furthering the work of Blue Light Victoria across the State. This allows Blue Light Victoria to continue to support many young people in regional communities and numerous schools."

Since being purchased by Blue Light Victoria, the Victorian Blue Light Youth Camp has provided children with a unique opportunity to enjoy the history of our township, adventuring at the camp and participating in the Bicycle Safety Program.

There has been no comment from Victorian Blue Light Youth Camp (VBLYC) regarding the sale.

Maldon Streetscape Revitalisation Project

Project update – Friday 16 September 2022

Next steps

After we resurface the Old Bank Corner, install the stone drain on High Street, and make minor modifications to the timber bridge, we'll be focusing our efforts on the following areas:

- complete street seat installation
- update waste bins
- dress electrical event power boards
- revise the stone drain from the CFA to the Kangaroo Hotel
- install the Main Street crossings at Old Bank Corner
- upgrade wayfinding signage
- extend the footpath from Maldon Timber and Hardware to Tobin Street.

Thank you to the community of Maldon for your support, patience and cooperation while works are progressed on the project.

Works begin at Old Bank Corner

Old Bank Corner is temporarily closed while improvement works take place.

The works involve the temporary removal of furniture resurfacing, minor changes to existing furniture and soft landscaping. This project aims to make the space more welcoming and accessible so it can continue to be enjoyed well into the future.

The space will be open again in approximately two weeks.

Celebration of 52 years of artistry

☆ Serge Daeffler 15.06.1940 to 22.07.2022.

☆ Showing the Farm.

☆ Wilsons Promontory.

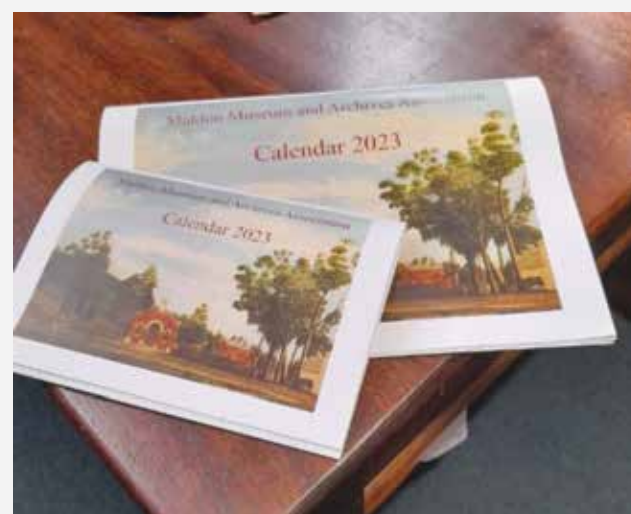

SERGE Daeffler had a life of difficulty, loss and sadness, but through this, he was able to find determination, patience, desire to learn, desire to achieve perfection and most of all desire to capture the essence of nature and the Australian bush.

He was born in Paris during WWII, a difficult time for anyone. His father abandoned the family, and his mother had to work to survive during the war years. She was a translator and, unable to personally raise her son, he was placed in the care of the children's homes, as so many young children all over Europe were at that time. Serge would have been five years old when the war finished, and the task of reuniting families commenced. He was reunited with his mother, and they continued to live in France but eventually emigrated to Australia in 1955. Serge worked for many years in the shoe industry and later joined MacDonald Industries working in sales.

He married and had two children but suffered loss yet again after his wife died of pneumonia, leaving him a single father.

In 1970 Serge commenced painting and found some solace in this activity. He took lessons with Lance McNeil's Art Academy for quite a few years and learned the technical side of drawing, painting and tonal values; the start of Serge developing his observational skills.

The calendars are in stock now at the Museum, or you can contact the Secretary on 0427 752 598, secretary@maldon-museum.com.au, to arrange a purchase.

Some years later, he joined the classes of Gerard Mutsaers, son of the famed Frank Mutsaers. Gerard imparted the magic of light in paintings. Gerard taught all his students to see and observe the movement of light in nature, bringing the bush alive. Plein Air (outside) painting was Serge's great love. He spent days outside capturing the spirit of the bush and then many more hours sorting the perfection of each work.

He then turned to Dudley Drew for guidance in making his painting style freer. All those beautiful flower paintings are the result of this period of his tuition.

Serge retired from work in 2009 and proceeded to become a full-time artist, which he did with total dedication, out in the wild and back in the studio. He was prolific in his production; he was a teacher to many and leaves a legacy of his beautiful work.

Serge truly gave much to art and artists and will be missed as a friend and fellow artist. Chris Moule and Vivien Pells feel very honoured to be presenting this work for exhibition and sale.

Serge's and other artist's works will be on display at Hoppers Gallery, 8 Vincents Road, Maldon (follow the signs from cnr. Main and Phoenix Streets) until late October.

Please note the TT will still be available as usual next Friday 23 September despite the public holiday.

Matters of Faith

Why God created us?

did God create the world? (By world I mean the earth and all that exists in it, both fauna and flora). God, in His splendour, goodness and love, created the world so that He can be able to manifest his love, glory, honour and might.

St. Thomas Aquinas says that love is most possibly the reason why God created man and the world in general.

Because of His infinite love, God created man to spread His goodness and love. He also says that God created the world so that the world and humanity knows Him, loves Him, serves Him, praises and glorifies Him.

In The Acts of the Apostles 17:24-25 says, 'the God who made the world and all that is in it, the Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in sanctuaries made by human hands, nor is He served by human hands because He needs anything. Rather it is

He who gives to everyone life and breath and everything.' He is the one who breathes life into us, and through His providence, we survive.

God wishes that we attribute all our joys, success, gain and wealth and whole life to Him. We shouldn't think that it is from our own efforts that we gain what we have. We, as human beings, think that if we have money, we can do without God.

Finally, the Bible verse in Isaiah 6:3 says, 'Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts, the whole earth is full of his glory.' Each one of us should, therefore, know why God created us, and that is to know him, love Him, serve Him, praise Him and fill the earth with His glory from our works.

Do you know the signs of stress in dogs and cats?

IT'S not uncommon for dogs and cats to be nervous when visiting the vet clinic.

Some signs that they may be stressed include: not wanting to get into the car, vocalising during the car ride, refusing to enter the clinic door, or hiding behind their owner or under the chairs inside the clinic. Dogs that are feeling anxious may exhibit signs such as excessive licking, yawning, panting or drooling, trembling or tail wagging. Cats may also lick or meow excessively, flatten their ears, or hide within their carrier and refuse to come out.

There are many things we can do to make vet visits more comfortable for them, and this starts by preparing them at home. For cats, choose a cat carrier with good ventilation and multiple access points, including a detachable top. People often store their cat carrier in the shed and only take them out for vet visits, which can lead to the cat developing negative associations between the cat carrier and the vet. Instead, keep the cat carrier inside the house, with the top off and a comfy blanket or soft jumper in the base – this will ensure it smells and feels familiar and safe. Prepare the car with calming music or pheromone sprays and ensure the temperature is appropriate. Make sure your dog is secured well in the vehicle, either in a crate or with a seatbelt harness. Consider placing dogs and cat carriers on the floor to minimise motion – non-slip mats can help too. Finally, try not to feel rushed or stressed yourself, as this may be picked up by your pet and make them feel anxious too.

If your pet doesn't travel well, mention this to your vet so that they can prescribe anti-nausea or anti-anxiety medication if appropriate. Motion sickness can add to travel anxiety, and anxiety can also lead to motion sickness. It can help to not feed too much on the day of the visit, and bring lots of their favourite treats with you. If you know your pet struggles with walking into the clinic, call ahead and let the clinic staff know so they can meet you outside or offer a home visit consultation.

At Maldon Vet Clinic, we make a special effort to ensure pets and owners have a calm, comfortable and stress-free veterinary experience. Our staff have undertaken specific training and are certified in fear-free handling of pets, so we are skilled at identifying and managing stressed or anxious animals. We have a lovely outdoor waiting and consultation area and offer home visit consultations for owners that are having difficulty bringing their anxious pets into the clinic. If you've been putting off a veterinary visit for your pet, why not give Maldon Vet Clinic a call on 54 751 751.

Snakes out and about as the weather warms up

AS the days become warmer, snakes are starting to emerge to bask in the sun and search for food and a mate.

Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning (DELWP) Senior Wildlife Projects Officer, Leila Brook said sunny weather also means it's more likely people will encounter a snake.

"It's not uncommon to find snakes warming themselves on a rock, path or in a clearing during early spring, particularly on a sunnier day, so it's important we're mindful that they can be out and about earlier than normally expected," Ms Brook said.

"Snakes are generally shy and prefer to keep away from people. Often when a snake is found in a backyard, it's because it's moving through the area to another habitat.

"In most encounters with humans, a snake will seek the fastest escape route and take off. However, if cornered and feeling threatened, a snake may defend itself.

"Snake species found in the Loddon Mallee region include the Eastern Brown Snake (Pseudonaja textilis), the Red-bellied Black Snake (Pseudechis porphyriacus) and the Tiger Snake (Notechis scutatus).

"These three species are venomous, but it is rare for them to bite people. Most snake bites occur when people try to capture or kill a snake.

"Being aware that snakes may be around and being informed about how to react to them is important at this time of year."

If you live in an area with snakes, please remember:

- When left alone, snakes present little or no danger to people.
- Wear long pants and footwear, and stick to cleared paths and trails.
- If you see a snake, keep calm and move yourself and anyone with you (including pets) away from the area.
- Don't attempt to capture or harm snakes. Instead call DELWP on 136 186 for further advice.
- Maintain lawns and clean up around your house, as snakes are attracted to shelter, such as piles of rocks and timber, chook sheds, sheets of metal, and building materials.
- Undertake first aid training and ensure your first aid kit contains several compression bandages.

If someone is bitten, call 000 immediately.

Snakes are protected under the Wildlife Act 1975, and it is illegal to capture, harm, or kill them. If you have information about people wilfully destroying protected wildlife, please contact Crime Stoppers Victoria on 1800 333 000.

Australian orienteering championship is coming to Maldon

IN late September and early October, the Central Highlands area, including Maldon, will play host to the Australian Orienteering Championships.

Over 800 Orienteers, aged eight to 88, will come to the area for nine races in nine days. Among the highlights will be the 'classic' long-distance race on an area never before used for orienteering just north of Maldon on a map called 'Nuggetty Range'.

Orienteering is an endurance sport where competitors run (or walk if they prefer) around a prescribed course on maps made especially for the events. The sport combines the physical challenge of running at speed through native bushland with the mental challenge of navigating to a series of checkpoints that have to be found precisely. The areas chosen are often hard to navigate because of the complexity of rocks, gold diggings or complex spurs and gulleys. The Maldon area has a great tradition of hosting events as Mount Tarrengower has been used for events for many years, as has the forest towards Newstead.

The classic or long-distance events near Maldon on Saturday 1 October, will test competitors because the area is steep and rocky. It is also unusual to combine granite-covered hills with some gold mining remnants. The combination of rocks and diggings makes for a challenging Orienteering map. The event will attract over 500 runners from other states, over 100 from New Zealand with the remainder from Victoria. Those competing in the classic distance 'elite' classes will run the equivalent of a half-marathon but in rugged terrain. Expected winning times will be 80 to 90 minutes in the elite classes.

Orienteering is an unusual sport in that all age groups compete at the same event. There will be 'age classes' for students from 10 to 18 and 'masters' type competitors in five-year age brackets from 35 to 85! Some families will have three generations, all competing on the same day but over distances and courses appropriate for their age. Some competitors in the 'masters' type classes have been competing against each other for 40 or 50 years, and the rivalries continue!

The favourites in the 'elite classes' are Victorian Aston Key, who recently returned from a top-five finish in the World Championship and his local rivals Pat Jaffe (Vic) and Alistair George (NSW). The women's races are harder to pick, as former champions like Natasha Key (Vic), Grace Crane (ACT) and Aislinn Prendergast (Vic) battle up-and-coming younger athletes like Caitlin Young (ACT) and Emily Sorensen (SA). The classic distance race is followed on Sunday 2 October, by the last event of the nine-day carnival, the interstate relays in the forest near Campbells Creek.

For locals who want to come and have a go, they can enter beginner-friendly on-the-day entry courses at the Nuggetty Range event.

Entry will be free for anyone who can show they live at a Maldon address. The event is also free for spectators, and there will be catering available.

Know Your Local - Anne Borg - Part 3

We found Maldon in 1989. I wanted to go to the country, and because I was a painter, people said, 'Go to Maldon; you'll love it.'

Albert and I saw the sign for Maldon and parked at the top end of town, and before we'd even gone anywhere, Albert said, 'Quick, where's the real estate agent?' Graham Waller helped, and I saw that Cumquat Tearooms (where Table et Terroir is now) wanted to sell. I sat all of Saturday and Sunday watching the street. That evening I walked in at 5.45pm and said to Judy, I'm going to buy the business (I didn't know anything about the town. I did not ask one question re the business. I hadn't even talked to Albert!) I went to Graham Waller and organised a second mortgage and a place to rent.

The tea rooms seated 16 people and had a terrible little kitchen and two little spare rooms out the back. Albert took the wall down two weeks later (without even telling me!) There was dust all over the tablecloths and plates, but he was very clever and made two small rooms into one big room. When we sold it, it seated 85 people.

Initially, after I bought it, I thought, 'What have I done?!' The first meal I cooked used Kosher meat I had in the fridge at home. I made turkey soup.

We had no income for three months, living on Mum's pension. It took me a while to be efficient and fast with my food. I always tried to cater for children, diabetics and vegetarians. Scones were my speciality. I remember on Easter weekend, serving over 3,000 people over the three days. And I made everything myself, even the marshmallows.

I was upset, as people who came into my shop often complained there was nowhere to stay overnight. There were only three beds in all of Maldon. So after five years, I bought Palm House and turned it into a bed and breakfast. I went to the auction of the Australian Hotel and bought fridges, TVs, bedding for home and stuff for the shop.

I got sick of people asking if I'd open nights, so we did. Albert was the waiter; he was the most amazing person in the shop. The first night we opened, one of the customers called me over and said, 'This is real food!' (As a child, I was always helping in the kitchen. Mum had me plucking chickens and cooking at eight years old).

Due to back injuries from lifting my son, it got to the point where I was unable to stand and had to spend many days in bed. My faithful, young helpers ran my kitchen; 16-year-old Kerry Sheldon and her wonderful mother, Faye Sheldon. After a year, I had a spine operation, which I recovered well from.

The shop has changed hands many times since we sold it. I don't understand why people like a shop, buy it and immediately change it. I love Maldon and businesses, and some people are not aware of what is needed.

I used to open on Monday and Tuesday because no one else was open, and I'd be really busy. It worried me that people coming here were disappointed and were unable to see what they wanted.

Three years ago, I had a painting exhibition, and I surveyed 80 people; most people came to Maldon on Mondays and Tuesdays as they were coming from other towns travelling home to Melbourne. It really upsets me when the shops are closed. There's so much potential in Maldon, especially with all the investment happening, we're going to be hopping.

These days I volunteer at the Castlemaine Salvation Army Opshop; I handle fabric, measure, price and check donated sewing machines for them.

I still make apple pies and sell them at the Sunday market in Castlemaine; I guess that's because Mum used to make them when I was a kid.

I still own my own sewing business, and at the moment, I am repairing an 80-year-old wedding dress for a display at the shop above Run Rabbit Run in Castlemaine. The dress, made in France, was ripped to shreds. I've spent hours and hours repairing it. I'm doing it with love, and I'm enjoying it. Patience, that's my gift; I have boundless patience. My mother was the same. And it's important to think positively. I don't like anything to beat me!

Fratin Brothers Grampians 2020 GST

Fratin Brothers vineyards are nestled between the rolling hills of the Great Dividing Ranges in the Grampians wine region. Following a long tradition of family winemaking in the region, brothers Mick and Dino Fratin employ traditional winemaking methods, including basket pressing to create wines of elegance and distinction.

The 2020 is Fratin Brothers first vintage of GST (Grenache Shiraz Tempranillo) and is a worthy addition to their range of table wines.

Translucent light ruby in colour, this gorgeous blend of 50% Grenache, 35% Shiraz and 15% Tempranillo offers heady aromas of raspberry, plum and cherry, wrapped up with lovely spice, a hint of black pepper, and an earthiness thanks to the Tempranillo.

The gentle red fruit flavours of Grenache are prominent, making this an extremely easy wine to drink. Medium-bodied and beautifully weighted, this GST shines with or without food. And best of all, it's drinking beautifully right now!

Castlemaine Central Wine Store is committed to sourcing great wines from small family-owned Victorian producers. Cheers!

IT'S been a busy term for everyone at Newstead Primary School with a soccer workshop, Book Week dress-up, the Grade 4/5/6 Passion Project and bush kinder with the local kindergarten. Plus, a day of science and technology learning about wind tunnels, circuits, switches and micro bit coding.

The new library and music room is complete and looking fabulous, and now onto the rest of the renovations at the beginning of the school holidays!

As well as having an amazing array of extracurricular activities, the school has also achieved amazing NAPLAN results for Grade 3 students in 2022, with 50% of students (or over) in the top two bands (above-expected level) in all curriculum areas measured, and in reading 81% of Grade 3 students were in the top two bands (the state average is 58%). 63% of NPS Grade 3 students were in the top two bands for numeracy (with a state average of 39%).

An incredible result for Newstead Primary School!

THE library respectfully acknowledges the recent passing of Queen Elizabeth II. Whether a monarchist or a republican, we have all witnessed the end of another Elizabethan age. A remarkable life lived in the service of others.

Scrabble Club is going well on each Saturday morning from 11am to 1pm. The top score this week went to Cheryl-lee at 406, Lila at 380 and Tina at 351. Below we have reviewed another three great new titles at the library for you to read and enjoy.

My Name Was Judas* by C.K. Stead

Told from Judas's point of view, this is an intriguing and provocative recasting of the story of Jesus. At the time of telling, Judas is an old man living a quiet life in Sidon, Greece, where he has reinvented himself as Idas. Despite the rumours of his own death, which have reached his ears, he is perhaps one of the last people to have known Jesus as a boy when they were close friends studying with the same tutor. He knows himself to be one of a dwindling number of people with firsthand knowledge of Jesus as a man and of events leading up to and surrounding his death. From time to time, followers of Jesus pass through Sidon, preaching of miracles and betrayals, but somehow these never quite reconcile with Idas's lived experience.

Stone Sky Gold Mountain* by Mirandi Riwoe

There have been a number of novels set in the goldfields told from the perspective of white men (or sometimes a woman). If Chinese are portrayed at all, it is in passing and often as a market gardener. Readers could be forgiven for thinking they were a minor presence, although a deeper reading of history tells us that was not so. In Queensland, for example, where Stone Sky Gold Mountain is set, there were four to five times more Chinese than white people. In Riwoe's novel, a young Chinese brother and sister (who has to disguise herself as a boy) have come to Australia in the hope of rescuing the family back home from poverty. Having little luck panning for gold, Lai Yue, the brother, goes sheep minding while Ying works as an assistant in one of the many Chinese-owned shops in Maytown. Through their voices, Riwoe tells of those who, although dominant in number, were nevertheless relegated to the margins and regarded with suspicion in a brutal and racist society where white males wield authority. In researching this novel, Riwoe delved into the academic literature of her Chinese-Indonesian father, who spent time in Shanghai and also in Maytown. The result is a beautifully written historical novel grounded in fact. It makes a significant contribution to a fuller understanding of life on Australian goldfields.

Agamemnon's Kiss* by Inga Clendinnen

This diverse collection of essays from the author of the award-winning memoir Tiger's Eye is fascinating, thoughtful and thought-provoking. Some were first written as book reviews, others as lectures, such as one given to a conference of psychoanalysts on the theme of narcissism, which draws on her historian's knowledge of Aztec culture. Some are entertaining reminiscences, such as the one recalling beach holidays in an era 'when dogs roamed free' and dog catchers were 'regarded much as child abductors are now'. Others ponder death or unpack Australian history. All are finely tuned observations written with a stylish turn of phrase.

BLAST FROM THE PAST

WE DID BUT SEE HER PASSING BY

☆ Royal Tour Train 1954.

Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip's tour of Australia in 1954 was long anticipated. They had been due to visit in 1952, but their plans were cut short by the death of King George VI. Following Elizabeth's coronation, they finally arrived in Sydney aboard the liner Gothic on Wednesday, 3 February 1954. The couple would tour every State, visiting each capital city and many regional towns. At most stops, local councils organised receptions for the couple.

In Victoria, the royal couple toured regional centres by train. The Royal Train was scheduled to stop at Castlemaine at 5.55pm on Friday, 5 March 1954, as it travelled between Bendigo and Maryborough. The Castlemaine Council proposed that the Queen would leave the train, walk past cheering school children and be welcomed by Castlemaine councillors and their wives in front of the Midland Hotel. All Maldon's school children were invited to attend the event.

Hearing of the arrangements, the Maldon and Metcalfe Shire Councils protested that the presidents of all Shires in the district should be presented to the Queen. Their protests fell on deaf ears, and the Castlemaine Council proceeded with their arrangements.

However, all their plans were cancelled when a number of polio cases were reported in Castlemaine and Maryborough. The cancellation was not due to a fear that the Queen might contract polio but that large gatherings of children might result in the spread of the disease. A similar reception in Maryborough was also cancelled. While the cancellations might have been well-intentioned, they were not welcomed and did not prevent large crowds from gathering.

The Royal Train only stopped briefly at the Castlemaine Railway Station before it travelled on to Maryborough. The Queen received local councillors and their wives on the train and later appeared on the observation platform to wave to a crowd of about 6,000.

Rather than come to Castlemaine, Maldon's school children were bussed to the Newstead Racecourse, where they joined a local crowd of more than 2,000. The local State Member, Clive Stoneham, who was on the Royal Train, arranged for the train to slow down as it passed through Newstead so that the crowd could cheer the Queen.

Maldon's own contribution to the Royal Tour celebrations was the illumination of the Mount Tarrengower Tower. Reportedly the Royal party saw the Tower as their train travelled between Newstead and Carisbrook. The Maldon branch of the CWA also planted several flowering gums on the Castlemaine Road to commemorate their visit.

The next day more than 200,000 people lined the streets of Ballarat to welcome the Queen. It was reported that the crowd included many who had travelled from Castlemaine and Maryborough.

LAST Friday, EC and Kev interviewed James McDonald (pictured): Graphic Designer, Singer, Guitarist and an expert on garden furniture.

Today Nancy and Mike front the program to chat with Maldonian John Crofts, who will spill the beans about his educational and consultancy backgrounds.

Next Friday, Loz and EC hope to meet John Bainbridge, Maldon Neighbourhood Centre's fairly-new Director; it's also IMT's 9TH birthday, so there will be cake and bubbly.

MALDON BRIDGE CLUB

Vale – Queen Elizabeth II

It was with much sadness that we learned of Queen Elizabeth's passing this past week.

For many of us throughout the world, the Queen has been a constant in our lives and an exemplary example to all. Our thoughts are with Her Majesty's family at this time as we journey on to a new era.

I wondered if the royal family played bridge. It appears the royal family did play social bridge, sometimes. At the beginning of this century, Britain's King Edward VII, King Charles III's great grandfather, was a bridge enthusiast and usually played a social game - auction in those days - after dinner. The royal family has been distinctly short of players since then, but it is known that the late Princess of Wales liked to play. She accepted an invitation to become the patroness of the 1989 World Junior Championships, Nottingham University, back in 1988.

We now return to our bridge play for the week, and we welcomed back Roger and Maldon Jo, who have returned from visiting family in the UK. All fresh and ready to take on the cards.

There were four tables in play with a Howell movement implemented and, as the results will reveal, a close contest as we tried to make sense of some of the hands offered.

Danny and Maldon Jo were back at the helm and quickly had the scores tallied for the final announcement of winners and placegetters. In first place were Roger, fresh from his break away, and Ken with 57 points, who combined well and made the best of the cards. Second place went to Liz and Judy Mac with 53 points, with Kevin and Louise following in third place, one point behind, with 52 points. There was an equal fourth between Maldon Jo and Fred, along with Newstead Jo and Castlemaine Judy with 42 points each. Congratulations to all on a job well done!!

Our condolences to Mark and Jan in the passing of Mark's only brother John and we look forward to their returning from Tasmania to join us once more,

We all eagerly lined up for our afternoon break and thoroughly enjoyed the delicious chocolate, iced brownie slice. Thank you to the chef and the Maldon Hotel once again. Much appreciated.

Whatever your age group or skills please feel free to join us each Thursday from 12.45pm to 4.30pm to help us in our endeavour to take a position in the ring to goal with strong conviction. With Tayah's determination, she will always outclass her defender with amazing rebounding abilities.

INDIVIDUAL STABLE-FORD EVENT ROUND 3 FREIDRICH PLATE

Five members visited Barham Golf Club over the weekend for that club's annual Pro-Am event, and whilst not bringing home any golfing successes, feedback suggests a good time was enjoyed by all in flying the flag for our club in the weekend's golfing and social events.

Course conditions were adversely affected by the recent heavy rains and confronted golfers with the challenge of their shots being frequently 'plugged' in the damp and muddy fairways. Two excellent scores, given these conditions, resulted in a close tussle between Steve Moore and Glyn Milner for honours on the day. Well done Steve!

NEW SCORING METHOD

☆ Elaine helping identify the problem.

ON Sunday, 11 September, six teams of piste artistes gathered for the first spring games on the Penny School piste. We welcomed Marieanne back after a very long absence, and the first two boules she threw were so close to the coche you couldn't see between them.

In fact, later in the games, a similar thing occurred, which caused two team members to get down and dirty on the ground to see which had the most light shining through the gap between the two boules and the coche.

Another player suffered from a constant wardrobe malfunction which somewhat distracted the opposing team. They battled on to become the winners, despite losing concentration for a few moments each time it occurred.

Eventually, first place and the winners' chocolates went to Cap'n P, Elaine and Mme Bleue AGAIN, with 2 wins and +12 points. Second place went to Antoine, Marieanne and Gaz, with 1 win and +3 points. Followed in third place by Kevin and Jenny, with 1 win and +1 point.

Barb, Viv and Joan came fourth, with 1 win and -1 point. EC, Ann and Andrew came fifth with 1 win and -2 points. Lucky last were Carole, Steve and Maxeen with 0 wins, -13 points, and the losers' chocolates.

Our next games will be on Sunday 25 September, on the Penny School pistes, commencing at 2pm SHARP. See our notice and phone number in the TT Community Diary to get in touch if you would like to become part of this delightful group of piste artistes. The weather is improving, sort of, at last!

MALDON FOOTBALL NETBALL CLUB REPORT FINALS WEEK 3

Overview

THAT concludes the final week of finals, and we are off to the Grand Final!!

What a big weekend for our junior finalists, we have our U14.5s Football, U15s and U17s Netball going through to the Grand Final! Unfortunately, our U17.5s footballers had a devastating loss – but they fought hard all season and even more in their final match. As a club, we are so proud to have some of our junior teams represent us on the field and court. We wish all players, coaches and officials the very best on the day, and we can't wait to see the action. If you can make it over to Princess Park to support our teams and the club, the times are shown below.

Saturday 17 September

U14.5 vs Talbot @ 9.20am
U15s Netball vs Harcourt @ 9.45am
U17s Netball vs Rovers @ 11am

Football

Under 17.5s

Maldon 35 vs Talbot 43

It wasn't to be for the team today. Sadly, our gun ruckman and forward who was dominating the game got an injury just before halftime and unfortunately didn't get back on the field. It seemed to have an effect on the rest of the team as they felt the extra pressure to continue to perform and fill another gap in the field. Talbot fought back to take the lead and dominate the second half to take out the win.

Best: Xavier Noy, Harry Cossens, Callum Buchanan, Bailey O'Dell, Finian McKenzie and Charlie Baker.

Under 14.5s

Maldon 47 vs Navarre 31

With Navarre coming with only 15 players, we had a match that tested the team's endurance and skill. The team started well, kicking the first couple of goals for the game. The pressure of the finals slowly took over as Navarre hit back with a couple of goals. To the team's credit, after a pep talk during halftime, they rallied together, showed determination and kicked a couple more goals in a row to seal the deal and make it to their first grand final.

Best: Tadgh Cananzi, Riley Skinner, Ryan Burchall, Angus Layne, Brodie Doyle and Tully Rowbottom.

Netball

Under 17s

Maldon 22 vs Carisbrook 8

The U17s had a very windy day to contend with on Saturday as they entered the preliminary final. With a loss to Carisbrook by one goal during the year, the game was set for a blockbuster, and that was exactly how it started and finished in the first quarter, with the Maldon girls leading just 4 to Carisbrook 3. The second quarter saw the Maldon team kick into gear and were leading coming off the second quarter 10 – 5. The second half was an excellent combination of teamwork, and the girls were able to create many turnovers registering on the scoreboard. It was a dominant second half by the Maldon team to finish the game with a commanding win to advance to the Grand Final for 2022.

Best: Tahlia Peaslee, with her work around the ring and excellent ability to force turnovers in the attacking zone.

Under 15s

Maldon 25 vs Carisbrook 21

The U15s were very slow out the blocks on the weekend and with the two weeks off showing in the first quarter Carisbrook took the lead 7 - 4. The second quarter saw a fight back by the Maldon team; with many intercepts and excellent defensive structure, the team was able to turn the tables and lead 15 – 11 going into the third quarter. The next two quarters were very level pegging, and both teams were eager for the win; however the always determined and fighting ability of the U15s girls who has been dominant this year in their games shone through, and the Maldon girls were able to take the win by 4 goals advancing through to the Grand Final for 2022.

Best: MacKenzi Shepherd for her ability to intercept and determination to succeed always for her team.

Coach spiel on teams

U15s

Tiffany Williams – C: Captain Tiffany is an asset to the team, always there to support the team with her positive mental attitude. Tiffany is excellent at working the ball down the court and also getting some fantastic intercepts.

MacKenzi Shepherd - GA: Captain MacKenzi's ability to read the play allows her to move fast and freely around her defenders to create space. She drives fast into the ring to take advantage of her vertical leap which allows her to take highball passes over the defenders.

Maddy Drohan – WA: Maddy is a great player who has the ability to play all around the centre court. She is always in the right position and aware of other players' space, making her a very versatile player.

Jess Davies – GS: Jess's ability to read her defenders and quickly lose them and create an option for the mid-court is exceptional and results in strong goaling in the ring.

Ciara MacKenzie – WD: Ciara is a player who has the ability to play strong defence, using her height to take visual space in her opponents.
